War Dangers Overshadowing NATO Confab

ROME (AP) — Foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Alliance assembled in Rome today to discuss proposals for a "stand-easy" deal with the Soviet bloc. But the ministers' two-day spring meeting opening Tuesday is shadowed by war dangers in the Middle East and Indochina.

A series of expert studies prepared for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's Council of Ministers underlines the alliance's interest in an East-West program of balanced, controlled force cuts. The deal NATO's military men are urging calls for a 1.5 million-man cut in Warsaw Pact forces in Europe in return for a 300,000-man NATO reduction. That would bring the Communist force down to about 3 million and NATO's European force to about 2.7 million.

The Russians have not responded to earlier overtures for mutual troop cuts, and few if any allied authorities expect an affirmative response from Moscow now. One reason for this view is the deepening Soviet involvement in the Middle East and Mediterranean theaters, on NATO's southern doorstep.

Thus the Soviet posture of hostility toward Israel and backing for the Arabs is being examined in its intercontinental context. It is suspected that the presence of an increasing number of Russian pilots and other military specialists in the Arab world carries with it a considerable spinoff element favoring the Soviet Union's global strategic interests as well as the immediate purpose of strengthening the Arabs.

Politicians On Marchers' List

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy says a five-day, 120-mile protest march across Georgia was the beginning of a drive to remove from political office "wrinkled old souls in positions of high trust"—including President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

"What we need is some young 'soul power' to drive them out of office, for we are tired of old folks running the country," Abernathy told a rally in Atlanta which climaxed the protest march Saturday.

"Today, we are marching against repression, and tomorrow we are going to be registering to vote against repression, and the day after we will be casting our votes to sweep out of office the racist politicians and political hustlers who have created the present situation," he said.

In his speech to about 10,000 who attended the rally at Morehouse College, Abernathy, president of the Southern Christiah Leadership Conference, listed 10 officeholders he said are the organization's "Ten Most Unwanted Politicians."

Abernathy named Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., as foremost on the list. Second was Rep. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C.

Stennis is chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee. Rivers is chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

Mamie Honored Despite Hecklers

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower was going to refuse to receive an honorary degree at Wilson College Sunday because of the presence of hecklers, but was saved by a downpour of rain.

The late president's widow had told a friend she would decline to take the degree because four students at the all-girl school had gone to the platform clad in black shrouds topped with paper skulls and bearing the words Cambodia, Kent State and Jackson State.

Cambodia Asks U.S. Help After June 30

SAIGON (AP) — While thousands of allied troops hunted for more enemy troops and supplies in Cambodia today, U.S. B52 bombers attacked a new North Vietnamese buildup in South Vietnam's northernmost provinces.

About 60 of the big Stratofortresses dropped nearly 2,000 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese base camps, bunkers and staging areas along the Demilitarized Zone and more than 11 miles to the south below Da Nang.

South Vietnamese troops on a sweep just south of the DMZ caught up with a North Vietnamese force in one area where the B52s hit.

Backed by artillery and fighter-bomber strikes, the South Vietnamese infantrymen reported 45 North Vietnamese soldiers killed and 17 weapons captured. They said four government troops were killed and 16 wounded.

Informed sources said North Vietntmese troops were moving across the DMZ and through Laos to take up positions in the rolling hills.

Cambodian Foreign Minister Yem Sambaur arrived in Saigon today for a three-day visit and began separate talks with President Nguyen Van Thieu and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky.

Before leaving Phnom Penh, Sambaur told reporters he was going to ask that American and South Vietnamese troops remain in Cambodia beyond President Nixon's June 30 pullout date.

A government spokesman said Thieu and Sambaur discussed the situation in Cambodia, the status of Vietnamese residents there and "the foundation for future relations between the two governments and the two peoples".

On his arrival, Sambaur said he planned to discuss the restoration of diplomatic relations between the two countries.

Court Rules Against Street Assemblage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today the authority of urban officials to prohibit groups of people from assembling on city streets in times of "emergency."

The court dismissed an appeal by three Philadelphians arrested for participating in peaceful demonstrations following the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., in April 1968.

Mayor James H J. Tate had issued an emergency proclamation prohibiting groups of 12 or more from gathering on public sidewalks or in any outdoor place except for transportation, recreation or to enter and leave buildings.

More than 100 people were arrested in three assemblies. They were a tree planting in a park to honor King, a gathering at the home of Rep. William Barrett, D-Pa., to press for passage of civil rights legislation, and a protest of the proclamation itself at the University of Pennsylvania campus.

The three appellants, Janet Stotland, a law student, Mrs. Emily Achtenberg, of Cambridge, Mass., and Peter Countryman, a 27-year-old carpenter, contended the First Amendment's guarantee of public assembly prohibits the prosecution of citizens for peaceably massing on public streets.

They said conditions in Philadelphia did not warrant the prohibition, that it gave the mayor arbitrary power and that the ban was not specific enough to be constitutional.

The court majority made no comment other than to note that the appeal was being dismissed for want of a substantial federal question.

However, Justice William O. Douglas issued a dissent in which he said that the questions presented "are so novel and undecided" that he thought the court should hear the case.

He said Philadelphia's ordinance and the mayor's proclamation raise serious questions under the First Amendment.

Six-Inch Rainfall Recorded In Iowa

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms and showers dotted the central and southern Rockies, the Plains, the Midwest and the Atlantic states today.

The rain fell in heavy amounts in some places, accompanied by gusty winds and hail. More than 6 inches of rain drenched McCausland, Iowa, in a few hours since Sunday evening.

Three inches fell at Concordia, Kan., in two hours.

Cheyenne, Wyo., was hammered late Sunday with hail almost as big as golf balls. No serous damage was reported. Along the pacific coast, fair and pleasant weather prevailed.

Heavy rains soaked Florida as the remnants of Hurricane Alma moved northeastward into the state. In six hours, Gainesville had 1.80 inches, Miami 1.31 and Homestead 1.16.

Tornadoes were sighted Sunday night in Illinois, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Colorado. Hail hit Fremont, Neb., Lucas, Ohio, and downtown Washington, D. C. Lightning struck a high school in Springfield, Ohio, killing one person and injuring two others.

Critics Of SST Plane Rapped By U.S. Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — In unusually strong terms for a government agency, the Department of Transportation has lashed out at critics of its program to develop a supersonic transport plane—the SST.

Pointing to claims the SST will cause air pollution, result in destructive sonic booms and is too costly, the department said in a six-page statement:

"Many of these arguments are specious. None has any substantial basis in fact."

The Transportation Department's defense of the 1,700-mile-an-hour SST came as one leading critic, Sen. William Proxmire, told the Senate in a prepared speech today the plane "will probably never be able to fly in the United States."

The Wisconsin Democrat said recent testimony by Russell Train, chairman of the President's Council on Environmental Quality, indicated "the SST will not be capable of operating within the noise limits already announced by the FAA for subsonic aircraft."

Citing Dr. Richard Carwin, a former presidential science adviser, Proxmire said noise from the SST "will be equivalent to the sound of 50 subsonic jets taking off simultaneously."

"It is highly improbable that this kind of environmental monster will ever be permitted to use our airports," Proxmire said.

Israeli Forces Invade Lebanon; Battle On

Attack Seen As Reprisal For Bus Deaths

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — An Israeli armored force, backed by an aerial and artillery barrage, launched an attack today across the southern Lebanese frontier near the town of Bint Jbeil, a Lebanese military spokesman reported.

Lebanese tanks engaged the Israeli forces north of the village of Yaroun, just inside the frontier, and clashes were continuing, said a communique.

18 Miles From Sea

Bint Jbeil is in the central sector of the frontier, about 18 miles from the Mediterranean. Together with three nearby villages, it was blasted by Israeli artillery last Friday as a reprisal for the Arab guerrilla ambush of an Israeli school bus which killed eight children and four adults.

Twenty Lebanese were killed and 40 wounded in Friday's bombardment and several thousand civilians fled the area.

The Lebanese communique reported today's attack began at 12:45 p.m., and termed it a "new aggression against Lebanon."

News Broadcast

Radio programs were interrupted to broadcast news of the Israeli assault.

It is the second ground attack on southern Lebanon within two weeks. Israeli tanks stabbed into the southeastern corner of Lebanon May 12 in a bid to smash a network of guerrilla bases in the area. They remained 36 hours before pulling back over the border.

Today's reprisal has been widely predicted following the bus ambush.

No Official Comment

In Tel Aviv, an Israeli military spokesman said he had no immediate official statement to make on Lebanon's announcement that its territory was attacked by an Israeli armored force.

Israeli newspapers are demanding that the army carve out a "security belt" in southern Lebanon and keep Arab guerrillas away from Israeli settlements.

The idea of a security belt has been mentioned by military men here since the Lebanese-Israeli border started heating up more than a year ago.

Villagers Flee Area

Lebanese villagers are reported fleeing this area in fear of Israeli reprisals and the newspaper Maariv said that if the Arab civilians abandoned the area entirely the army would be able to fight the guerrillas freely and keep them away from Israeli settlements.

The newspapers compared this posibility to the zone Israel created on Jordan's side of the Jordan River. An area several miles deep there has become a deserted no-man's land as a result of Israeli reprisals for guerrilla attacks.

Budget Deficit Could Cut Troop Strength

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top Defense officials say deeper cuts in total U.S. troop strength will be necessary because of a predicted budget deficit and an expected move by Congress to slash Pentagon spending.

There are some indications the Joint Chiefs of Staff have sought to use the allied attacks into Cambodia as a lever to persuade Congress to increase military appropriations.

Delusion Hinted

However, top civilian pentagon authorities say the chiefs are deluding themselves—Congress will order reductions, rather than increases, in President Nixon's $71.8 billion Defense budget for the bookkeeping year starting July 1.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has called this budget "rock bottom, bare bones" but he now knows Congress almost certainly will not agree.

Two events occurred last week which point toward rising money troubles for the Defense Department.

Surplus Disappears

One was the Nixon administration's disclosure that it anticipates a $1.3 billion deficit for the 1971 fiscal year instead of an earlier forecast surplus.

The other was an indication by Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the key House Appropriations Committee, that the administration's Defense budget, submitted in February, will be slashed at least $1 billion.

That budget calls for bringing the armed services roll down to about 1.9 million, a cut of more than 252,000 men, and a reduction of 57,000 civilian workers for a new total of about 1.1 million nonmilitary defense workers.

More Cuts Possible

At their peaks for the Vietnam war period last June, there were about 3.5 million men in the military and nearly 1.3 million civilians.

But in light of recent developments, top Defense officials make it plain an even heavier military manpower reduction, and probably a civilian worker cutback, lie ahead.

Authorities also predict additional base closings and reductions on top of the 678 facilities already affected by Pentagon economy moves in the last nine months.

Suspect Arson

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP (AP) — Damage was estimated at $200,000 today from a predawn fire which swept the Eagle Elementary School in the Pontiac suburb of West Bloomfield Township. Fire Chief Boris Nicoloff said he had no doubt the blaze was set deliberately, adding there was evidence that school desks were rifled and equipment vandalized.

Hijacked Jet Lands In Cuba

MIAMI (AP) — A Delta Air Lines jet with 96 passengers and a crew of six, hijacked in flight from Atlanta to Miami, landed in Havana at 8:23 a.m. EDT today.

On the runways of Jose Marti Airport, the U.S. airliner joined a Mexican plane with 79 persons aboard diverted by an unknown number of hijackers en route from the resort island of Cozumel to the Yucatan capital of Merida.

The pilot of the Delta flight radioed the Atlanta tower shortly after takeoff from there at 6:45 a.m. that the plane had been commandeered and was on its way to Cuba. The flight originated in Chicago and had made a stop at Louisville.

Seventy-two passengers and seven crewmen were aboard the other aircraft owned by the airline Mexicana de Aviacion. It was not known whether any foreigners were on the flight.

Alaskans Fear Nerve Gas Plan

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — Reports that a naval station near this fishing port of 2,600 residents may become the repository of 13,000 tons of nerve gas met with a mixed reaction today.

Sen. Mike Garvel, D-Alaska, described the reported plan as "dangerous and totally unacceptable to the people of Alaska," and Gov. Keith Miller pledged that he would try to block it.

Mayor Pete Resoff said: "It's like getting a Christmas present of a bag of snakes." But he added that it might be a boon to the community's despressed economy—"We've heard it might mean anywhere from 4 to 14 million dollars with 400 to 600 new families."

The Defense Department announced Sunday that plans to move the nerve gas from Okinawa to the Umatilla Ammunition Depot near Hermiston, Ore., had been canceled by President Nixon and that the Pentagon was studying alternate storage locations. A department spokesman said Kodiak Naval Station was one of several possible sites being considered.

The naval station occupies 30,000 acres seven miles from the town of Kodiak, which was severely damaged by the 1964 Alaskan earthquake.

Debt Ceiling Hike Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, citing lower-than-expected tax collections, asked Congress today to raise the ceiling on government borrowing by $18 billion.

This would increase the debt ceiling from the present $377 billion to $395 billion. Without congressional action, the ceiling would automatically drop July 1 to $365 billion.

Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy, presenting the request to the House Ways and Means Committee, attributed the expected deficits in the budget for this year and the next largely to smaller revenues than had been expected.

"Apart from the effect of proposed legislation, revenues have been reduced by $3 billion in the current year and $1.1 billion in fiscal 1971, in both cases largely reflecting lower estimates of corporate profit tax receipts," Kennedy said.

"This slippage, in part at least, appears to reflect a lower than anticipated level of corporate profit during the first part of this calendar year. It does not reflect any relaxation of our continuing efforts to control inflation."

After 18 Long Years

Pay Television Fight Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first bid for a pay television system was filed with the Federal Communications Commission in 1952 but 18 years later the fight still rages.

It's headed for the House floor now but there is no fixed date for the confrontation assured by a slashing minority report on a bill approved by the House Commerce Committee.

Mischievous Legislation

"This is mischievous legislation obtained by powerful interest groups—the broadcasters and theater owners," the nine minority panel members claim. They said as now written the bill "would kill this new industry aborning."

However, the committee's majority argued the proposed regulations "are the most effective means for ensuring that the programming now offered on conventional television will remain available to the viewing public without charge."

Approved In 1968

The FCC approved a pay-TV plan in December 1968. It was upheld by the U.S. Court of Appeals. The Supreme Court declined to review it.

But the House committee, which has been calling for delays in putting the system into effect, came up with a series of more stringent regulations that could throw up a big roadblock.

Included in the proposal are a complete ban on commercial advertising, a sharp reduction in the amount of feature films and sports—considered the backbone of pay TV—that could be shown and a stretch-out on the time ban for showing certain sports programs.

Drafted By Dingell

The new package was drafted by Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., a long-time congressional opponent of pay television.

Dingell originally had introduced a bill that would have prohibited the FCC from authorizing anyone to engage in pay TV broadcasting. A Commerce subcommittee rejected it and approved a resolution suggesting the FCC modify its rules on sports programs.

When that subcommittee proposal came before the full committee, however, it was rejected in turn. Dingell's new package then was rammed through, opponents claim, without any actual hearings and in the absence of subcommittee Chairman Rep. Torbert H. Macdonald, D-Mass.

Major Changes Noted

Here are some major changes proposed by the committee:

—The FCC would allow a pay-TV station to show commercial advertising in its conventional programming. The Dingell proposal would ban it entirely, both in the station's pay and conventional operations.

—The FCC would provide that not more than 90 per cent of the pay-TV operation could be in a combination of feature films and sporting events. Dingell's bill would make it 45 per cent of the over-all operation and not more than 60 per cent in prime time hours, from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Five-Year Ban

—The bill would extend from two to five years the ban against pay on showing sports programs which have been regularly carried live on conventional television in a community.

—It would carry over an FCC ban against showing any series program with an interconnected plot and add a ban against carrying non-dramatic programs shown in a community on conventional TV for five years.

—It would prohibit feature films from being shown on pay television more than one year after first general release. The FCC had proposed this be set at two years.

Subjected To Pressures

"The commission (FCC) is subjected to intense but covert pressures when the financial stakes are high," the committee's majority report said. "Therefore, it was felt that the guidelines for STV and particularly the safeguards preventing the siphoning of conventional television programming should have the force of law."

But the 9-member minority concluded that the probabilities of such siphoning are quite remote.

Decade Against Disease Advocated By Vice President

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Nations of the world should cooperate this decade "to make life and health one birthright of all children," Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said Sunday.

In a speech to the 10th International Cancer Congress, Agnew proposed that the next ten years be the Decade Against Disease.

"By rising above narrow self-interest," Agnew said, "let us join together in a determined venture to make life and health one birthright of all children born from this day on regardless of nationality, race or religious beliefs."

Court Rules Against Street Assemblage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today the authority of urban officials to prohibit groups of people from assembling on city streets in times of "emergency."

The court dismissed an appeal by three Philadelphians arrested for participating in peaceful demonstrations following the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., in April 1968.

Mayor James H. J. Tate had issued an emergency proclamation prohibiting groups of 12 or more from gathering on public sidewalks or in any outdoor place except for transportation, recreation or to enter and leave buildings.

Lebanese tanks engaged the Israeli forces north of the village of Yaroun, just inside the frontier, and clashes were continuing, said a communique.

18 Miles From Sea

Bint Jbeil is in the central sector of the frontier, about 18 miles from the Mediterranean. Together with three nearby villages, it was blasted by Israeli artillery last Friday as a reprisal for the Arab guerrilla ambush of an Israeli school bus which killed eight children and four adults.

Twenty Lebanese were killed and 40 wounded in Friday's bombardment and several thousand civilians fled the area.

The Lebanese communique reported today's attack began at 12:45 p.m., and termed it a "new aggression against Lebanon."

News Broadcast

Radio programs were interrupted to broadcast news of the Israeli assault.

It is the second ground attack on southern Lebanon within two weeks. Israeli tanks stabbed into the southeastern corner of Lebanon May 12 in a bid to smash a network of guerrilla bases in the area. They remained 36 hours before pulling back over the border.

Today's reprisal has been widely predicted following the bus ambush.

No Official Comment

In Tel Aviv, an Israeli military spokesman said he had no immediate official statement to make on Lebanon's announcement that its territory was attacked by an Israeli armored force.

Israeli newspapers are demanding that the army carve out a "security belt" in southern Lebanon and keep Arab guerrillas away from Israeli settlements.

The idea of a security belt has been mentioned by military men here since the Lebanese-Israeli border started heating up more than a year ago.

Villagers Flee Area

Lebanese villagers are reported fleeing this area in fear of Israeli reprisals and the newspaper Maariv said that if the Arab civilians abandoned the area entirely the army would be able to fight the guerrillas freely and keep them away from Israeli settlements.

The newspapers compared this posibility to the zone Israel created on Jordan's side of the Jordan River. An area several miles deep there has become a deserted no-man's land as a result of Israeli reprisals for guerrilla attacks.

Budget Deficit Could Cut Troop Strength

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top Defense officials say deeper cuts in total U.S. troop strength will be necessary because of a predicted budget deficit and an expected move by Congress to slash Pentagon spending.

There are some indications the Joint Chiefs of Staff have sought to use the allied attacks into Cambodia as a lever to persuade Congress to increase military appropriations.

Delusion Hinted

However, top civilian pentagon authorities say the chiefs are deluding themselves—Congress will order reductions, rather than increases, in President Nixon's $71.8 billion Defense budget for the bookkeeping year starting July 1.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has called this budget "rock bottom, bare bones" but he now knows Congress almost certainly will not agree.

Two events occurred last week which point toward rising money troubles for the Defense Department.

Surplus Disappears

One was the Nixon administration's disclosure that it anticipates a $1.3 billion deficit for the 1971 fiscal year instead of an earlier forecast surplus.

The other was an indication by Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the key House Appropriations Committee, that the administration's Defense budget, submitted in February, will be slashed at least $1 billion.

That budget calls for bringing the armed services roll down to about 1.9 million, a cut of more than 252,000 men, and a reduction of 57,000 civilian workers for a new total of about 1.1 million nonmilitary defense workers.

More Cuts Possible

At their peaks for the Vietnam war period last June, there were about 3.5 million men in the military and nearly 1.3 million civilians.

But in light of recent developments, top Defense officials make it plain an even heavier military manpower reduction, and probably a civilian worker cutback, lie ahead.

Suspect Arson

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP (AP) — Damage was estimated at $200,000 today from a predawn fire which swept the Eagle Elementary School in the Pontiac suburb of West Bloomfield Township. Fire Chief Boris Nicoloff said he had no doubt the blaze was set deliberately, adding there was evidence that school desks were rifled and equipment vandalized.

Hijacked Jet Lands In Cuba

MIAMI (AP) — A Delta Air Lines jet with 96 passengers and a crew of six, hijacked in flight from Atlanta to Miami, landed in Havana at 8:23 a.m. EDT today.

On the runways of Jose Marti Airport, the U.S. airliner joined a Mexican plane with 79 persons aboard diverted by an unknown number of hijackers en route from the resort island of Cozumel to the Yucatan capital of Merida.

The pilot of the Delta flight radioed the Atlanta tower shortly after takeoff from there at 6:45 a.m. that the plane had been commandeered and was on its way to Cuba. The flight originated in Chicago and had made a stop at Louisville.

Seventy-two passengers and seven crewmen were aboard the other aircraft owned by the airline Mexicana de Aviacion. It was not known whether any foreigners were on the flight.

Decade Against Disease Advocated By Vice President

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Nations of the world should cooperate this decade "to make life and health one birthright of all children," Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said Sunday.

In a speech to the 10th International Cancer Congress, Agnew proposed that the next ten years be the Decade Against Disease.

"By rising above narrow self-interest," Agnew said, "let us join together in a determined venture to make life and health one birthright of all children born from this day on regardless of nationality, race or religious beliefs."

Alaskans Fear Nerve Gas Plan

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — Reports that a naval station near this fishing port of 2,600 residents may become the repository of 13,000 tons of nerve gas met with a mixed reaction today.

Sen. Mike Garvel, D-Alaska, described the reported plan as "dangerous and totally unacceptable to the people of Alaska," and Gov. Keith Miller pledged that he would try to block it.

Mayor Pete Resoff said: "It's like getting a Christmas present of a bag of snakes." But he added that it might be a boon to the community's despressed economy—"We've heard it might mean anywhere from 4 to 14 million dollars with 400 to 600 new families."

The Defense Department announced Sunday that plans to move the nerve gas from Okinawa to the Umatilla Ammunition Depot near Hermiston, Ore., had been canceled by President Nixon and that the Pentagon was studying alternate storage locations. A department spokesman said Kodiak Naval Station was one of several possible sites being considered.

The naval station occupies 30,000 acres seven miles from the town of Kodiak, which was severely damaged by the 1964 Alaskan earthquake.

Debt Ceiling Hike Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, citing lower-than-expected tax collections, asked Congress today to raise the ceiling on government borrowing by $18 billion.

This would increase the debt ceiling from the present $377 billion to $395 billion. Without congressional action, the ceiling would automatically drop July 1 to $365 billion.

Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy, presenting the request to the House Ways and Means Committee, attributed the expected deficits in the budget for this year and the next largely to smaller revenues than had been expected.

"Apart from the effect of proposed legislation, revenues have been reduced by $3 billion in the current year and $1.1 billion in fiscal 1971, in both cases largely reflecting lower estimates of corporate profit tax receipts," Kennedy said.

"This slippage, in part at least, appears to reflect a lower than anticipated level of corporate profit during the first part of this calendar year. It does not reflect any relaxation of our continuing efforts to control inflation."

Two Negaunee Women Die In U.S. 41 Crash

ISHPEMING — Two Negaunee women were among the 13 state highway fatalities over the weekend.

Mrs. Helen Anderson, 48, and Mrs. Hattie Rytkonen, 53, both of Negaunee, were killed in the three-car crash on U.S. 41 west of Ishpeming Saturday night.

Mrs. Anderson was riding in a car driven by Elmer A. Moilanen, 25, of Sheboygan, Wis., while Mrs. Rytonen was a passenger in an auto driven by Mrs. Bertha Swanson, 46, of Ishpeming, Michigan State Police said.

Legion Slates U.P. Confab

Patriotism backed up by the motto "For God and Country" has been selected as the convention theme for the 50th Annual Upper Peninsula American Legion Convention at Marquette June 18-21 according to Philip L. White, Chairman.

White said that the theme and motto had been selected with the thought in mind of the ever-increasing attacks upon our government and society. He indicated that he felt that the 50th Annual Convention of the American Legion in the Upper Peninsula was a particularly appropriate time and place to sound the rebuttal, loud and clear, "to all who would attempt to destroy our country."

White contacted all Legion post commanders in the Upper Peninsula and urged them to encourage their members to attend the convention in support of the theme and motto. He said that the support of all local service and fraternal organizations in the Marquette area had been requested and that he has asked Marquette's mayor to declare the week of June 15, 1970, Patriotism Week in Marquette.

Dignitaries scheduled to attend the convention include: Dr. Theodore C. Marrs, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense; Brigadier General Leonard C. Ward, Deputy Director of the National Guard Bureau; J. Milton Patrick, National Commander of the American Legion, Kent Lundgren, National Vice Commander, and F. Gerrit Veldman, State Commander.

Clothing Workers Won't Back GOP Conflict Policies

NEW YORK (AP) — Breaking ranks with the AFL-CIO leadership, the head of one of the nation's largest labor unions has condemned the Nixon administration's policies in Vietnam and Cambodia, the New York Times reported today.

The newspaper said that Jacob S. Potofsky, president of the 417,000-member Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America declared: "Congress must exercise its constitutional responsibility of not leaving the war-making decisions to the President alone."

In an interview with the Times held in Atlantic City, where the union opens its biennial convention today, Potofsky reportedly praised the efforts of U.S. senators seeking to cut off funds for further military operations in Cambodia.

Further criticism of the administration is contained in the prepared text of his keynote speech set for today.

World Needs Strong Leaders, McGoff Says

John P. McGoff, president of Panax Corp., saying that the affluence of society is one of its greatest handicaps, told graduates of Bay de Noc Community College Sunday that the world needs "strong people" who are concerned and aware and "dedicated to making the world a better place in which to live."

McGoff spoke at the sixth graduation exercises of the college at the William W. Oliver auditorium.

McGoff said he cherishes the right to dissent, but is dismayed at the direction this generation seems to be taking.

"We are surprised at the sometimes seeming blind faith the youth have in the small minority whose only attraction — at this point, at least — is noise and destruction," he said. "We feel that all of you have more to offer to the world — and to yourselves — than that.

"Supreme Irony"

"In general terms, this generation has been exposed to more of the good life — if we measure worth in dollars and material things — than any other," McGoff said. "There has been more opportunity for learning, a plumbing of new thresholds of knowledge. To the older generation, this is a supreme irony: That the best equipped and most knowledgeable generation in history is so reluctant to improve upon history and is so unwilling to forget the standards forged and proven through the ages.

"It is a fearful place — this world — and it needs strong people, not the soapbox orator or the disenchanted whose only saleable knowledge is how to make a bomb out of black powder and a piece of drain pipe. The world needs strong indiviuals of the highest moral standards, people who will work not only to pay off the mortgage on the swimming pool, but those who are concerned and aware and dedicated to making the world better place in which to live.

"The world needs men and women who will pull off their socks and work together for the good — who will resurrect and revitalize our failing instutitions — people more concerned with reality than with the symbol.

"My generation hopes you're up to it — the world as we know demands it — and I wish you well," McGoff said.

Question Needs Answer

The president of Panax told the graduates that the question that begs for an answer in this "era of violence and distrust" is "Where did we lose our pride and our dignity which, as a nation, was given to us as our birthright.

"The evidence is all around us," he said. "It is popular to preach civil disobedience — but without paying the consequences.

"We are the despoilers of our own lives and the destroyers of our own promise," he said. "But even more disastrous is the self-delusions of our minds and souls. The symbol replaces reality and the violent striking out — the philosophy of whim— is assaulting reason across the land," he said.

"Let me remind you again, it starts with the family," McGoff said. "I must remind the parents in this audience that the structure of the family, unfortunately, is near collapse — the basic unit of our lives is falling apart. And so it is little wonder that this tragic disarray of our foundation is shaking and crumbling the institutions we created for perpetuation.

Dissent Follows

McGoff said parents, the children of the Great Depression and survivors of a global war, wanted more for their children than they had.

"The very affluence created by our brain power and the vast improvements in our technology became one of our greatest handicaps," he said.

"There followed dissent. Children followed their own drummer, freed from family influences, marching in their ridiculous parades of today. While parents, preoccupied with getting and spending and laying waste their powers for goods were brought up short. They wonder why. They gave to their children the things that money — and credit — could buy, but the moral and spiritual leadership of the family had departed.

"This pattern of life in these United States is continuing. It's deterioration must be stopped, and not by wars or by seizing a building or burning down a library."

Accident Injures Pedestrian Sunday

A pedestrian, William C. Nixon, 20, of Rte. 1, Florence, Wis., was injured in an automobile - motorcycle accident Sunday night at 8:45 on County Road 426, one-tenth of a mile south of County Road 420, according to a report given by State Police.

Nixon was assisting David Lark, 19, of Rte. 1, Gladstone, in trying to start Lark's motorcycle on the roadway when a car, driven by William Bisdee, 48, of 916 5th Ave. S., came around the corner. Bisdee was unable to stop his car in time and hit the motorcycle, injuring Nixon.

Nixon was taken to St. Francis Hospital, where he was treated and released. Lark was issued a ticket for parking in the roadway.

B&E's Reported To State Police

State Police are now investigating four breaking and enterings, all of which were reported over the weekend.

Sometime last week, a camp owned by Jack Miller Sr. of Rapid River was broken into and partial bottles of creme de menthe and gin were taken. The theft was reported Saturday and officers said that entry was made by breaking a pane of glass in a window and then opening the window.

Candy bars, gum and some change was reported stolen from the concession stand of the Ken-Mar Drive-In sometime after 1 a.m. Saturday. Officers said that entry was gained by kicking in the side door of the stand.

Potvin's Tavern of Schaffer was broken into sometime Saturday night or early Sunday morning. According to investigating officers, entry was made by breaking a padlock off a coal chute door and crawling through the chute. Nothing was reported missing.

Nothing was taken from a camp owned by John Larson of Rock, but two mattresses and three stuffed chairs were cut, two windows were broken and furniture was upended. After receiving the report Sunday, officers went to investigate and found that entry was made by breaking a window in the door and reaching through to unlock the door.

Breast Cancer Deaths Reduced

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A screening program using a combination of methods helped reduce the rate of death from breast cancer in a group of women studied, a New York research team reported today.

The project involved 62,000 women in the Health Insurance Plan of Greater New York. Half were offered the screening, and the other half received no special attention.

Preliminary findings on the study, which began in 1963, were reported today at the 10th International Cancer Congress by Sam Shapiro, a vice president of the health plan.

Among the women not offered the screening, there have been 52 deaths from breast cancer, he said. Deaths from breast cancer among women offered the screening now total 31, he said, even though the program was hampered because one-third of the women who were offered screening refused it.

Screening included a clincal examination of the breast by a physician and manography, a technique that uses low-voltage X rays to examine soft tissues in the breast.

The women studied were aged 40 to 64, the high frequency period for breast cancer, now the leading cause of death from cancer among women. Federal census figures show that among every 100,000 women, 20 to 25 die from breast cancer a year.

After an initial screening, the women studied received three additional examinations at annual intervals.

Shapiro said 127 breast cancers were detected as the result of the screening. The value of the combination technique was demonstrated, he said, by a determination that 42 of the cancers would have been missed without mamography and 56 would have been misssed without the clinical examination.

Of the 127 cancers detected, 70 per cent had not spread, which greatly improved the women's chances for survival after surgery.

Ninety per cent of the breast cancers in women generally are discovered by the women themselves because a lump appears, and by this time the cancer has spread, Dr. Philip Strax, a coauthor of the report noted.

Strax, chief of the health plan's radiology department at La Guardia Hospital in New York, was joined in the study by Dr. Louis Venet, attending surgeon at Beth Israel Medical Center.

"In general terms, this generation has been exposed to more of the good life — if we measure worth in dollars and material things — than any other," McGoff said. "There has been more opportunity for learning, a plumbing of new thresholds of knowledge. "We are the despoilers of our own lives and the destroyers of our own promise," he said. "But even more disastrous is the self-delusions of our minds and souls. The symbol replaces reality and the violent striking out — the philosophy of whim— is assaulting reason across the land," he said.

"Let me remind you again, it starts with the family," McGoff said. "I must remind the parents in this audience that the structure of the family, unfortunately, is near collapse — the basic unit of our lives is falling apart. "The very affluence created by our brain power and the vast improvements in our technology became one of our greatest handicaps," he said.

"There followed dissent. Children followed their own drummer, freed from family influences, marching in their ridiculous parades of today. B&E's Reported To State Police

State Police are now investigating four breaking and enterings, all of which were reported over the weekend.

Sometime last week, a camp owned by Jack Miller Sr. of Rapid River was broken into and partial bottles of creme de menthe and gin were taken. The theft was reported Saturday and officers said that entry was made by breaking a pane of glass in a window and then opening the window.

Candy bars, gum and some change was reported stolen from the concession stand of the Ken-Mar Drive-In sometime after 1 a.m. Saturday. Officers said that entry was gained by kicking in the side door of the stand.

Potvin's Tavern of Schaffer was broken into sometime Saturday night or early Sunday morning. According to investigating officers, entry was made by breaking a padlock off a coal chute door and crawling through the chute. Nothing was reported missing.

Nothing was taken from a camp owned by John Larson of Rock, but two mattresses and three stuffed chairs were cut, two windows were broken and furniture was upended. After receiving the report Sunday, officers went to investigate and found that entry was made by breaking a window in the door and reaching through to unlock the door.

Breast Cancer Deaths Reduced

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A screening program using a combination of methods helped reduce the rate of death from breast cancer in a group of women studied, a New York research team reported today.

The project involved 62,000 women in the Health Insurance Plan of Greater New York. Half were offered the screening, and the other half received no special attention.

Preliminary findings on the study, which began in 1963, were reported today at the 10th International Cancer Congress by Sam Shapiro, a vice president of the health plan.

Among the women not offered the screening, there have been 52 deaths from breast cancer, he said. Deaths from breast cancer among women offered the screening now total 31, he said, even though the program was hampered because one-third of the women who were offered screening refused it.

Screening included a clincal examination of the breast by a physician and manography, a technique that uses low-voltage X rays to examine soft tissues in the breast.

The women studied were aged 40 to 64, the high frequency period for breast cancer, now the leading cause of death from cancer among women. Federal census figures show that among every 100,000 women, 20 to 25 die from breast cancer a year.

After an initial screening, the women studied received three additional examinations at annual intervals.

Shapiro said 127 breast cancers were detected as the result of the screening. The value of the combination technique was demonstrated, he said, by a determination that 42 of the cancers would have been missed without mamography and 56 would have been misssed without the clinical examination.

Of the 127 cancers detected, 70 per cent had not spread, which greatly improved the women's chances for survival after surgery.

Ninety per cent of the breast cancers in women generally are discovered by the women themselves because a lump appears, and by this time the cancer has spread, Dr. Philip Strax, a coauthor of the report noted.

Strax, chief of the health plan's radiology department at La Guardia Hospital in New York, was joined in the study by Dr. Louis Venet, attending surgeon at Beth Israel Medical Center.

Road Safety

The Michigan Auto Club has completed a sobering examination of the state's fatal highway accidents in 1969.

Michigan set a new highway death record last year with 2,481 persons losing their lives on our roads and streets, a 3.6 per cent increase over 1968.

The Auto Club has conducted 10 previous studies on Michigan traffic accidents and deaths since 1966 and the following three factors always show up as underlying causes:

1, The drinking driver who is involved in at least 50 to 65 per cent of all fatal accidents.

2, The problem driver who makes up 5 per cent of the driving population yet is involved in up to 30 per cent of the fatal accidents.

3, The young driver who makes up 21 per cent of the driving population yet is involved in 37 per cent of the fatal accidents.

The Auto Club, whose "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" slogan has become a safety byword in the state, offers some practical solutions to the problems, including the lowering of all speed limits on unposted roads to 50 miles per hour day and night. But without adequate police manpower to patrol these highways and arrest the speeding driver, such a proposal is unrealistic.

* * *

The Auto Club points out that the physical condition of Michigan's highways and country roads also can be blamed as a major cause of traffic injuries and deaths. Currently, 45 per cent of the 51,676 miles of Michigan roads and streets are considered inadeqaute for current traffic needs, the Auto Club said. This includes 38,000 miles of country roads where 70 per cent of the state's fatal accidents now happen. When just state trunklines are considered, 82 per cent have defects ranging from narrow pavement to substandard traffic controls.

The areas where real progress can be made in reducing the number of traffic deaths and injuries without added financing, as recommended by the Auto Club:

1, Support a legislative program to lower the blood-alcohol level to prove a person legally drunk from .15 to .10.

2, Remove the problem driver from the road.

3, Modify restrictions on young drivers.

The Auto Club suggests legislation which would make mandatory blood-alcohol tests on victims of all fatal accidents and on all drivers who survive fatal accidents and would provide for stiffer penalties for persons convicted of drunk driving.

* * *

The Auto Club also suggests a six-point program to remove approximately 100,000 problem drivers from the highways, including mandatory suspension of license for 12 points in two years, three moving violations in one year and three moving accidents in one year.

The club also recommends a review of the record of any driver who accumulates 30 points in five years if he has not already had a suspension in that period. Other suggestions include increased penalties for repeats of violations, suspension or revocation of license after a driver has been called in for three re-examinations in nine years, increase in length of suspensions up to a year (now 30 to 90 days) and mandatory jail sentence for driving with a suspended or revoked license.

A five-step program suggested to reduce the number of traffic accidents in which the under-20 drivers are involved includes:

1, Require parent or guardian to accompany the new 16 or 17 year old driver behind the wheel for the first 90 days after receiving his first license.

2, Require parent or guardian to accompany the new under-18 driver at night for a year.

3, Prohibit all persons under age 18 from operating a motorized cycle after dark.

4, Require that parents be notified in writing by police when a ticket is given to anyone under 21 living in a parent's home.

5, Require any new driver, regardless of age, to take a state approved driver education course before getting an original license.

The proposals are strong and certainly some of them would be "inconvenient" to many persons, but death and injury is even more "inconvenient" and if Michigan highways can be made safer then perhaps it's time stronger measures are considered.

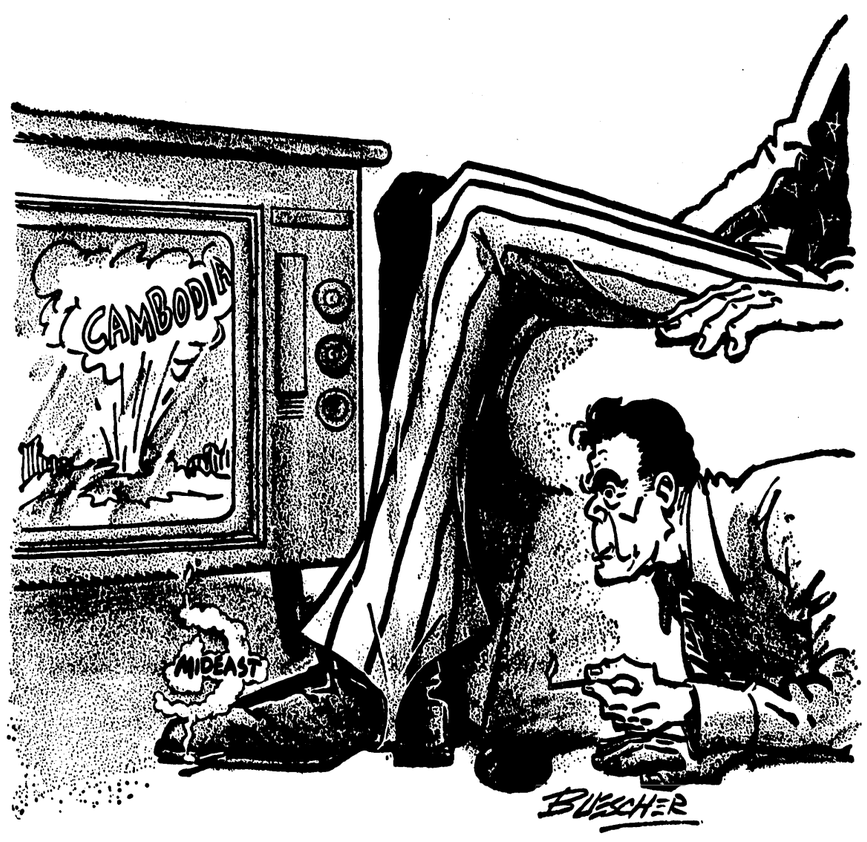
THE JOKER?



Slow-Motion Tactics Are Killing Pay-TV

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The proponents of pay-TV must be chewing their nails down to the half moons these days.

After fighting for 20 years for the right to put such things as Broadway plays, good music, first-run movies, and sports events on the air for a subscription fee, they finally managed to get their case before the U.S. Supreme Court. The result was a go-ahead signal from the court to the Federal Communications Commission, under certain relatively bearable restrictions designed to protect the interests of the existing commercial TV stations.

But if the pay-TV people thought they were finally out of the woods, they had another "think" coming.

What happened is that Rep. John Dingell of Michigan, a Democrat, pulled a fast one on some of his colleagues on the House of Representatives Communications subcommittee.

Congressman Dingell had been defeated in his effort to ban pay-TV outright. But, in a move that was hardly cricket, he brought up a substitute bill before the full House Commerce Committee when eight of its 36 members, including Massachusetts Democrat Torbert Macdonald, the Communications subcommittee chairman, were absent. Fifteen votes, representing fewer than half of the 36-man committee, put the bill over for Representative Dingell and sent the legislation to the floor of the House.

* * *

The Dingell bill is completely punitive. It would impose so many restrictions on pay-TV that, despite the Supreme Court go-ahead, nobody could afford to risk any capital on pay-TV operations.

The Dingell restrictions would forbid a pay-TV station to devote more than 60 per cent of its prime time — 7 to 11 in the evening — to feature films and sports combined. This would effectively ban long movies such as "Funny Girl" or the "Green Berets."

The Dingell list of verbotens would also keep pay-TV stations from using advertising commercials during the hours when they weren't broadcasting films, plays, and prizefights for a fee. This would compel subscribers to subsidize non-subscription programming, making the whole business prohibitively expensive.

Since the Dingell Bill is designed to subvert the Supreme Court by indirection, it will hardly pass both the House and the Senate. However, it very effectively forestalls immediate action by enterprisers, investors, artists and consumers designed to get pay-TV off the ground. The Dingell Bill could be with us for months, or even years, before both the House and the Senate agree to dispose of it one way or another.

* * *

What makes it thoroughly unfair is the Federal Communications Commission's recent decision to permit a practically unlimited extension of cable television, or CATV, systems.

In a four-to-three vote, the FCC accepted Chairman Dean Burch's plan for letting cable television proprietors use master antennae to pick up distant signals for amplification and transmission by coaxial cable to a central point from which they could be distributed by wire to local households far from the originating area. The only restraining proviso of note is the one that would ask the CATV proprietor to substitute local advertising for the usual "national" commercial breaks.

Just why one form of pay-TV should be favored over another is a mystery that eludes me.

Cable TV is, as I understand it, financed in part by installation and program service charges. These charges are comparable to the subscription fees that would be set for non-cable, pay-as-you-see television. The Dingell Bill, which would automatically favor cable TV, would, in effect, constitute a breach of the "equal rights" guarantees of the Federal Constitution.

* * *

However, there is an even deeper constitutional question involved.

The First Amendment guarantees freedom of speech. The Federal Communications Commission was originally set up to police the airwaves, assigning wave lengths on a basis that would keep the air from becoming a complete chaos from jamming.

Yet the FCC has assumed that it has had the power to specify the ways in which TV broadcasts should be financed. Until very recently it favored financing by commercial advertisers.

Hasn't this been a glaring denial of free speech to those who want to finance TV by other means? Some lawyers may say no, but the language of the First Amendment says "yes" to anyone with a third-grade education.

SHARE WORK

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) —Members of the (Presbyterian) Church of Scotland and the Episcopal Church in Scotland have agreed to share in the work of their churches by becoming associate members of each other's church committees. The decision was reached after a meeting of panels appointed to seek a way forward to unity. The plan is that the two Churches would work together at the local level and at the planning stage before decisions are taken.

Has Long-Term Inflation Become Inevitable In U.S.?

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Has long-term inflation become inevitable? Few people in government or industry dare answer affirmatively, for fear that the opinion might provoke the fact, but many of them are acting on that assumption.

Passage by the House of Representatives of an automatic escalator for Social Security benefits, tied to increases in the cost of living, is recognition of this belief. And there are numerous other examples.

Negotiated wage increases are being made on the assumption that the cost of living will continue to rise. Five per cent annual increases, once considered good, are now scoffed at as amounting to nothing when inflation is deducted.

You don't have to search hard either to find instances of industry raising prices not because the product has been improved or because demand is strong, but simply because the company expects its own future costs to be higher.

Reluctnt Converts

Perhaps the most reluctant but influential converts to the idea are the big life insurance companies. For years they sold the concept of the guaranteed fixed-dollar return, which assumed stability in dollar values.

In fact, belief in fixed returns was almost a religion with them, and some salesmen spread the notion that only a sinner would risk the future of his family by investing in anything that didn't assure a precise return.

Payoff Was There

That religion probably was a savoir to some families. During the Great Depression of the 1930s especially, a guaranteed return was indeed something of value, because the dollar was stabilized or rising in value—although there weren't many of them around.

Investments in equities, such as stocks, fell into the cellar, but insurance policies paid off at first-floor levels during the depression. The payoff may not have been big, but it was there.

It wasn't until the 1960s that insurers began changing their mind. Inflation caught hold. And so did mutual funds. With the value of the dollar shrinking, sophisticated investors didn't want to be paid off in 1980 with 1960 dollars. They wanted something that would float with the tide.

Mutual funds offered this opportunity, and they grew swiftly into a $50-billion industry. Moreover, they were a direct competitor of insurers for the savings of ordinary Americans.

Now life insurers are deeply involved with mutual funds, either through acquiring existing funds or beginning their own from scratch.

The reason why is obvious: Inflation was making those guaranteed, fixed-dollar returns look paltry beside the projected returns of the mutual funds.

Insurance companies have, in effect, acknowledged their acceptance of an inflated future in their lending practices also. No longer dedicated to a fixed dollar, they now seek flexible returns on their lendings.

SUPPORT PRESIDENT

President Nixon's Cambodian policy is a means of saving the lives of American fighting men and anything we do in Cambodia that results in saving American lives should have the full backing of the American people.

Amendments in Congress such as the Cooper-Church Amendment which would block funds to support American troops in Southeast Asia amount to the abandonment of our forces — our sons and daughters — who are fighting a cruel and inhuman enemy who might otherwise be at our very doorsteps. Congress put our men there in full support of the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution.

In the past Congress has debated declarations of war but this is the first time the Senate has debated a "declaration of surrender."

The destruction of tons and tons of equipment and other supplies stored by the Communists in Cambodia for use against our men in Vietnam proves that President Nixon made the right decision in ordering the Cambodian incursion.

The bidding:

3 NT!	6 ♣!	6 ♠!	Dble
Pass	6 ♠

Opening lead—eight of diamonds.

Bad bidding makes good drama, and every bad bidder you know will happily tell you that at the drop of a hat. For a spectacular example, consider this hand played in the Norwegian Summer Finals in 1963.

To begin with, East opened with three notrump! This was the so-called gambling three notrump, announcing a long solid minor suit with very little on the side but a hope and a prayer.

South had a good hand, all right, but he scarcely had the values for his jump to six clubs. He should have doubled first and perhaps taken a giant step later on.

There was no good reason for it, but at this point West elected to display his perspicacity by bidding six diamonds. (It was easy for him to recognize that East's long suit was diamonds.)

North doubled, of course, but South, still on the warpath, refused to accept the double and bid six spades.

West led a diamond which declarer ruffed. South appeared to have only one hope at this point—to find the trumps divided 3-3 or West with four trumps and no more diamonds. Accordingly, he cashed the ace of spades and continued with a low spade to the king.

When East showed out, leaving West with three trumps to one each for dummy and declarer, South's cause appeared hopeless. But declarer carried on with true Viking courage and finally wound up making the contract.

He cashed four rounds of clubs and the A-Q-K of hearts, then ruffed dummy's seven of diamonds with the queen. West, with only three cards left, was obliged to underruff. On top of that, he found himself totally helpless when declarer then led the seven of clubs to make dummy's ten of spades his twelfth trick.

Office Girl Minis Do 'Maximum' Job

Dear Ann Landers: This is a ridiculous complaint and I know it but a situation exists in our office that is embarrassing to say the least.

A girl I work with has a fantastic wardrobe. She could go for a month and a half without wearing the same dress twice. I'm sure she has a thing about not repeating outfits and in order to show up in a different outfit every day she has taken to wearing her cocktail dresses. Some of these party numbers are backless and slashed to the navel. When she bends down to put the mail in the bottom slots about 20 guys rush over to "help."

Yesterday she wore a sequined mini that looked like a skating costume. I'm sure it glows at night. The office errand runner (age 17) swallowed his chewing gum when he saw her. Several of us girls think she is cheapening the office. Should somebody say something? — Saving It For My Husband

Dear Saving: The office manager is the one who should "say something" but obviously he likes what he sees, and from your description, he sees plenty.

It would do no good to speak to the girl. She knows what she is doing and is enjoying it immensely.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I can't stop thinking about that little boy who accidentally shot his sister while playing with the father's gun.

Let us pray the child's parents don't make the same mistake my husband's parents made under similar circumstances. He, too, accidentally killed his sister. His grief-stricken mother and father did everything under the sun to lessen the boy's feelings of guilt. They showered him with attention and gifts and catered to his every whim. The results were disastrous. He grew up to be selfish, inconsiderate, wildly egocentric — completely without concern for others.

The death of a child is a tragedy. But the ruination of a beautiful, bright, promising youngster is equally tragic. The best way to recover from a death in the family is to emerge from the valley of grief as rapidly as possible and do something constructive for the living. Sometimes professional guidance is needed.

I hope the parents of the dead child will stop blaming themselves and treat the surviving youngster just as they would have had the tragedy not occurred. The inclination to be too permissive or excessively overprotective can be disastrous. I know because I am living with it. — Wichita Wife

Dear Reader: Thank you for an excellent letter. And now may I add a word? The surviving child sometimes attempts to take advantage of grieving parents. Parents should be alert to such maneuvering and not permit it.

Dear Ann Landers: My wife and I got into a frank discussion with another couple last night. Today my wife isn't speaking to me. This question came up: Would any of us remarry if something should happen to our mates? The others all said they would not remarry. I said I would. My wife claims I don't love her and that I humiliated her in front of our friends. What do you say? — Ceiling Zero

Dear Zero: Widows and widowers who have had happy marriages tend to remarry. It is a compliment rather than an insult to the deceased partner. Your wife should be flattered, not hurt.

The Auto Club also suggests a six-point program to remove approximately 100,000 problem drivers from the highways, including mandatory suspension of license for 12 points in two years, three moving violations in one year and three moving accidents in one year.

The club also recommends a review of the record of any driver who accumulates 30 points in five years if he has not already had a suspension in that period. Other suggestions include increased penalties for repeats of violations, suspension or revocation of license after a driver has been called in for three re-examinations in nine years, increase in length of suspensions up to a year (now 30 to 90 days) and mandatory jail sentence for driving with a suspended or revoked license.

A five-step program suggested to reduce the number of traffic accidents in which the under-20 drivers are involved includes:

1, Require parent or guardian to accompany the new 16 or 17 year old driver behind the wheel for the first 90 days after receiving his first license.

2, Require parent or guardian to accompany the new under-18 driver at night for a year.

3, Prohibit all persons under age 18 from operating a motorized cycle after dark.

4, Require that parents be notified in writing by police when a ticket is given to anyone under 21 living in a parent's home.

5, Require any new driver, regardless of age, to take a state approved driver education course before getting an original license.

The proposals are strong and certainly some of them would be "inconvenient" to many persons, but death and injury is even more "inconvenient" and if Michigan highways can be made safer then perhaps it's time stronger measures are considered.

THE JOKER?

Slow-Motion Tactics Are Killing Pay-TV

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The proponents of pay-TV must be chewing their nails down to the half moons these days.

After fighting for 20 years for the right to put such things as Broadway plays, good music, first-run movies, and sports events on the air for a subscription fee, they finally managed to get their case before the U.S. Supreme Court. The result was a go-ahead signal from the court to the Federal Communications Commission, under certain relatively bearable restrictions designed to protect the interests of the existing commercial TV stations.

But if the pay-TV people thought they were finally out of the woods, they had another "think" coming.

What happened is that Rep. John Dingell of Michigan, a Democrat, pulled a fast one on some of his colleagues on the House of Representatives Communications subcommittee.

Congressman Dingell had been defeated in his effort to ban pay-TV outright. But, in a move that was hardly cricket, he brought up a substitute bill before the full House Commerce Committee when eight of its 36 members, including Massachusetts Democrat Torbert Macdonald, the Communications subcommittee chairman, were absent. Fifteen votes, representing fewer than half of the 36-man committee, put the bill over for Representative Dingell and sent the legislation to the floor of the House.

The Dingell bill is completely punitive. It would impose so many restrictions on pay-TV that, despite the Supreme Court go-ahead, nobody could afford to risk any capital on pay-TV operations.

The Dingell restrictions would forbid a pay-TV station to devote more than 60 per cent of its prime time — 7 to 11 in the evening — to feature films and sports combined. This would effectively ban long movies such as "Funny Girl" or the "Green Berets."

The Dingell list of verbotens would also keep pay-TV stations from using advertising commercials during the hours when they weren't broadcasting films, plays, and prizefights for a fee. This would compel subscribers to subsidize non-subscription programming, making the whole business prohibitively expensive.

Since the Dingell Bill is designed to subvert the Supreme Court by indirection, it will hardly pass both the House and the Senate. However, it very effectively forestalls immediate action by enterprisers, investors, artists and consumers designed to get pay-TV off the ground. The Dingell Bill could be with us for months, or even years, before both the House and the Senate agree to dispose of it one way or another.

What makes it thoroughly unfair is the Federal Communications Commission's recent decision to permit a practically unlimited extension of cable television, or CATV, systems.

In a four-to-three vote, the FCC accepted Chairman Dean Burch's plan for letting cable television proprietors use master antennae to pick up distant signals for amplification and transmission by coaxial cable to a central point from which they could be distributed by wire to local households far from the originating area. The only restraining proviso of note is the one that would ask the CATV proprietor to substitute local advertising for the usual "national" commercial breaks.

Just why one form of pay-TV should be favored over another is a mystery that eludes me.

Cable TV is, as I understand it, financed in part by installation and program service charges. These charges are comparable to the subscription fees that would be set for non-cable, pay-as-you-see television. The Dingell Bill, which would automatically favor cable TV, would, in effect, constitute a breach of the "equal rights" guarantees of the Federal Constitution.

However, there is an even deeper constitutional question involved.

The First Amendment guarantees freedom of speech. The Federal Communications Commission was originally set up to police the airwaves, assigning wave lengths on a basis that would keep the air from becoming a complete chaos from jamming.

Yet the FCC has assumed that it has had the power to specify the ways in which TV broadcasts should be financed. Until very recently it favored financing by commercial advertisers.

Hasn't this been a glaring denial of free speech to those who want to finance TV by other means? Some lawyers may say no, but the language of the First Amendment says "yes" to anyone with a third-grade education.

SHARE WORK

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) —Members of the (Presbyterian) Church of Scotland and the Episcopal Church in Scotland have agreed to share in the work of their churches by becoming associate members of each other's church committees. The decision was reached after a meeting of panels appointed to seek a way forward to unity. The plan is that the two Churches would work together at the local level and at the planning stage before decisions are taken.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
3 NT!	6 ♣!	6 ♦!	Dble
Pass	6 ♠

Opening lead—eight of diamonds.

Bad bidding makes good drama, and every bad bidder you know will happily tell you that at the drop of a hat. For a spectacular example, consider this hand played in the Norwegian Summer Finals in 1963.

To begin with, East opened with three notrump! This was the so-called gambling three notrump, announcing a long solid minor suit with very little on the side but a hope and a prayer.

South had a good hand, all right, but he scarcely had the values for his jump to six clubs. He should have doubled first and perhaps taken a giant step later on.

There was no good reason for it, but at this point West elected to display his perspicacity by bidding six diamonds. (It was easy for him to recognize that East's long suit was diamonds.)

North doubled, of course, but South, still on the warpath, refused to accept the double and bid six spades.

West led a diamond which declarer ruffed. South appeared to have only one hope at this point—to find the trumps divided 3-3 or West with four trumps and no more diamonds. Accordingly, he cashed the ace of spades and continued with a low spade to the king.

When East showed out, leaving West with three trumps to one each for dummy and declarer, South's cause appeared hopeless. But declarer carried on with true Viking courage and finally wound up making the contract.

He cashed four rounds of clubs and the A-Q-K of hearts, then ruffed dummy's seven of diamonds with the queen. West, with only three cards left, was obliged to underruff. On top of that, he found himself totally helpless when declarer then led the seven of clubs to make dummy's ten of spades his twelfth trick.

Office Girl Minis Do 'Maximum' Job

Dear Ann Landers: This is a ridiculous complaint and I know it but a situation exists in our office that is embarrassing to say the least.

A girl I work with has a fantastic wardrobe. She could go for a month and a half without wearing the same dress twice. I'm sure she has a thing about not repeating outfits and in order to show up in a different outfit every day she has taken to wearing her cocktail dresses. Some of these party numbers are backless and slashed to the navel. When she bends down to put the mail in the bottom slots about 20 guys rush over to "help."

Yesterday she wore a sequined mini that looked like a skating costume. I'm sure it glows at night. The office errand runner (age 17) swallowed his chewing gum when he saw her. Several of us girls think she is cheapening the office. Should somebody say something? — Saving It For My Husband

Dear Saving: The office manager is the one who should "say something" but obviously he likes what he sees, and from your description, he sees plenty.

It would do no good to speak to the girl. She knows what she is doing and is enjoying it immensely.

Dear Ann Landers: I can't stop thinking about that little boy who accidentally shot his sister while playing with the father's gun.

Let us pray the child's parents don't make the same mistake my husband's parents made under similar circumstances. He, too, accidentally killed his sister. His grief-stricken mother and father did everything under the sun to lessen the boy's feelings of guilt. They showered him with attention and gifts and catered to his every whim. The results were disastrous. He grew up to be selfish, inconsiderate, wildly egocentric — completely without concern for others.

The death of a child is a tragedy. But the ruination of a beautiful, bright, promising youngster is equally tragic. The best way to recover from a death in the family is to emerge from the valley of grief as rapidly as possible and do something constructive for the living. Sometimes professional guidance is needed.

I hope the parents of the dead child will stop blaming themselves and treat the surviving youngster just as they would have had the tragedy not occurred. The inclination to be too permissive or excessively overprotective can be disastrous. I know because I am living with it. — Wichita Wife

Dear Reader: Thank you for an excellent letter. And now may I add a word? The surviving child sometimes attempts to take advantage of grieving parents. Parents should be alert to such maneuvering and not permit it.

Dear Ann Landers: My wife and I got into a frank discussion with another couple last night. Today my wife isn't speaking to me. This question came up: Would any of us remarry if something should happen to our mates? The others all said they would not remarry. I said I would. My wife claims I don't love her and that I humiliated her in front of our friends. What do you say? — Ceiling Zero

Dear Zero: Widows and widowers who have had happy marriages tend to remarry. It is a compliment rather than an insult to the deceased partner. Your wife should be flattered, not hurt.

Has Long-Term Inflation Become Inevitable In U.S.?

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Has long-term inflation become inevitable? Few people in government or industry dare answer affirmatively, for fear that the opinion might provoke the fact, but many of them are acting on that assumption.

Passage by the House of Representatives of an automatic escalator for Social Security benefits, tied to increases in the cost of living, is recognition of this belief. And there are numerous other examples.

Negotiated wage increases are being made on the assumption that the cost of living will continue to rise. Five per cent annual increases, once considered good, are now scoffed at as amounting to nothing when inflation is deducted.

You don't have to search hard either to find instances of industry raising prices not because the product has been improved or because demand is strong, but simply because the company expects its own future costs to be higher.

Reluctnt Converts

Perhaps the most reluctant but influential converts to the idea are the big life insurance companies. For years they sold the concept of the guaranteed fixed-dollar return, which assumed stability in dollar values.

In fact, belief in fixed returns was almost a religion with them, and some salesmen spread the notion that only a sinner would risk the future of his family by investing in anything that didn't assure a precise return.

Payoff Was There

That religion probably was a savoir to some families. During the Great Depression of the 1930s especially, a guaranteed return was indeed something of value, because the dollar was stabilized or rising in value—although there weren't many of them around.

Investments in equities, such as stocks, fell into the cellar, but insurance policies paid off at first-floor levels during the depression. The payoff may not have been big, but it was there.

It wasn't until the 1960s that insurers began changing their mind. Inflation caught hold. And so did mutual funds. With the value of the dollar shrinking, sophisticated investors didn't want to be paid off in 1980 with 1960 dollars. They wanted something that would float with the tide.

Mutual funds offered this opportunity, and they grew swiftly into a $50-billion industry. Moreover, they were a direct competitor of insurers for the savings of ordinary Americans.

Now life insurers are deeply involved with mutual funds, either through acquiring existing funds or beginning their own from scratch.

The reason why is obvious: Inflation was making those guaranteed, fixed-dollar returns look paltry beside the projected returns of the mutual funds.

Insurance companies have, in effect, acknowledged their acceptance of an inflated future in their lending practices also. No longer dedicated to a fixed dollar, they now seek flexible returns on their lendings.

SUPPORT PRESIDENT

President Nixon's Cambodian policy is a means of saving the lives of American fighting men and anything we do in Cambodia that results in saving American lives should have the full backing of the American people.

Amendments in Congress such as the Cooper-Church Amendment which would block funds to support American troops in Southeast Asia amount to the abandonment of our forces — our sons and daughters — who are fighting a cruel and inhuman enemy who might otherwise be at our very doorsteps. Congress put our men there in full support of the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution.

In the past Congress has debated declarations of war but this is the first time the Senate has debated a "declaration of surrender."

The destruction of tons and tons of equipment and other supplies stored by the Communists in Cambodia for use against our men in Vietnam proves that President Nixon made the right decision in ordering the Cambodian incursion.

Downtown hotel turned cultural? Not quite, but we do have a great new work of art.

Henri Azaz did a sculpture for our lobby. And when he creates—he doesn't kid around. We ended up—with a wall.

But not just any wall. Some people call it the Great Wall of Sherman House. Why not come see why?

And while you're there, stop in at any of our Nightspots—the College Inn, Well of the Sea, The Scuttlebutt, The Celtic and the Dome.

So come to Sherman House for entertainment and fun. And we'll throw in a little culture at no extra cost!

Michigan Week observance came to a happy climax on Saturday with the observance of Youth Day, including a parade, pop rock band concert, and the dedication of a special playground for younger children at Ludington Park.

The parade, which was led by Mayors Ronald DeVos of Escanaba and Ray Norton of Gladstone riding in open convertibles, featured Escanaba Area, Gladstone, Holy Name and Rock High School marching bands.

The parade also featured floats, emergency vehicles with sirens howling, the Salvation Army Junior Uke Band, modified and sportsmen cars of the Upper Peninsula Stock Car Racing Association, snowmobiles on wheels, clowns and horses. It moved east on Ludington St. to Ludington Park shortly after noon Saturday.

The judges of the floats were members of the Senior Citizens Committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce — John Bartella, A. V. Aronson, John A. Lemmer and Carl Wickman.

Market Gropes For Low Point

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street kept hoping for a selling climax during the past week but it never materialized.

"The market's groping for some kind of a bottom," said an analyst shortly before the market closed Friday.

In the process of groping for that bottom, the market dived so much that it hammered down the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials some 40.05 points during the week to 662.17, its lowest level since March 1, 1963 when the blue-chip indicator stood at 659.72.

Down 32 Per Cent

The net result of this steep descent was that by week's end the market had lost $250 billion on paper, a 32 per cent drop, since December, 1968.

There appeared to be widespread agreement in the financial community that the explanation for the precipitous descent during the week could be traced in good measure to other factors beside the health of the economy.

Paul Samuelson, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology economist put it this way: "The weakness in the market is not explicable in terms of weakness in the economy. It's a reflection on the fact that our society is coming apart."

Other observers appeared to take a more sunny view. "I don't think the economy or the market is going to hell in a handbasket," said a New York analyst. "Certainly there are problems here and abroad. But it would seem that the market has exaggerated these problems."

Those problems were generally considered to be hostilities in Indochina and the Mideast, domestic social polarization and, to be sure, some weaknesses in the economy. Among these were the continued high rate of inflation and rising unemployment.

Averages Skid

The Associated Press 60-stock average skidded 12.5 points to 233.2, its lowest level since Nov. 19, 1962. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index declined 4.65 points to 72.25. The New York Stock Exchange Index of Some 1,200 common stocks dropped 2.70 to 39.44.

Of the 1,755 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, during the past week, 1523 declined and 154 advanced. New yearly lows exceeded highs 1183 to 5.

Big Board volume rose to 59.68 million shares from 56.74 million shares a week earlier.

Assistant Backs President Nixon Over Evasiveness

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Presidential Assistant H.R. Haldeman replying to critics that President Nixon didn't consult with his advisers before ordering U.S. troops into Cambodia, says Nixon seeks out advice more often than any other recent president.

The current criticism that Nixon often acts in isolation is merely the latest of the liberal news media's attempts to undermine the President's standing, Haldeman says.

"I am completely convinced that President Nixon is the most unisolated president in recent times," Haldeman said Saturday night at the University of California at Los Angeles, where he accepted the Alumnus of the Year award.

Student Killed On Solo Flight

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Sam Spry, a 19-year-old sophomore at Mesa College here, rented a plane May 13 and headed southeast into the California desert on his first long solo flight. He was found dead Sunday 20 miles from the downed aircraft.

Spry had radioed that he would be 20 minutes late in arriving at El Centro, 100 miles from San Diego. Then, officials said, he apparently ran into heavy fog and was blown southward off course.

Some 260 miles south of the Mexican border in Baja California, his single-engine plane ran out of gas. Spry set it down intact in a desolate area two miles from the coast.

On the plane he left a note reading, "All right and walking to the coast."

Searchers—up to 100 in the air, including his mother, Lori, scoured the brown hills. A few days later they found the plane.

Searchers on the ground found Spry's body on a plateau 20 miles from the downed plane and 10 miles inland. He had been dead two or three days, they estimated.

Scientists Eye Better Future

NEW YORK (AP) — A cure for cancer and drugs to prevent it. Clean air and clean water. Noise-free trains and planes. A cashless and checkless society.

All of this could be a reality before the end of the century, according to a McGraw-Hill Publications Co., survey.

The survey, compiled from data on all phases of modern life from more than 150 industrial firms and research agencies, shows scientific researchers are confident modern technology can make inroads into most of today's complex problems in 15 years and solve them in our lifetime.

Among the other good news researchers forcee in the future are effective methods of solid waste disposal, chemical control of the aging process, biochemical methods for growing new limbs and organs, undersea farming and mining, and a compact total energy plant for the home.

Symbol Of Justice Next Weatherman Attack Target

NEW YORK (AP) — A statement warning of an "attack on a symbol or institution of American justice" within the next two weeks has purportedly been issued by the Weatherman, the revolutionary youth organization, the New York Times reported today.

The statement also claimed to have identified the third person killed in an explosion in a Greenwich Village townhouse last March as Terry Robbins, a Weatherman who was a radical leader at Kent State University in 1968, the newspaper said.

The Times said the statement was received at its Chicago bureau over the weekend. Radical sources were quoted as saying the document was authentic.

The Weatherman are a faction of the militant Students for a Democratic Society.

The three-page statement was reported by the Times as being a transcript of a tape recording by Bernardine Dohrn, a Weatherman leader who is in hiding, the Times said.

Market Keeps Up Steady Nosedive

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market nosedived today, sending the Dow Jones industrial average sharply below its seven-year closing low established Friday.

By 11 a.m. the average of 30 blue-chips had tumbled 11.02 points, or 1.66 per cent, to 651.15.

The average, which fell over 40 points last week, closed Friday at 662.17, its lowest level since March 1, 1963.

Declining issues on the New York Stock Exchange led gainers by nearly 2 to 1. Volume was so brisk that the Big Board's tape was running a minute late at one point.

The early slide followed news that the administration had requested Congress raise the ceiling on government borrowing by $18 billion to $395 billion.

Assistant Backs President Nixon Over Evasiveness

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Presidential Assistant H.R. Haldeman replying to critics that President Nixon didn't consult with his advisers before ordering U.S. troops into Cambodia, says Nixon seeks out advice more often than any other recent president.

The current criticism that Nixon often acts in isolation is merely the latest of the liberal news media's attempts to undermine the President's standing, Haldeman says.

"I am completely convinced that President Nixon is the most unisolated president in recent times," Haldeman said Saturday night at the University of California at Los Angeles, where he accepted the Alumnus of the Year award.

Schwab, who received a doctor of medicine degree from Marquette University in June, 1966, entered active duty Aug. 8, 1967. He is presently assigned to Fitzsimons Army Hospital, Denver, Colo.

Student Killed On Solo Flight

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Sam Spry, a 19-year-old sophomore at Mesa College here, rented a plane May 13 and headed southeast into the California desert on his first long solo flight. He was found dead Sunday 20 miles from the downed aircraft.

Spry had radioed that he would be 20 minutes late in arriving at El Centro, 100 miles from San Diego. Then, officials said, he apparently ran into heavy fog and was blown southward off course.

Some 260 miles south of the Mexican border in Baja California, his single-engine plane ran out of gas. Spry set it down intact in a desolate area two miles from the coast.

On the plane he left a note reading, "All right and walking to the coast."

Searchers—up to 100 in the air, including his mother, Lori, scoured the brown hills. A few days later they found the plane.

Searchers on the ground found Spry's body on a plateau 20 miles from the downed plane and 10 miles inland. He had been dead two or three days, they estimated.

Scientists Eye Better Future

NEW YORK (AP) — A cure for cancer and drugs to prevent it. Clean air and clean water. Noise-free trains and planes. A cashless and checkless society.

All of this could be a reality before the end of the century, according to a McGraw-Hill Publications Co., survey.

The survey, compiled from data on all phases of modern life from more than 150 industrial firms and research agencies, shows scientific researchers are confident modern technology can make inroads into most of today's complex problems in 15 years and solve them in our lifetime.

Among the other good news researchers forcee in the future are effective methods of solid waste disposal, chemical control of the aging process, biochemical methods for growing new limbs and organs, undersea farming and mining, and a compact total energy plant for the home.

Symbol Of Justice Next Weatherman Attack Target

NEW YORK (AP) — A statement warning of an "attack on a symbol or institution of American justice" within the next two weeks has purportedly been issued by the Weatherman, the revolutionary youth organization, the New York Times reported today.

The statement also claimed to have identified the third person killed in an explosion in a Greenwich Village townhouse last March as Terry Robbins, a Weatherman who was a radical leader at Kent State University in 1968, the newspaper said.

The Times said the statement was received at its Chicago bureau over the weekend. Radical sources were quoted as saying the document was authentic.

The Weatherman are a faction of the militant Students for a Democratic Society.

The three-page statement was reported by the Times as being a transcript of a tape recording by Bernardine Dohrn, a Weatherman leader who is in hiding, the Times said.

Market Keeps Up Steady Nosedive

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market nosedived today, sending the Dow Jones industrial average sharply below its seven-year closing low established Friday.

By 11 a.m. the average of 30 blue-chips had tumbled 11.02 points, or 1.66 per cent, to 651.15.

The average, which fell over 40 points last week, closed Friday at 662.17, its lowest level since March 1, 1963.

Declining issues on the New York Stock Exchange led gainers by nearly 2 to 1. Volume was so brisk that the Big Board's tape was running a minute late at one point.

The early slide followed news that the administration had requested Congress raise the ceiling on government borrowing by $18 billion to $395 billion.

State Welfare Budget Tops Lansing Agenda

LANSING (AP) — A $352.9 appropriation for state welfare programs tops a list of more than 100 bills the Michigan House will attempt to pass this week in a marathon round of day-and-night sessions.

House leaders are aiming to clear the calendar of all but Senate bills in 33 hours of floor action. A 17-to-18 hour work week is a more frequent average.

Variety Of Issues

The Senate, meanwhile, also will deal with a variety of issues while its appropriations committee reviews House-passed spending bills.

The Senate completed action late last week on its half of the $1.74 billion budget for fiscal 1970-71, passing and sending some $667 million worth of bills to the House.

The welfare bill, pegged in the House Appropriations Committee at nearly $63.7 million more than this year's support level and more than $19 million above Gov. William G. Milliken's request, is the major piece of budget legislation still facing first - House action.

Salary Hike Eyed

The House still must vote on several others, including a $69-million general government bill with substantial salary increases for various state officials and top aides.

The salary of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley would go from $30,000 to $35,000, that of his deputy, Leon Cohan, from 23,500 to $29,000, under the spending level proposed by Milliken.

Other increases, worked out by a legislative committee to put salaries of noncivil service department heads above earning levels of senior civil service employes, include:

Pay Hike For Governor?

Secretary of state, $30,000 to $32,000; his deputy. $20,000 to $27,500.

The state auditor general, his deputy and administrative assistant, as well as other department officials, including Milliken's own top aides are others proposed for increases.

Similar salary boosts for 14 agency and department heads were approved by the House late last week when it passed a $29 million appropriation bill for the state commerce, labor and licensing and regulation departments.

U.S. Forest Fee Announced

Effective today a new National Forest recreation fee system will be put into operation.

George S. James, regional forester of the U.S. Forest Service, said it replaces the Golden Eagle Passport which had been the annual Federal Recreation Area Entrance Permit since 1965, until the expiration of the program on April 1, 1970.

The new National Forest Recreation Permit also sells for $7, and will be valid until Dec. 31, 1970 at all recreation fee areas administered by the U.S. Forest Service.

Legislation for continuing the Golden Eagle Passport has not yet been approved by the Congress. Accordingly, the Forest Service along with other Federal agencies has initiated separate fee systems.

The $7 annual National Forest Recreation Permit allows the purchaser and all occupants of his noncommercial vehicle to use facilities on any designated National Forest recreation area which requires a $1 daily fee.

There is no limit to the number of places or items or times the permit can be used. It will also provide a $1 credit towards payment for use of campsites where the recreation fee is $2 or more per day.

For those who do not wish to purchase an annual permit, a daily permit is also available. The daily user fee ranges from $1 to $3 depending upon facilities and services available at each area.

All daily permits are valid for overnight use of campsites, until noon of the day following purchase. Children under age 16 and escorted educational tours are exempt from fees for use of camp and picnic sites, and swimming and boat launching areas.

LANSING (AP) — Appointment of John A. Vargo of Marquette to the Michigan Crippled Children's Commission has been announced by Gov. William Milliken.

Vargo is executive director of a health camp in Marquette. He is to serve a term expiring March 23, 1971. The appointment is subject to Senate confirmation.

SPEC. 4 TERRY JONCAS has completed a tour of duty with the U. S. Army in Korea and is spending a 45-day leave at the home of his mother, Mrs. June Joncas, 533½ N. 19th St. Joncas, who has been in the service since Nov., 1968, will leave Escanaba June 25 for assignment at Fort Sill, Okla.

Senate Okays NMU Gun Ban

LANSING — Northern Michigan University will get $7,759,485 from the state general fund next year and an automatic ban of firearms on the campus under a bill passed by the senate last week.

There was no direct reference on the floor to the charges of 140 black students that they had been fired upon and harassed to the point that they wanted to leave the campus early.

But a major amendment would ban guns on the campus in the possession of anyone except NMU security guards.

Another rider to the bill requires any college or university to report to the Legislature in detail within 30 days on any campus disturbance, the number of students arrested, time lost from classes and the role of faculty members.

Northern's budget anticipates a total current operational expenditure of $13,140,153.

The breakdown shows $6,840,981 for instruction, $429,143 for public services, $787,739 for the library and $1,578,994 for student services, including $610,423 for financial aid for students.

The bill also appropriates $3,503,296 for general operations of the campus.

The bill anticipates resident student fees of $2,645,616, nonresident student fees of $738,544, off-campus student fees of $100,913, self-liquidating debt retirement fees of $390,899 and other income from gifts and grants and other sources of $1,494,696.

Housewife, Target Of Sniper, Backs Conflict

DEARBORN HEIGHTS, Mich. (AP) — A Dearborn Heights housewife says she is more than ever convinced of America's right to be in South Vietnam after touring a combat zone where a Communist sniper fired at her, her sailor son and a friend.

"I guess I was just tired of hearing demonstrators and protesters tell me what the facts were," said Mrs. Raymond Brimmer.

"I had a son over there and I wanted to see for myself, said the trim, blonde housewife, who is in her 40s.

Visits Sailor Son

She said she went alone last week to Saigon to visit her son, Edward, 19, who is stationed at a naval base at Dong Tam. She said they met a 24-year-old lieutenant, who had served two tours in South Vietnam, and he agreed to take them on a jeep's tour of military installations in combat areas.

"My husband thought I was going to be safe in some hotel in Saigon," she said.

"Of course, we didn't ask anybody's permission about any of this and I certainly don't want to get that lieutenant in trouble," she said, about the trip. She declined to give his name.

Played Ignorant

"I just played ignorant all the way and I guess they thought I was with a USO troupe or something," she said. "When we told this one young fellow that I was visiting my son there, his jaw dropped a foot."

She said they took a 3½-day tour of American installations, including Dong Tam and Long Binh.

She said near Dong Tam, they were forced to drive down a jungled area referred to as "Ambush Alley" when a sniper opened fire with a rifle. She said the jeep sped ahead and the bullets missed them.

Must Stop Communism

Mrs. Brimmer said she talked to about 20 servicemen about the war, adding "I can tell you that they all know what they're there for. They know they have to stop Communism or we'll have it here next."

"I can't forget any of their faces. I wouldn't take a million dollars for the experience," she said. "When those guys read about the protests in this country, or trying to vote to cut money off for the war, it gets them down worse than anything except getting shut out at mail call."

Invasion Supported

She said all the military personnel she talked to supported the invasion of Cambodia.

"None of them could understand how people could demonstrate against this, when safety of American Boys was at stake," she said.

She said her son, who is an only child, enlisted in the Navy "because he believed in America."

She said her husband was greatly relieved to find her return home safe.

Model Towners Set Five Meet Records

BY DON HOWES
Daily Press Sports Editor

MARQUETTE — Nineteen record-shattering performances topped a slate of races dotted with exciting finishes as the Upper Peninsula track and field season came to a classic climax Saturday on Marquette High School's new asphalt track.

The Gwinn Model Towners, showing overall strength and depth, captured the U.P. Class A-B crown with 47 points, while the Rudyard Bulldogs walked away with Class C honors and as expected, the Pickford Panthers successfully defended their Class D Crown, capturing their 19th straight Upper Peninsula title.

The nineteen new marks that went into the record books, erased standards which were held as long as twenty years. There were eight new records set in Class A-B, eight in Class C and three in Class D.

Gwinn, in winning the Class A-B title, set five new records in the long jump, pole vault, 440 yard dash and in both the 880 and mile relays.

Crusaders Fourth

The Holy Name Crucadters, who finished fourth in the meet, came up with a strong performer in Dan Young, who topped all athletes in the shot put with a tremendous toss of 52 feet 8 inches, his best throw of the year.

Other point producers for the Crusaders were Gary Corbett in the shot put, Gary Kleiman in the high jump, Bob McGinn in the 880 yard dash and Noel Gannon in the mile run. Holy Name's Jim Dubord and Paul Guenette also picked up points for the Crusaders. Dubord, who had been ill all week, still managed to place second in the 220 yard dash behind Leanes of Marquette and also finished fourth in the 100 yard dash with a 10.5 clocking. Guenette, in making one of his strongest showings of the year in the two mile run, finished second behind the record-breaking performance of Calumet's Gary Patrick. Guenette, with a time of 10:08.2 for the first time this season, finished ahead of Menominee's ace two miler Ivan Plude, who finished third, with a 10:09.2 timing.

The only double winners in the A-B Class were Bob Leanes and Bob Schacht of Marquette with Leanes winning the 100 and 220 yard dashes and Schacht the high and low hurdles.

Timmer Scores

Escanaba, with their mile qualifier, Maurice Simons, who was out of action, finished eighth in the meet. Gene Timmer paced the Eskymo attack with a third and fourth place finish in the high and low hurdles. Timmer was six-tenths of a second behind the record breaking performance of Bob Schacht of Marquette, who won the high hurdles in a time of 15.1 seconds.

Also scoring points for the Eskymos were Gary Brawley in the shot put with a toss of 51 feet 7 inches for a second place finish, Steve Rolig placed third in the long jump with a leap of 20 feet 3 inches, Mark Blazek in the pole vault and the Eskymo 880 yard relay team finished fifth with a time of 1:34.9 behind Gwinn's record-breaking performance of 1.32.1. The Escanaba team consisted of Rod Deiter, Fred Crawford, Bob Stone and Gene Timmer.

The top finisher for Bob Richard's Gladstone Braves was Cliff Young, who took the second section of the 880 yard run in a fine time of 2:01.95. Bob Young took a fifth place finish in the high hurdles and the Braves mile relay team also took a fifth place finish to round out the scoring for Gladstone. The team consisted of Bart Stupak, Cliff Young, Terry Cartwright and Pat McGeary.

The other Class A-B record that was broken was in the low hurdles by Marquette's Bob Schacht in a time of 20.14 seconds breaking the 20 year old record of 20.4 set by John Leppi of Ironwood in 1950.

Duane Sundin of Manistique broke the record in the second section of the 440 yard dash with a time of 51.39 seconds, but Gwinn's Mike Hatfield put his name in the record book as he took the first section of the 440 with a :51.09 clocking. Dave Mickelson also placed in the 440 with a fourth place finish.

Rudyard C Champs

The Class C champions, Rudyard Bulldogs, broke two of the eight Class C records. The Bulldogs 880 yard relay team set a new record in a time of 1:33.2 and Mitch Irwin, one of the two Class C double winners, cleared 12 feet 10 inches to set a new pole vault record.

The outstanding performer in the Class C meet was Tim Nault of Norway, who was the only triple winner in the meet. Nault won the 100 and 220 yard dashes and the long jump setting a Class C record in each event, winning the 100 in 10.2 seconds, the 220 in 22.39 seconds and the long jump 21'8½".

The only other double winner in Class C was Don Michaelson of L'Anse, who won the shot put and the first section of the 440 yard dash.

The oldest mark that was erased in the 1970 meet was in the mile run when Jim Hagen of St. Ignace broke the old record set in 1950 of 4:44.0 by Bob Hitch of L'Anse in a new time of 4:39.45.

Other Class C records that were broken were by Barry Hafeman of Stephenson in the second section of the 440 yard dash with a :52.09 timing, by the Ontonagon mile relay team in a fabulous performance by Fred Teddy of L'Anse, who broke the two mile record by winning in a time of 9:55.4.

19 Straight

Pickford ran away with the Class D title by scoring 60¾ points to easily out distance second place Channing with 21½ and third place Powers and Ewen Trout Creek who had 17 apiece.

Pickford set two new records on their quest of winning their nineteenth straight U.P. title with Jerry Bawks setting a new pole vault record at 12 feet 11⅝ inches, this marked the first time that all three Classes broke the pole vault record in the same year. Mart Storey set a new low hurdle record for the Panthers, winning in a time of :20.4 seconds.

The only other Class D record that was broken was by Bob Jacquart of Ironwood Catholic in the mile run with a 4:38.36 clocking.

Mileski Stars

Bob Mileski of Powers was a big double winner for the Tigers, winning both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Mileski raced to victory in the 100 in a time of :10.69 seconds and in the 220 in :23.14 seconds.

Other area trackmen placing in the meet in the Class D division were from Rapid River, Dan Safford in the long jump and Jeff Boyer in the pole vault and low hurdles. Big Bay's winners were Bill Hartman in the pole vault, John Lewandowski in the low hurdles and 220 yard dash and Randy Strasler in the second section of the 440 yard dash. Alex Jorasz and Keith Scheiderson of Bark River placed in the 880 yard dash and the long jump respectively, Ken Simonsen of Perkins in the high jump and besides Mileski's double win, Lee Vincent took a fifth place finish for Powers in the high jump.

Stands Collapse In State Finals

By The Associated Press

The day started as a disaster for Benton Harbor's High school track team, as its coach and one team member were hospitalized when the stands collapsed at the University of Michigan.

But, it ended on a note of triumph, as the other four team members ran up 29 team points to give Benton Harbor the Class A high school track championship at Ann Arbor Saturday.

And on a final note, the injuries to coach George McGinnis and hurdler Ron Patterson were reported to have been not serious.

In other meets in the Lower Peninsula Saturday, Ecorse retained its Class B title in competition at East Lansing; Grass Lake and Reading tied for the Class C championship at Mount Pleasant, and Covert captured the Class D title at Big Rapids.

Some 27 persons were taken to the hospital when the temporary stands, containing more than 1,000 persons, collapsed Saturday at Ann Arbor. All but two were released that night. Several other persons were injured, but did not require hospital treatment.

When McGinnis and the one track team member were taken to the hospital, assistant coach Dick Brame took over the coaching duties.

The four remaining team members, Rodney Rhodes, Frank Atkinson, Leroy Hunt, and Don Hopkins, then won the 880-yard relay.

In addition, Rhodes was third in the 100-yard dash, and second in the 220-yard dash, and Hopkins was fourth in the 100-yard dash and eighth in the 220.

Iverson, Peterson Score Stock Car Race Victories

Bob Iverson of Hyde and Bill Peterson of Escanaba thrilled a crowd of over 2,200 stock car racing fans Saturday night at the Escanaba Speedway as the second week of stock car action resumed. A heavily wetted track delayed the time trials, but once the action got underway the drivers provided an excellent show for the evening.

In modified action, Bob Iverson of Hyde captured the 20 lap feature, but had to work hard to do so. With a 17 car field starting the race, Jim Barron of Cornell took an early lead and proved to be a hard man to catch. Iverson finally got by him on the 14 lap, but 4 laps later went into a spin and had to take the last corner driving through the mud in the infield. Barron took advantage of the break and again took the lead, but Iverson came back to pass him on the last lap and took the checkered flag. Ed Powley of the Soo finished third.

Double Winner

In the heats, Duke Gardiner of Escanaba, driving for the first time in the modified class, was a double winner. In the first heat he had an easy time winning over John O'Reily of the Soo and Dave Christiansen of Escanaba. He also captured the semi-feature, but had to work harder. This time he passed O'Reily on the 12th lap and finished ahead of Bob Hengesh of Escanaba and Richard Lombardi of Escanaba.

In the second heat, Ray Gardner passed Hengesh after 9 laps and picked up his first win of the year. Hengesh again settled for second place, and Jim Barron was third.

The third heat was won by Canadian Gary Ingram who picked up his first victory ever on the Escanaba track. Soo drivers swept the other money positions with Powley finishing second and Ted Ritchie third.

In the sportsman class, last year's rookie of the year Bill Peterson of Escanaba won the feature. Ron Paquette of Kingsford moved into first on the sixth lap and was chased by Peterson, who finally passed Paquette with one lap to go in the race. He held off a late challenge by Paquette and was just ahead of him at the finish line. Pat Temple helped to make it a good race by finishing a close third.

Haferkorn Wins

In the first heat Haferkorn won over Dick Paidl of Menominee. Paidl had led the entire race, and lost the checkered flag on the last lap. In the semi-feature Haferkorn had an easy time winning over Bruce Larson of Escanaba.

In the second heat, Wennel Tourangeau had an easy time winning over Sonny Richer. The two Escanaba natives battled through the early stages, with Tourangeau pulling away at the end.

Paquette captured third heat honors. Last year's number one driver at Norway moved into first on the third lap and held off the challenge of Temple, who finished second and third place finisher Arne Anderson of Wells.

Two Menominee drivers swept time trial honors. Gene Coleman had fast time for modifieds with a clocking of 24:72, and Ron DeMarce was fast for sportsman with a clocking of 28.85.

Huskies Elect Tri-Captains

For the second consecutive year, Michigan Tech's football squad will be led by three captains as tri-captains were elected for the 1970 season. Senior defensive halfback Jerry LaJeunesse (Houghton), junior tailback Larry Ras (Grandville) and sophomore linebacker Mike Foltz (Petoskey) will captain the Huskies through their nine-game card next fall.

LaJeunesse, a two-time all-conference choice, has been a mainstay in the Huskie defensive backfield since his freshman season but has also filled in at a number of offensive chores. He led the Northern Intercollegiate Conference in pass receptions as a sophomore but was named to the all-conference defensive backfield, an honor he repeated last season. He also handles the punting chores.

Ras was the workhorse in the Huskie backfield last season and earned the nickname "The Horse" from teammates and coaches alike. He also earned all-conference honors last season as he became the first gridder in Huskie history to rush for 1,000 yards in a single season. His 1,010 yards for the season and his 703 yards in conference play were good enough to make him the leading rusher and total offense performer in the NIC.

Foltz began last season as a defensive tackle but was switched to a linebacking post after the first game to bolster that position. He responded with a tremendous rookie season and is being looked for to lead the defense this fall. His quickness and instinct to "go to the ball" could make him one of the best in the conference.

The Huskies finished the 1969 NIC season with a 4-1 record and the championship, and a 5-4 record overall.

Invitational Track Meet Here Tuesday

The Escanaba Junior High trackmen will host an invitational track meet at the Escanaba Athletic Field Tuesday afternoon at 3 p.m. So far, about ten of the fifteen teams invited to the meet are expected.

Last Saturday the Escanaba Junior High cindermen defeated Gladstone and Bark River in a triangular meet. The final score was Escanaba 65, Bark River 54 and Gladstone 18.

Escanaba was paced by Wayne Schwalbach, a triple winner. Schwalbach won the shot put with a toss of 46 feet 5 inches, the 100 yard dash in 11.3 seconds and the long jump with a leap of 19 feet 1½ inches.

Other first place finishers for Escanaba were Mike Cvengros in the 60 yard high hurdles, Brian Berg in the pole vault as he cleared the bar at 9'6" and Dan Young a first place tie in the high jump with Bill Johnson of Gladstone at 4'10".

Other point producers for Escanaba were Al Bellefeuille in the shot put, Tom Suriano in the long jump and 100 yard dash, Jim Oberg in the high hurdles, Rick Miller and Dan Young in the 60 yard dash, David Nelson and Mike Cappeart in the 75 yard dash and Gerard Krause, Steve Kleissert and Fred Thorbjornsen in the 440 yard run.

Escanaba had seven first place finishers, wile Bark River had five and Gladstone one.

The only other big winner in the meet was John Pokladowski of Bark River, winning the 220 yard dash in 26 seconds and the 75 yard dash in 8.6 seconds.

Area Wrestlers Place In Event

HOUGHTON — Four of the seven boys from the Escanaba area, who competed in the U.P. Junior Olympic Open Wrestling Championships at Michigan Tech University Saturday, managed to place in the event.

Brad Bender, competing in the 9th grade 150-pound class, managed to come up with a second place, while Scott Blazek got a third place in the third grade 70-pound class; Lance Collins, fourth in the seventh grade 95-pound class; and Wendell VanDrese, fourth in the eighth grade 90-pound class.

Other boys from the area competing in the event, which was sponsored by Michigan Tech and the Houghton Lions, were Mark Bajanen, Pat Collins and Mike Peterson.

Over 190 wrestlers competed in the event and were classed according to weight and grade. First place finishers received trophies, while second, third and fourth place finishers were awarded ribbons.

The Escanaba team was transported and co-coached by Roland Collins and Joe Blazek under the guidance of Escanaba Eskymo wrestling coach Norm Panganis, who was unable to make the trip because of a prior commitment.

Ohio First, But Not Big 10 Champ

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten baseball race is over according to the schedule with Ohio State on top of the heap but the Buckeyes still could wind up second to Minnesota.

Ohio State completed the regular schedule by splitting a doubleheader with Northwestern on Saturday, winning the first game 4-2 but losing the nightcap 5-0.

This left OSU with a 13-1 record and Minnesota, seeking a third straight title, whipped Iowa twice Sunday 2-1 and 5-4. This left Minnesota with a 15-3 mark.

Campus disorders caused Ohio State to call off doubleheaders against Michigan and Michigan State but Coach Marty Karo said over the weekend that at least one of the doubleheaders would be made up.

In such a case, a double loss by the Buckeyes would vault Minnesota to the championship which automatically carries a bid to the NCAA playoffs and a shot at the national collegiate championship.

Model Towners Set Five Meet Records

BY DON HOWES
Daily Press Sports Editor

MARQUETTE — Nineteen record-shattering performances topped a slate of races dotted with exciting finishes as the Upper Peninsula track and field season came to a classic climax Saturday on Marquette High School's new asphalt track.

The Gwinn Model Towners, showing overall strength and depth, captured the U.P. Class A-B crown with 47 points, while the Rudyard Bulldogs walked away with Class C honors and as expected, the Pickford Panthers successfully defended their Class D Crown, capturing their 19th straight Upper Peninsula title.

The nineteen new marks that went into the record books, erased standards which were held as long as twenty years. There were eight new records set in Class A-B, eight in Class C and three in Class D.

Gwinn, in winning the Class A-B title, set five new records in the long jump, pole vault, 440 yard dash and in both the 880 and mile relays.

Crusaders Fourth

The Holy Name Crucadters, who finished fourth in the meet, came up with a strong performer in Dan Young, who topped all athletes in the shot put with a tremendous toss of 52 feet 8 inches, his best throw of the year.

Other point producers for the Crusaders were Gary Corbett in the shot put, Gary Kleiman in the high jump, Bob McGinn in the 880 yard dash and Noel Gannon in the mile run. Holy Name's Jim Dubord and Paul Guenette also picked up points for the Crusaders. Dubord, who had been ill all week, still managed to place second in the 220 yard dash behind Leanes of Marquette and also finished fourth in the 100 yard dash with a 10.5 clocking. Guenette, in making one of his strongest showings of the year in the two mile run, finished second behind the record-breaking performance of Calumet's Gary Patrick. Guenette, with a time of 10:08.2 for the first time this season, finished ahead of Menominee's ace two miler Ivan Plude, who finished third, with a 10:09.2 timing.

The only double winners in the A-B Class were Bob Leanes and Bob Schacht of Marquette with Leanes winning the 100 and 220 yard dashes and Schacht the high and low hurdles.

Timmer Scores

Escanaba, with their mile qualifier, Maurice Simons, who was out of action, finished eighth in the meet. Gene Timmer paced the Eskymo attack with a third and fourth place finish in the high and low hurdles. Timmer was six-tenths of a second behind the record breaking performance of Bob Schacht of Marquette, who won the high hurdles in a time of 15.1 seconds.

Also scoring points for the Eskymos were Gary Brawley in the shot put with a toss of 51 feet 7 inches for a second place finish, Steve Rolig placed third in the long jump with a leap of 20 feet 3 inches, Mark Blazek in the pole vault and the Eskymo 880 yard relay team finished fifth with a time of 1:34.9 behind Gwinn's record-breaking performance of 1.32.1. The Escanaba team consisted of Rod Deiter, Fred Crawford, Bob Stone and Gene Timmer.

The top finisher for Bob Richard's Gladstone Braves was Cliff Young, who took the second section of the 880 yard run in a fine time of 2:01.95. Bob Young took a fifth place finish in the high hurdles and the Braves mile relay team also took a fifth place finish to round out the scoring for Gladstone. The team consisted of Bart Stupak, Cliff Young, Terry Cartwright and Pat McGeary.

The other Class A-B record that was broken was in the low hurdles by Marquette's Bob Schacht in a time of 20.14 seconds breaking the 20 year old record of 20.4 set by John Leppi of Ironwood in 1950.

Duane Sundin of Manistique broke the record in the second section of the 440 yard dash with a time of 51.39 seconds, but Gwinn's Mike Hatfield put his name in the record book as he took the first section of the 440 with a :51.09 clocking. Dave Mickelson also placed in the 440 with a fourth place finish.

Rudyard C Champs

The Class C champions, Rudyard Bulldogs, broke two of the eight Class C records. The Bulldogs 880 yard relay team set a new record in a time of 1:33.2 and Mitch Irwin, one of the two Class C double winners, cleared 12 feet 10 inches to set a new pole vault record.

The outstanding performer in the Class C meet was Tim Nault of Norway, who was the only triple winner in the meet. Nault won the 100 and 220 yard dashes and the long jump setting a Class C record in each event, winning the 100 in 10.2 seconds, the 220 in 22.39 seconds and the long jump 21'8½".

The only other double winner in Class C was Don Michaelson of L'Anse, who won the shot put and the first section of the 440 yard dash.

The oldest mark that was erased in the 1970 meet was in the mile run when Jim Hagen of St. Ignace broke the old record set in 1950 of 4:44.0 by Bob Hitch of L'Anse in a new time of 4:39.45.

Other Class C records that were broken were by Barry Hafeman of Stephenson in the second section of the 440 yard dash with a :52.09 timing, by the Ontonagon mile relay team in a fabulous performance by Fred Teddy of L'Anse, who broke the two mile record by winning in a time of 9:55.4.

19 Straight

Pickford ran away with the Class D title by scoring 60¾ points to easily out distance second place Channing with 21½ and third place Powers and Ewen Trout Creek who had 17 apiece.

Pickford set two new records on their quest of winning their nineteenth straight U.P. title with Jerry Bawks setting a new pole vault record at 12 feet 11⅝ inches, this marked the first time that all three Classes broke the pole vault record in the same year. Mart Storey set a new low hurdle record for the Panthers, winning in a time of :20.4 seconds.

The only other Class D record that was broken was by Bob Jacquart of Ironwood Catholic in the mile run with a 4:38.36 clocking.

Mileski Stars

Bob Mileski of Powers was a big double winner for the Tigers, winning both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Mileski raced to victory in the 100 in a time of :10.69 seconds and in the 220 in :23.14 seconds.

Other area trackmen placing in the meet in the Class D division were from Rapid River, Dan Safford in the long jump and Jeff Boyer in the pole vault and low hurdles. Big Bay's winners were Bill Hartman in the pole vault, John Lewandowski in the low hurdles and 220 yard dash and Randy Strasler in the second section of the 440 yard dash. Alex Jorasz and Keith Scheiderson of Bark River placed in the 880 yard dash and the long jump respectively, Ken Simonsen of Perkins in the high jump and besides Mileski's double win, Lee Vincent took a fifth place finish for Powers in the high jump.

Stands Collapse In State Finals

By The Associated Press

The day started as a disaster for Benton Harbor's High school track team, as its coach and one team member were hospitalized when the stands collapsed at the University of Michigan.

But, it ended on a note of triumph, as the other four team members ran up 29 team points to give Benton Harbor the Class A high school track championship at Ann Arbor Saturday.

And on a final note, the injuries to coach George McGinnis and hurdler Ron Patterson were reported to have been not serious.

In other meets in the Lower Peninsula Saturday, Ecorse retained its Class B title in competition at East Lansing; Grass Lake and Reading tied for the Class C championship at Mount Pleasant, and Covert captured the Class D title at Big Rapids.

Some 27 persons were taken to the hospital when the temporary stands, containing more than 1,000 persons, collapsed Saturday at Ann Arbor. All but two were released that night. Several other persons were injured, but did not require hospital treatment.

When McGinnis and the one track team member were taken to the hospital, assistant coach Dick Brame took over the coaching duties.

The four remaining team members, Rodney Rhodes, Frank Atkinson, Leroy Hunt, and Don Hopkins, then won the 880-yard relay.

In addition, Rhodes was third in the 100-yard dash, and second in the 220-yard dash, and Hopkins was fourth in the 100-yard dash and eighth in the 220.

Iverson, Peterson Score Stock Car Race Victories

Bob Iverson of Hyde and Bill Peterson of Escanaba thrilled a crowd of over 2,200 stock car racing fans Saturday night at the Escanaba Speedway as the second week of stock car action resumed. A heavily wetted track delayed the time trials, but once the action got underway the drivers provided an excellent show for the evening.

In modified action, Bob Iverson of Hyde captured the 20 lap feature, but had to work hard to do so. With a 17 car field starting the race, Jim Barron of Cornell took an early lead and proved to be a hard man to catch. Iverson finally got by him on the 14 lap, but 4 laps later went into a spin and had to take the last corner driving through the mud in the infield. Barron took advantage of the break and again took the lead, but Iverson came back to pass him on the last lap and took the checkered flag. Ed Powley of the Soo finished third.

Double Winner

In the heats, Duke Gardiner of Escanaba, driving for the first time in the modified class, was a double winner. In the first heat he had an easy time winning over John O'Reily of the Soo and Dave Christiansen of Escanaba. He also captured the semi-feature, but had to work harder. This time he passed O'Reily on the 12th lap and finished ahead of Bob Hengesh of Escanaba and Richard Lombardi of Escanaba.

In the second heat, Ray Gardner passed Hengesh after 9 laps and picked up his first win of the year. Hengesh again settled for second place, and Jim Barron was third.

The third heat was won by Canadian Gary Ingram who picked up his first victory ever on the Escanaba track. Soo drivers swept the other money positions with Powley finishing second and Ted Ritchie third.

In the sportsman class, last year's rookie of the year Bill Peterson of Escanaba won the feature. Ron Paquette of Kingsford moved into first on the sixth lap and was chased by Peterson, who finally passed Paquette with one lap to go in the race. He held off a late challenge by Paquette and was just ahead of him at the finish line. Pat Temple helped to make it a good race by finishing a close third.

Haferkorn Wins

Joe Haferkorn of Norway continued his winning ways on the Escanaba track winning the first heat and the semi-feature. In the first heat Haferkorn won over Dick Paidl of Menominee. Paidl had led the entire race, and lost the checkered flag on the last lap. In the semi-feature Haferkorn had an easy time winning over Bruce Larson of Escanaba.

In the second heat, Wennel Tourangeau had an easy time winning over Sonny Richer. The two Escanaba natives battled through the early stages, with Tourangeau pulling away at the end.

Paquette captured third heat honors. Last year's number one driver at Norway moved into first on the third lap and held off the challenge of Temple, who finished second and third place finisher Arne Anderson of Wells.

Two Menominee drivers swept time trial honors. Gene Coleman had fast time for modifieds with a clocking of 24:72, and Ron DeMarce was fast for sportsman with a clocking of 28.85.

Huskies Elect Tri-Captains

For the second consecutive year, Michigan Tech's football squad will be led by three captains as tri-captains were elected for the 1970 season. Senior defensive halfback Jerry LaJeunesse (Houghton), junior tailback Larry Ras (Grandville) and sophomore linebacker Mike Foltz (Petoskey) will captain the Huskies through their nine-game card next fall.

LaJeunesse, a two-time all-conference choice, has been a mainstay in the Huskie defensive backfield since his freshman season but has also filled in at a number of offensive chores. He led the Northern Intercollegiate Conference in pass receptions as a sophomore but was named to the all-conference defensive backfield, an honor he repeated last season. He also handles the punting chores.

Ras was the workhorse in the Huskie backfield last season and earned the nickname "The Horse" from teammates and coaches alike. He also earned all-conference honors last season as he became the first gridder in Huskie history to rush for 1,000 yards in a single season. His 1,010 yards for the season and his 703 yards in conference play were good enough to make him the leading rusher and total offense performer in the NIC.

Foltz began last season as a defensive tackle but was switched to a linebacking post after the first game to bolster that position. He responded with a tremendous rookie season and is being looked for to lead the defense this fall. His quickness and instinct to "go to the ball" could make him one of the best in the conference.

The Huskies finished the 1969 NIC season with a 4-1 record and the championship, and a 5-4 record overall.

Invitational Track Meet Here Tuesday

The Escanaba Junior High trackmen will host an invitational track meet at the Escanaba Athletic Field Tuesday afternoon at 3 p.m. So far, about ten of the fifteen teams invited to the meet are expected.

Last Saturday the Escanaba Junior High cindermen defeated Gladstone and Bark River in a triangular meet. The final score was Escanaba 65, Bark River 54 and Gladstone 18.

Escanaba was paced by Wayne Schwalbach, a triple winner. Schwalbach won the shot put with a toss of 46 feet 5 inches, the 100 yard dash in 11.3 seconds and the long jump with a leap of 19 feet 1½ inches.

Other first place finishers for Escanaba were Mike Cvengros in the 60 yard high hurdles, Brian Berg in the pole vault as he cleared the bar at 9'6" and Dan Young a first place tie in the high jump with Bill Johnson of Gladstone at 4'10".

Other point producers for Escanaba were Al Bellefeuille in the shot put, Tom Suriano in the long jump and 100 yard dash, Jim Oberg in the high hurdles, Rick Miller and Dan Young in the 60 yard dash, David Nelson and Mike Cappeart in the 75 yard dash and Gerard Krause, Steve Kleissert and Fred Thorbjornsen in the 440 yard run.

Escanaba had seven first place finishers, wile Bark River had five and Gladstone one.

The only other big winner in the meet was John Pokladowski of Bark River, winning the 220 yard dash in 26 seconds and the 75 yard dash in 8.6 seconds.

Ohio First, But Not Big 10 Champ

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten baseball race is over according to the schedule with Ohio State on top of the heap but the Buckeyes still could wind up second to Minnesota.

Ohio State completed the regular schedule by splitting a doubleheader with Northwestern on Saturday, winning the first game 4-2 but losing the nightcap 5-0.

This left OSU with a 13-1 record and Minnesota, seeking a third straight title, whipped Iowa twice Sunday 2-1 and 5-4. This left Minnesota with a 15-3 mark.

Campus disorders caused Ohio State to call off doubleheaders against Michigan and Michigan State but Coach Marty Karo said over the weekend that at least one of the doubleheaders would be made up.

In such a case, a double loss by the Buckeyes would vault Minnesota to the championship which automatically carries a bid to the NCAA playoffs and a shot at the national collegiate championship.

Area Wrestlers Place In Event

HOUGHTON — Four of the seven boys from the Escanaba area, who competed in the U.P. Junior Olympic Open Wrestling Championships at Michigan Tech University Saturday, managed to place in the event.

Brad Bender, competing in the 9th grade 150-pound class, managed to come up with a second place, while Scott Blazek got a third place in the third grade 70-pound class; Lance Collins, fourth in the seventh grade 95-pound class; and Wendell VanDrese, fourth in the eighth grade 90-pound class.

Other boys from the area competing in the event, which was sponsored by Michigan Tech and the Houghton Lions, were Mark Bajanen, Pat Collins and Mike Peterson.

Over 190 wrestlers competed in the event and were classed according to weight and grade. First place finishers received trophies, while second, third and fourth place finishers were awarded ribbons.

The Escanaba team was transported and co-coached by Roland Collins and Joe Blazek under the guidance of Escanaba Eskymo wrestling coach Norm Panganis, who was unable to make the trip because of a prior commitment.

Reichardt's Homer Upends Tigers 6-4

DETROIT (AP) — Rick Reichardt's "superstar" billing was unsolicited, and it has always served as a ball and chain around his neck.

He wants to shake that tag, but he didn't help those plans Sunday when he belted a grand slam home run in Washington's six-run second inning enroute to a 6-4 win over the Detroit Tigers. The homer, his third career grand slam, was one of eight hits off Mickey Lolich in just 2 1-3 innings.

"This business about making me a superstar here is ridiculous," Reichardt said afterwards. "I feel better here. I like it here and think I'll do well. But this business about hitting 40-50 homers - well, I don't know."

Reichardt was with the California Angels last season before being dealt to Washington in a trade for Ken McMullen.

Take Series

The victory gave the Senators two of three from Detroit in the series. The Tigers are still in third place in the East Division of the American League, 9½ games behind front-running Baltimore and one game ahead of the Washington Senators.

Detroit has lost 15 of the last 21 games. Les Cain, 2-2, who left the ballpark early Sunday because of the flu, was still scheduled to pitch for the Tigers in the opener of a three game series against New York tonight. Stan Bahsen was expected to pitch for the Yankees.

Reichardt reportedly received a $175,000 bonus when he signed with the Angels in 1964 out of the University of Wisconsin.

"You can't blame me for taking that kind of money, but because of that the papers built up my image too much," he said self-critically. "Because I haven't been quite that meaningful as far as the superstar image goes it doesn't mean I haven't done a good job. I think I was a good ballplayer with California."

In three full seasons in the majors his batting averages have been .288, .265 and .255, with 16, 17 and 21 home runs in the last three years.

He said Senators' manager Ted Williams, himself an all-time superstar and slugger while with Boston, "is my friend."

"He has been trying to ease me in this new situation and helps build my confidence up," he said.

"He is someone you can relate to. Lou have to hold him in high esteem because he is the master. It's best to get advice from someone you believe in."

He credits his grand slam to Williams's advice.

"He said I should look for my pitch and swing hard," Reichardt related. "If you strike out you strike out."

Washington had already pushed across two runs in the second inning, one on a sacrifice by Tim Cullen and another on a single by former Tiger Wayne Comer. With two men on, Lolich walked Frank Howard to load the bases and then Reichardt unloaded his sixth homer of the year.

"I had an inkling in the back of my mind I'd get a good ball to hit," Reichardt said. "that's something he (Williams) tries to do. He tries to instill a mental awareness in you."

Winning pitcher Joe Coleman, 3-3, allowed only four hits in the seven innings he worked, but two were two-run homers by Bill Freehan and Jim Northrup.

With two out in the bottom of the second Dalton Jones singled and Freehan followed with his seventh homer of the year. Coleman walked Mickey Stanley in the third and Northrup crashed his fifth homer.

One bright spot for Detroit was the performance of rookie Dennis Saunders, who relieved Lolich in the third. He shutout the Nats on three hits in his 5 2-3 innings.

Aaron Captures Atlanta Classic

ATLANTA (AP) — Tommy Aaron refused to gamble on the 18th green Sunday but, after some 30 minutes as a nervous spectator, still cashed in the big chips in the $125,000 Atlanta Golf Classic and broke a 10-year victory drought on the PGA tour.

"I wanted to shoot at the green but I was too far out... about 245 yards I guess," said Aaron, a drawling Georgian who earlier had spotted the field two strokes with a self-imposed penalty on No. 14.

"So I elected to lay up," he added with a smile, "and now I'm glad I did."

Aaron concluded his final round with a 69 and a 72-hole score of 275, 13-under-par over the 7,052-yard Atlanta Country Club course. He then watched as his challengers wilted on the closing holes under a hot Georgia sun.

Tom Weiskopf, who carried a one shot lead into the final round, offered the last and greatest threat, but fell into a deadlock for third place with a 277 when he drove into the water on No. 18, then hit into a trap and finally two-putted for a double bogey seven.

Dan Sikes matched Aaron's closing 69 and took second place at 276. Joining Weiskopf at 277 were Arnold Palmer, South African Gary Player and Bert Yancey, the 1969 Atlanta champion.

NMU Basketball Coach Resigns

MARQUETTE—Bob Ortegel, assistant basketball coach at Northern Michigan University, announced his resignation today to accept a similar post at Illinois State University.

Ortegel, an Illinois native and graduate of Bradley University, served NMU as varsity assistant and head freshman coach for two seasons. His frosh squads had a two-year record of 25-9 and averaged better than 90 points per game.

The 29-year-old Ortegel will be a member of a four-man staff at Illinois State, headed by Will Robinson, former coach at Detroit Pershing High School where he compiled an outstanding prep record.

NMU head coach Glenn Brown said "my association with Bob Ortegal during the past two years has been excellent. He did an outstanding job for Northern Michigan and I am sure he will do equally well in his new position."

Rollie Dotsch, Northern's athletic director, said a successor to Ortegel "will be named shortly."

New Giant Manager Off To Successful Start As Giants Take Twinbill

By The Associated Press

Charlie Fox says he's a patient man . . . but the San Francisco Giants aren't taking any chances.

The Giants gave new Manager Fox a solid sendoff Sunday by sweeping a doubleheader from the San Diego Padres 6-1 and 7-6.

"I'll let the players do things until they prove to me they can't," said the 48-year-old Fox, who assumed command before the twin bill following the ouster of Clyde King.

Thus assured, the Giants did in the Padres with a barrage of four home runs in the opener and a seven-run inning in the nightcap. Willie McCovey slammed a pair of homers as Gaylord Perry won the first game with a four-hitter before three San Diego errors opened the gates in the fifth inning of the second game.

Elsewhere in the National League, Chicago and New York divided a doubleheader, the Cubs taking the opener 3-1 and the Mets winning the nightcap by the same score; Houston downed Cincinnati 10-7; Philadelphia edged St. Louis 6-5 in 10 innings; Los Angeles drubbed Atlanta 8-1 and Pittsburgh beat Montreal 3-0.

King Fired

The Giants rebounded from Saturday's 17-16 marathon loss to San Diego, after which King was fired by club owner Horace Stoneham, on bases-empty homers by McCovey in the fourth and sixth innings of the opener and solo swats by Bonds, in the seventh, and Mays, in the eighth.

Perry, 6-5, lost his shutout bid when Ivan Murrell homered in the fifth.

In the second game, San Diego's Pat Dobson was the victim of two errors by third baseman Ed Spiezio and another by shortstop Steve Huntz as the Giants scored seven times in the fifth on just three hits to erase a 3-0 deficit. Ron Hunt's two-run single was the key blow.

Home runs by Spiezio and Huntz closed the gap in the seventh, but Frank Reberger checked the Padres thereafter in relief of winner Mike McCormick.

Fireballer Nolan Ryan tossed a two-hitter to gain a split for the Mets, who were held to five hits by Chicago's Bill Hands and Phil Regan in the opener.

Ron Swoboda drove in two runs with a double and sacrifice fly to assure Ryan's second two-hit triumph of the season. Ex-Met Jim Hickman homered for the Cubs in the first game and Regan rescued Hands from a bases-loaded, none-out jam in the eighth inning.

Astros Rally

The Astros, trailing 7-0 after 5½ innings, scored two runs in the sixth, added another in the seventh and then flattened St. Louis with a seven-run spree in the eighth, ending a five-game losing streak.

Denis Menke ignited the big rally with a single and delivered the last run with another single. Jesus Alou's two-run single tied the game 7-7 and Tommy Davis' two-run single broke the deadlock.

Larry Hisle pulled the Phillies even in the ninth with a two-out, two-run homer and they won it in the 10th on a bases-loaded single by Tony Taylor. The Cards' Richie Allen struck out five times in regulation play, tying the National League record.

Los Angeles' Alan Foster snapped a personal three-game losing streak despite yielding 11 hits in 6 2-3 innings as the Dodgers pounded the Braves. Rookie Von Joshua drove in the deciding run with a second inning single and tripled in the seventh to touch off a four-run wrap-up burst.

Bob Veale blanked Montreal on three hits and struck out 10. Matty Alou scored the only run Veale needed on Al Oliver's sacrifice fly in the first inning and doubled home another in the ninth.

Former Winners To Lead Indy 500

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Three former winners will lead one of the best-balanced fields in history into Saturday's 54th 500-mile auto race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The 33-car lineup rounded off in the final 10-mile qualifications Sunday averaged a record 167.139 miles per hour. The old mark was 166.295 last year.

The qualifying speeds ranged from 170.221 by Al Unser, who won the pole position May 16, to 165.373 by slowest qualifer Sammy Sessions, the 1969 field's spread was 170.568 to 160.851.

Unser is not a former winner but the favorite of many Speedway veterans in his fifth attempt Al's brother Bobby, the 1968 winner, also is in the line-up along with three-time winner, A.J. Foyt Jr., and last year's winner, Mario Andretti, who set the race record of 156.867.

Veterans almost crowded newcomers out of the field. Only four rookies made the program, the smallest number since 1960.

Foyt, with 12 Indianapolis starts behind him, is approached in Speedway experience only by Lloyd Ruby, starting for the 11th time, and Dan Gurney. Jim McElreath and Roger McCluskey, for the ninth time, Bobby Unser will start for the eighth time.

No really exotic cars made the program, although there are innovations in the British-built Brabhams and McLarens and the made-in-Germany McNamara. Eighteen of the cars are powered by turbocharged four-cylinder Offenhausers. 15 by turbocharged eight-cylinder Fords.

Ruby and Jack Brabham, native of Australia and three-time world road racing champion, rated among the top contenders qualified over the weekend, along with the second Bill Vukovich, whose father won the big race twice.

Vukovich, unable to get his original Edmunds-Offenhauser up to competitive speed, jumped into a Brabham-Offy and made the line-up with speed to spare. Ruby also qualified solidly after a string of six straight engine failures in the last three weeks.

McElreath was the only driver able to "bump" an earlier qualifier and squeeze into the line-up in Sunday's final session. He joined Foyt's four-car team, averaged 166.821 in his Coyote-Rord, and eliminated rookie Kevin Bartlett of Australia. McElreath himself had been bumped by Brabham Saturday.

Dobson Hurls Oakland To Win; Jackson Quiet

By The Associated Press

The room shared by Chuck Dobson and Reggie Jackson of the Oakland A's isn't the best place in the world to go looking for base hits these days. Dobson isn't giving up many and Jackson isn't getting many.

Dobson's half of the room was in fine form Sunday. The right-hander checked the Chicago White Sox 5-1 on one hit—Gail Hopkins' first-inning single—in the opener of a doubleheader. But Jackson, who sat out the first game with a sub-.200 batting average, managed only one single in the nightcap although the A's managed a sweep of the twin bill 5-2.

To make Jackson's day even worse, owner Charles O. Finley threatened the slugging outfielder with a trip to the minor leagues to help him find the batting eye that accounted for 47 home runs and 118 runs batted in a year ago.

Elsewhere in the American League, California nipped Minnesota 6-5, Baltimore beat Boston 2-1 in 10 innings before losing the nightcap 4-3, the New York Yankees swept Cleveland 6-5 and 8-7 in 11 innings and Kansas City shaded Milwaukee 6-5 in 10.

The Angels blew a 5-1 but managed to nip the Twins on Sandy Alomar's tie-breaking single in the ninth inning and move within one-half game of the front-runners in the AL West.

Roger Repoz slammed a two-run homer and Jim Fregoisi contributed a two-run double as the Angels took a quick 5-1 lead. George Mitterwald paced the Twins' comeback with a home run in the fifth and a game-tying triple in the eighth.

Brooks Robinson shook off a fourth-inning beaning and hit a home run in the 10th inning that gave the Orioles their triumph in the opener. Curt Motton had tied the score in the ninth with a pinch single while George Scott homered for the Red Sox.

Baltimore came from behind twice to tie the score in the nightcap, with Boog Powell and Paul Blair hitting solo homers, but Boston prevailed on a sacrifice fly by pinch hitter Dick Schofield in the ninth. Sonny Siebert fanned 10 Orioles.

Baseballs were flying all over Cleveland's Muncipal Stadium, with the Yankees hitting five home runs and the Indians six, all in the nightcap, including three by Tony Horton and two by Ray Fosse.

John Ellis was the big gun for the Yanks, with an RBI double and game-winning homer in the opener and a three-run homer in the second game that brought New York from behind. They were the first homers of the season for Ellis.

Lindy McDaniel won both games in relief while Fred Lasher, the Indians' newly acquired reliever, was tagged with both defeats. Roy White, Horace Clarke and Ron Hansen also homered for the Yanks, Jack Heidemann for Cleveland.

Reichardt's Homer Upends Tigers 6-4

DETROIT (AP) — Rick Reichardt's "superstar" billing was unsolicited, and it has always served as a ball and chain around his neck.

He wants to shake that tag, but he didn't help those plans Sunday when he belted a grand slam home run in Washington's six-run second inning enroute to a 6-4 win over the Detroit Tigers. The homer, his third career grand slam, was one of eight hits off Mickey Lolich in just 2 1-3 innings.

"This business about making me a superstar here is ridiculous," Reichardt said afterwards. "I feel better here. I like it here and think I'll do well. But this business about hitting 40-50 homers - well, I don't know."

Reichardt was with the California Angels last season before being dealt to Washington in a trade for Ken McMullen.

Take Series

The victory gave the Senators two of three from Detroit in the series. The Tigers are still in third place in the East Division of the American League, 9½ games behind front-running Baltimore and one game ahead of the Washington Senators.

Detroit has lost 15 of the last 21 games. Les Cain, 2-2, who left the ballpark early Sunday because of the flu, was still scheduled to pitch for the Tigers in the opener of a three game series against New York tonight. Stan Bahsen was expected to pitch for the Yankees.

Reichardt reportedly received a $175,000 bonus when he signed with the Angels in 1964 out of the University of Wisconsin.

"You can't blame me for taking that kind of money, but because of that the papers built up my image too much," he said self-critically. "Because I haven't been quite that meaningful as far as the superstar image goes it doesn't mean I haven't done a good job. I think I was a good ballplayer with California."

In three full seasons in the majors his batting averages have been .288, .265 and .255, with 16, 17 and 21 home runs in the last three years.

He said Senators' manager Ted Williams, himself an all-time superstar and slugger while with Boston, "is my friend."

"He has been trying to ease me in this new situation and helps build my confidence up," he said.

"He is someone you can relate to. Lou have to hold him in high esteem because he is the master. It's best to get advice from someone you believe in."

He credits his grand slam to Williams's advice.

"He said I should look for my pitch and swing hard," Reichardt related. "If you strike out you strike out."

Washington had already pushed across two runs in the second inning, one on a sacrifice bly by Tim Cullen and another on a single by former Tiger Wayne Comer. With two men on, Lolich walked Frank Howard to load the bases and then Reichardt unloaded his sixth homer of the year.

"I had an inkling in the back of my mind I'd get a good ball to hit," Reichardt said. "that's something he (Williams) tries to do. He tries to instill a mental awareness in you."

Winning pitcher Joe Coleman, 3-3, allowed only four hits in the seven innings he worked, but two were two-run homers by Bill Freehan and Jim Northrup.

With two out in the bottom of the second Dalton Jones singled and Freehan followed with his seventh homer of the year. Coleman walked Mickey Stanley in the third and Northrup crashed his fifth homer.

One bright spot for Detroit was the performance of rookie Dennis Saunders, who relieved Lolich in the third. He shutout the Nats on three hits in his 5 2-3 innings.

Aaron Captures Atlanta Classic

ATLANTA (AP) — Tommy Aaron refused to gamble on the 18th green Sunday but, after some 30 minutes as a nervous spectator, still cashed in the big chips in the $125,000 Atlanta Golf Classic and broke a 10-year victory drought on the PGA tour.

"I wanted to shoot at the green but I was too far out... about 245 yards I guess," said Aaron, a drawling Georgian who earlier had spotted the field two strokes with a self-imposed penalty on No. 14.

"So I elected to lay up," he added with a smile, "and now I'm glad I did."

Aaron concluded his final round with a 69 and a 72-hole score of 275, 13-under-par over the 7,052-yard Atlanta Country Club course. He then watched as his challengers wilted on the closing holes under a hot Georgia sun.

Tom Weiskopf, who carried a one shot lead into the final round, offered the last and greatest threat, but fell into a deadlock for third place with a 277 when he drove into the water on No. 18, then hit into a trap and finally two-putted for a double bogey seven.

Dan Sikes matched Aaron's closing 69 and took second place at 276. Joining Weiskopf at 277 were Arnold Palmer, South African Gary Player and Bert Yancey, the 1969 Atlanta champion.

NMU Basketball Coach Resigns

MARQUETTE—Bob Ortegel, assistant basketball coach at Northern Michigan University, announced his resignation today to accept a similar post at Illinois State University.

Ortegel, an Illinois native and graduate of Bradley University, served NMU as varsity assistant and head freshman coach for two seasons. His frosh squads had a two-year record of 25-9 and averaged better than 90 points per game.

The 29-year-old Ortegel will be a member of a four-man staff at Illinois State, headed by Will Robinson, former coach at Detroit Pershing High School where he compiled an outstanding prep record.

NMU head coach Glenn Brown said "my association with Bob Ortegal during the past two years has been excellent. He did an outstanding job for Northern Michigan and I am sure he will do equally well in his new position."

Rollie Dotsch, Northern's athletic director, said a successor to Ortegel "will be named shortly."

New Giant Manager Off To Successful Start As Giants Take Twinbill

By The Associated Press

Charlie Fox says he's a patient man . . . but the San Francisco Giants aren't taking any chances.

The Giants gave new Manager Fox a solid sendoff Sunday by sweeping a doubleheader from the San Diego Padres 6-1 and 7-6.

"I'll let the players do things until they prove to me they can't," said the 48-year-old Fox, who assumed command before the twin bill following the ouster of Clyde King.

Thus assured, the Giants did in the Padres with a barrage of four home runs in the opener and a seven-run inning in the nightcap. Willie McCovey slammed a pair of homers as Gaylord Perry won the first game with a four-hitter before three San Diego errors opened the gates in the fifth inning of the second game.

Elsewhere in the National League, Chicago and New York divided a doubleheader, the Cubs taking the opener 3-1 and the Mets winning the nightcap by the same score; Houston downed Cincinnati 10-7; Philadelphia edged St. Louis 6-5 in 10 innings; Los Angeles drubbed Atlanta 8-1 and Pittsburgh beat Montreal 3-0.

King Fired

The Giants rebounded from Saturday's 17-16 marathon loss to San Diego, after which King was fired by club owner Horace Stoneham, on bases-empty homers by McCovey in the fourth and sixth innings of the opener and solo swats by Bonds, in the seventh, and Mays, in the eighth.

Perry, 6-5, lost his shutout bid when Ivan Murrell homered in the fifth.

In the second game, San Diego's Pat Dobson was the victim of two errors by third baseman Ed Spiezio and another by shortstop Steve Huntz as the Giants scored seven times in the fifth on just three hits to erase a 3-0 deficit. Ron Hunt's two-run single was the key blow.

Home runs by Spiezio and Huntz closed the gap in the seventh, but Frank Reberger checked the Padres thereafter in relief of winner Mike McCormick.

Fireballer Nolan Ryan tossed a two-hitter to gain a split for the Mets, who were held to five hits by Chicago's Bill Hands and Phil Regan in the opener.

Ron Swoboda drove in two runs with a double and sacrifice fly to assure Ryan's second two-hit triumph of the season. Ex-Met Jim Hickman homered for the Cubs in the first game and Regan rescued Hands from a bases-loaded, none-out jam in the eighth inning.

Astros Rally

The Astros, trailing 7-0 after 5⅓ innings, scored two runs in the sixth, added another in the seventh and then flattened St. Louis with a seven-run spree in the eighth, ending a five-game losing streak.

Denis Menke ignited the big rally with a single and delivered the last run with another single. Jesus Alou's two-run single tied the game 7-7 and Tommy Davis' two-run single broke the deadlock.

Larry Hisle pulled the Phillies even in the ninth with a two-out, two-run homer and they won it in the 10th on a bases-loaded single by Tony Taylor. The Cards' Richie Allen struck out five times in regulation play, tying the National League record.

Los Angeles' Alan Foster snapped a personal three-game losing streak despite yielding 11 hits in 6 2-3 innings as the Dodgers pounded the Braves. Rookie Von Joshua drove in the deciding run with a second inning single and tripled in the seventh to touch off a four-run wrap-up burst.

Bob Veale blanked Montreal on three hits and struck out 10. Matty Alou scored the only run Veale needed on Al Oliver's sacrifice fly in the first inning and doubled home another in the ninth.

Former Winners To Lead Indy 500

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Three former winners will lead one of the best-balanced fields in history into Saturday's 54th 500-mile auto race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The 33-car lineup rounded off in the final 10-mile qualifications Sunday averaged a record 167.139 miles per hour. The old mark was 166.295 last year.

The qualifying speeds ranged from 170.221 by Al Unser, who won the pole position May 16, to 165.373 by slowest qualifer Sammy Sessions, the 1969 field's spread was 170.568 to 160.851.

Unser is not a former winner but the favorite of many Speedway veterans in his fifth attempt Al's brother Bobby, the 1968 winner, also is in the line-up along with three-time winner, A.J. Foyt Jr., and last year's winner, Mario Andretti, who set the race record of 156.867.

Veterans almost crowded newcomers out of the field. Only four rookies made the program, the smallest number since 1960.

Foyt, with 12 Indianapolis starts behind him, is approached in Speedway experience only by Lloyd Ruby, starting for the 11th time, and Dan Gurney, Jim McElreath and Roger McCluskey, for the ninth time, Bobby Unser will start for the eighth time.

No really exotic cars made the program, although there are innovations in the British-built Brabhams and McLarens and the made-in-Germany McNamara. Eighteen of the cars are powered by turbocharged four-cylinder Offenhausers, 15 by turbocharged eight-cylinder Fords.

Ruby and Jack Brabham, native of Australia and three-time world road racing champion, rated among the top contenders qualified over the weekend, along with the second Bill Vukovich, whose father won the big race twice.

Vukovich, unable to get his original Edmunds-Offenhauser up to competitive speed, jumped into a Brabham-Offy and made the line-up with speed to spare. Ruby also qualified solidly after a string of six straight engine failures in the last three weeks.

McElreath was the only driver able to "bump" an earlier qualifier and squeeze into the line-up in Sunday's final session. He joined Foyt's four-car team, averaged 166.821 in his Coyote-Rord, and eliminated rookie Kevin Bartlett of Australia. McElreath himself had been bumped by Brabham Saturday.

Dobson Hurls Oakland To Win; Jackson Quiet

By The Associated Press

The room shared by Chuck Dobson and Reggie Jackson of the Oakland A's isn't the best place in the world to go looking for base hits these days. Dobson isn't giving up many and Jackson isn't getting many.

Dobson's half of the room was in fine form Sunday. The right-hander checked the Chicago White Sox 5-1 on one hit—Gail Hopkins' first-inning single—in the opener of a doubleheader. But Jackson, who sat out the first game with a sub-.200 batting average, managed only one single in the nightcap although the A's managed a sweep of the twin bill 5-2.

To make Jackson's day even worse, owner Charles O. Finley threatened the slugging outfielder with a trip to the minor leagues to help him find the batting eye that accounted for 47 home runs and 118 runs batted in a year ago.

Elsewhere in the American League, California nipped Minnesota 6-5, Baltimore beat Boston 2-1 in 10 innings before losing the nightcap 4-3, the New York Yankees swept Cleveland 6-5 and 8-7 in 11 innings and Kansas City shaded Milwaukee 6-5 in 10.

The Angels blew a 5-1 but managed to nip the Twins on Sandy Alomar's tie-breaking single in the ninth inning and move within one-half game of the front-runners in the AL West.

Roger Repoz slammed a two-run homer and Jim Fregosi contributed a two-run double as the Angels took a quick 5-1 lead. George Mitterwald paced the Twins' comeback with a home run in the fifth and a game-tying triple in the eighth.

Brooks Robinson shook off a fourth-inning beaning and hit a home run in the 10th inning that gave the Orioles their triumph in the opener. Curt Motton had tied the score in the ninth with a pinch single while George Scott homered for the Red Sox.

Baltimore came from behind twice to tie the score in the nightcap, with Boog Powell and Paul Blair hitting solo homers, but Boston prevailed on a sacrifice fly by pinch hitter Dick Schofield in the ninth. Sonny Siebert fanned 10 Orioles.

Baseballs were flying all over Cleveland's Muncipal Stadium, with the Yankees hitting five home runs and the Indians six, all in the nightcap, including three by Tony Horton and two by Ray Fosse.

John Ellis was the big gun for the Yanks, with an RBI double and game-winning homer in the opener and a three-run homer in the second game that brought New York from behind. They were the first homers of the season for Ellis.

Lindy McDaniel won both games in relief while Fred Lasher, the Indians' newly acquired reliever, was tagged with both defeats. Roy White, Horace Clarke and Ron Hansen also homered for the Yanks, Jack Heidemann for Cleveland.

Jury Gives Man What He Wants: Death Sentence

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In 1953, blonde Stella Darlene Nolan, 8, vanished from a suburban auction center a few hours after writing: "Father, I hope you have a happl Father's Day..." A massive hunt yielded no clues.

In 1956, Don Baker, 13, and Brenda Howell, 11, failed to return from a bicycle ride in the hills. They were never found.

In 1968, Gary Rocha, 16, was shot dead in his home. In 1968, Roger Madison, 16, disappeared. Last May, Donald Allen Todd, 13, was found shot dead in a gully, his clothes stacked neatly nearby.

And last March a 51-year-old construction worker, Mack Ray Edwards, walked into a suburban police station and said he had kidnaped three girls. He surrendered, he said, because one got away and he figured she would lead officers to him.

"I'm glad they got away," police quoted him, "because it would have been nine instead of six."

Bodies Located

Officers said Edwards told them the six youngsters were slain after molestation attempts. He gave clues that led to finding three bodies.

Friday, Edwards, who twice tried suicide in jail and who pleaded guilty to murder "because I want to go to the electric chair," heard the words he has been asking for.

A jury impaneled to fix his penalty decreed death in San Quentin's gas chamber. June 5 was set for formal sentencing.

Edwards had lived quietly in the San Fernando Valley suburb of Sylmar with his wife and teen-age son and daughter. His neighbors called him friendly. His only arrest was in 1941, for vagrancy.

Police are trying to determine if Edwards is linked to other disappearances between 1956 and 1968. The Los Angeles Times said police think the total might be as many as 22, although Edwards lists only six.

He was charged with murder only in the Nolan, Rocha and Todd deaths, because those were the only bodies found.

Edwards' attorney called his client a "monster" but asked for a sentence of life imprisonment.

Wants To Die

Edwards said in a presentencing interview: "My attorney got a bit mixed up and pleaded for my life. That's not what I want. I want the chair; that's what I've always wanted...."

Edwards expressed no remorse in the interview, but said when asked why he turned himself in: "I couldn't eat and I couldn't sleep. It was beginning to affect my work. I'm a heavy equipment operator. That grader I was using costs a lot of money—$200,000. I might wreck it. Or turn it over and hurt someone."

Spring Concert Set For Tonight

Children from the Gladstone Elementary School will present their spring concert tonight at 7:30 in the Gladstone High School gymnasium.

The boys' chorus, a fifth-sixth grade chorus and all school children in the first, second and third grades will be singing under the direction of Mrs. Lorrayne Grieg. Nearly all the selections to be performed are favorite American folk songs, show tunes and spirituals.

The sixth grade band, under the direction of Paul Cowen, will open the program and feature several solo instrumentalists.

First graders will present Andante from Haydn's "Surprise Symphony," a rhythm band and also dance a singing game. Other selections the children especially enjoy are "Mr. Frog Went A-Courtin," presented in song and pageant, and "Hawaiian Rainbows," featuring a few girls in Hawaiian costume illustrating the song.

The select chorus of third and fourth grade boys will perform several American songs, including "Dr. Doolittle" and " Whistle A Happy Tune." The select chorus of fifth and sixth graders will conclude the evening's concert.

The public is invited to attend and no admission will be charged.

Self Restraint Not Up To Par, Grads Told

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP)—U.S. Ambassador to Belgium John Eisenhower told graduates at Northwood Institute's 11th annual commencement Sunday that "self restraint, so necessary to the functioning of democracy, in on the decline in segments of our population."

"If the trend continues, I shudder to think what will be the ultimate consequence," he said.

The son of the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower, the ambassador said the most important "questions of our society concern the future of educational systems, whether we can maintain law and order while doing our best to improve the lot of the underprivileged, and what portion of our youth are willing to take up arms at the call of their country."

Some 330 Northwood students, who constituted the largest graduating clss in the history of the two-year college, received degrees and certificates.

Discussing the generation gap, Eisenhower told the students that "Your generation is being listened to by their elders to a far greater degree than was mine."

Despite social change, he said that the fundamental patterns of life of both generations are much the same.

Eisenhower added the "United States Constitution was drawn up under the assumption that the citizens of this great country would conduct themselves with restraint."

Basically, he said the present younger generation, with the "exception of the extremists and those who have opted to escape reality through drugs and violence, is more idealistic and better informed and has a great future."

He said the failure to provide adequately for education of the baby boom generation has caused pressure on students and has resulted in marked degrees of rebellion.

"This factor is by no means the only one causing unrest on our current national scene, but I am proud that the rapid growth of Northwood Institute has done its part in combating it."

He said he was hopeful that Northwood will establish a campus in Europe.

UAW Board Asks Probe Of Killings At Kent State

DETROIT (AP) — The International Executive Board of the United Auto Workers Union he called for a congressional investigation of what it termed "senseless killings of American citizens by American military and police" at Kent State College, Jackson State College and Augusta, Ga.

"The dangerous military policies of the Nixon administration have driven the wedge of division in America even deeper and have dangerously alienated millions of Americans," the board said in a statement which which it reported unanimously adopted.

It called upon President Nixon "to exercise leadership in politics, assuring that the lives and liberties of American citizens will be protected from harm of any wrongdoer, whether he be bearing the cloth of a citizen or the uniform of government."

"There must be an immediate end," it continued, "to the needless and inexcusable use of the military force against citizens exercising their constitutional right to protest."

LANSING (AP) — The week of May 31- June 6 has been proclaimed International Institute week in Michigan by order of Gov. William G. Milliken. The observance honors the International Institute of Metropolitan Detroit, Inc., for its assistance to immigrants and foreign nationals visiting or living for a time in this country.

State Jobless Picture Better

DETROIT (AP) — Unemployment in Michigan dropped in April for the second consecutive month, with 6.2 per cent of the work force reported without jobs compared to 6.5 per cent in March.

The Michigan Employment Security Commission reported a total of 221,000 unemployed in mid-April, for a decrease of 11,000 from the mid-March jobless total.

But William R. Ford, director of the commission, said that while "the number of unemployed appears encouraging, the reduction is not attributable to any employment upturn."

"Many of those who left the jobless rolls," Ford said, "moved out of the labor force altogether rather than into new jobs. So that the shrinkage in the size of the labor force—8,500—nearly equaled the unemployment decline."

The Detroit area's unemployment was 5.6 per cent in mid-April, compared with 5.9 per cent a month earlier.

Government employment was up 2,300 in mid - April, reflecting what Ford said was the hiring of new people for the U.S. census.

Jury Gives Man What He Wants: Death Sentence

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In 1953, blonde Stella Darlene Nolan, 8, vanished from a suburban auction center a few hours after writing: "Father, I hope you have a happl Father's Day..." A massive hunt yielded no clues.

In 1956, Don Baker, 13, and Brenda Howell, 11, failed to return from a bicycle ride in the hills. They were never found.

In 1968, Gary Rocha, 16, was shot dead in his home. In 1968, Roger Madison, 16, disappeared. Last May, Donald Allen Todd, 13, was found shot dead in a gully, his clothes stacked neatly nearby.

And last March a 51-year-old construction worker, Mack Ray Edwards, walked into a suburban police station and said he had kidnaped three girls. He surrendered, he said, because one got away and he figured she would lead officers to him.

"I'm glad they got away," police quoted him, "because it would have been nine instead of six."

Bodies Located

Officers said Edwards told them the six youngsters were slain after molestation attempts. He gave clues that led to finding three bodies.

Friday, Edwards, who twice tried suicide in jail and who pleaded guilty to murder "because I want to go to the electric chair," heard the words he has been asking for.

A jury impaneled to fix his penalty decreed death in San Quentin's gas chamber. June 5 was set for formal sentencing.

Edwards had lived quietly in the San Fernando Valley suburb of Sylmar with his wife and teen-age son and daughter. His neighbors called him friendly. His only arrest was in 1941, for vagrancy.

Police are trying to determine if Edwards is linked to other disappearances between 1956 and 1968. The Los Angeles Times said police think the total might be as many as 22, although Edwards lists only six.

He was charged with murder only in the Nolan, Rocha and Todd deaths, because those were the only bodies found.

Edwards' attorney called his client a "monster" but asked for a sentence of life imprisonment.

Wants To Die

Edwards said in a presentencing interview: "My attorney got a bit mixed up and pleaded for my life. That's not what I want. I want the chair; that's what I've always wanted...."

Edwards expressed no remorse in the interview, but said when asked why he turned himself in: "I couldn't eat and I couldn't sleep. It was beginning to affect my work. I'm a heavy equipment operator. That grader I was using costs a lot of money—$200,000. I might wreck it. Or turn it over and hurt someone."

Spring Concert Set For Tonight

Children from the Gladstone Elementary School will present their spring concert tonight at 7:30 in the Gladstone High School gymnasium.

The boys' chorus, a fifth-sixth grade chorus and all school children in the first, second and third grades will be singing under the direction of Mrs. Lorrayne Grieg. Nearly all the selections to be performed are favorite American folk songs, show tunes and spirituals.

The sixth grade band, under the direction of Paul Cowen, will open the program and feature several solo instrumentalists.

First graders will present Andante from Haydn's "Surprise Symphony," a rhythm band and also dance a singing game. Other selections the children especially enjoy are "Mr. Frog Went A-Courtin," presented in song and pageant, and "Hawaiian Rainbows," featuring a few girls in Hawaiian costume illustrating the song.

The select chorus of third and fourth grade boys will perform several American songs, including "Dr. Doolittle" and " Whistle A Happy Tune." The select chorus of fifth and sixth graders will conclude the evening's concert.

The public is invited to attend and no admission will be charged.

Self Restraint Not Up To Par, Grads Told

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP)—U.S. Ambassador to Belgium John Eisenhower told graduates at Northwood Institute's 11th annual commencement Sunday that "self restraint, so necessary to the functioning of democracy, in on the decline in segments of our population."

"If the trend continues, I shudder to think what will be the ultimate consequence," he said.

The son of the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower, the ambassador said the most important "questions of our society concern the future of educational systems, whether we can maintain law and order while doing our best to improve the lot of the underprivileged, and what portion of our youth are willing to take up arms at the call of their country."

Some 330 Northwood students, who constituted the largest graduating clss in the history of the two-year college, received degrees and certificates.

Discussing the generation gap, Eisenhower told the students that "Your generation is being listened to by their elders to a far greater degree than was mine."

Despite social change, he said that the fundamental patterns of life of both generations are much the same.

Eisenhower added the "United States Constitution was drawn up under the assumption that the citizens of this great country would conduct themselves with restraint."

Basically, he said the present younger generation, with the "exception of the extremists and those who have opted to escape reality through drugs and violence, is more idealistic and better informed and has a great future."

He said the failure to provide adequately for education of the baby boom generation has caused pressure on students and has resulted in marked degrees of rebellion.

"This factor is by no means the only one causing unrest on our current national scene, but I am proud that the rapid growth of Northwood Institute has done its part in combating it."

He said he was hopeful that Northwood will establish a campus in Europe.

UAW Board Asks Probe Of Killings At Kent State

DETROIT (AP) — The International Executive Board of the United Auto Workers Union he called for a congressional investigation of what it termed "senseless killings of American citizens by American military and police" at Kent State College, Jackson State College and Augusta, Ga.

"The dangerous military policies of the Nixon administration have driven the wedge of division in America even deeper and have dangerously alienated millions of Americans," the board said in a statement which which it reported unanimously adopted.

It called upon President Nixon "to exercise leadership in politics, assuring that the lives and liberties of American citizens will be protected from harm of any wrongdoer, whether he be bearing the cloth of a citizen or the uniform of government."

"There must be an immediate end," it continued, "to the needless and inexcusable use of the military force against citizens exercising their constitutional right to protest."

Institute Week

LANSING (AP) — The week of May 31- June 6 has been proclaimed International Institute week in Michigan by order of Gov. William G. Milliken. The observance honors the International Institute of Metropolitan Detroit, Inc., for its assistance to immigrants and foreign nationals visiting or living for a time in this country.

State Jobless Picture Better

DETROIT (AP) — Unemployment in Michigan dropped in April for the second consecutive month, with 6.2 per cent of the work force reported without jobs compared to 6.5 per cent in March.

The Michigan Employment Security Commission reported a total of 221,000 unemployed in mid-April, for a decrease of 11,000 from the mid-March jobless total.

But William R. Ford, director of the commission, said that while "the number of unemployed appears encouraging, the reduction is not attributable to any employment upturn."

"Many of those who left the jobless rolls," Ford said, "moved out of the labor force altogether rather than into new jobs. So that the shrinkage in the size of the labor force—8,500—nearly equaled the unemployment decline."

The Detroit area's unemployment was 5.6 per cent in mid-April, compared with 5.9 per cent a month earlier.

Government employment was up 2,300 in mid - April, reflecting what Ford said was the hiring of new people for the U.S. census.

Motorists 'Big Winners' On City's Hospitality Day

Friday was Hospitality Day in Michigan Week and capped planned activities in Manistique's celebration and observance of the 17th annual event.

Rev. Robert Haring was Hospitality Day chairman. He and his committee, in cooperation with Michigan State Police, stopped out-of-town motorists along U.S. 2 between 3-6 p.m. Friday to present information and gift certificates to the travelers.

Free lodging was offered by the Colonial, Blue Spruce, Breakers, Holiday, Beachcomber, Dipper and City motels; food services were made available by Sunny Shores, the Eat Shop, Chat 'n Nibble, the Surf and Dairy Kream with free merchandise available from Northern Woolens, Maytag and Furniture, the Vogue, Curran Chevrolet and Valley Nursery.

A "Salute to Scandinavia" program climaxed Thursday's combined salute to Heritage-Youth-Education Days. The evening program featured song and dance and poetry selections with a Scandinavian flavor, an artifacts display, a history of the Thompson Swedish Church. Several adults received their high school diplomas in ceremonies in the high school gym and the audience then adjourned to the auditorium where the junior and senior high school bands entertained with a concert. Refreshments were served following the program.

Open House At Schools

The Manistique Area Schools held open house throughout Thursday as their contribution to Education Day.

Activities were under the direction of Mrs. Earl LeBrasseur, Heritage; Howard Schwartz, Education; and Earl LeBrasseur, Youth.

Livelihood Day was marked by a general salute to local business and industry during a dinner at the Surf Wednesday night. Livelihood Day chairman Fred H. Hahne invited Clifford Lewis of Curtis to speak at the banquet; Edwin E. Wuehle was toastmaster and introduced Howard H. Handorf, County Extension Director, who discussed the proposed Industrial Development Corporation; Michigan Week general chairman Joseph Giovannini who commended the individual activity chairmen for their efforts; and Nat Dellis, president of the Manistique Area Chamber of Commerce, the sponsor of the dinner.

Four Pontiac Youths Caught In Area Cabin

Four Pontiac area juveniles were discovered by state police in a cabin in Inwood Township about 9 p.m. Friday and turned over to Probate Court authorities. The 14 and 15-year-old youths — two boys and two girls — have been in the School-craft County area for several days.

Parents of two of the youths were in Manistique to reclaim their children Saturday morning.

A stolen car, reported missing from Pontiac, was recovered in the woods near the cabin, troopers said. The car was badly damaged and not in running order.

Also discovered in the cabin, an A-frame structure located on the Thunder Lake Rd. just north of the Cooks School, was a television set and radio reported stolen earlier this week from a house trailer in the Camp 7 area.

The youths broke into the A-frame cabin and admitted breaking into several other summer residences in the area, police said.

A tip from a local resident resulted in their apprehension, state police said. The four stopped at a service station and tried to steal some motor oil but were observed by the station owner who demanded, and received, payment for the oil. However, the owner took the car license number and reported the incident to state police. A check with Pontiac police revealed the car was stolen.

Troopers also report a car driven by Doris Rubick, 337 N. Cedar St., went out of control and struck a culvert in Doyle Township at 11:45 Thursday night. Mrs. Rubick and one of her passengers received minor injuries and were treated at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. A third occupant was uninjured. The mishap is still under investigation.

50 In Attendance At Teachers' Meet

Manistique hosted a two-day teacher training workshop Friday and Saturday with about 50 teachers of children with learning disabilities attending.

Six youngsters from Mrs. Ruth England's special education class demonstrated effective use of education materials for the conference Saturday and were guests at a noon luncheon at the Fireside following their participation.

Briefly Told

Cheese pizza, buttered wax beans, peanut butter, fruit and beverage is the hot lunch menu Tuesday at the Manistique Area Schools.

City Council meets in regular session tonight at 7:30 in council chambers of City Hall. A public hearing on adoption of the 1970-71 city budget will be held plus consideration of a final resolution okaying the sale of some Michigan Ave. property to Arvid Carlson.

"WHERE'S THAT REPORT CARD?" will be presented by the MHS Drama Club when the Senior Citizens Club meets Tuesday at 7:30 in the K of C Hall. The one-act play is directed by Ruth Rogers and JoAnne Berger. Shown rehearsing are Bernie Beaudry, Mary Kay Berger, Patricia Slining and Monica Weber. Other cast members include Frank Malette and Cheryl Aller. The public is invited to attend. (LeBrasseur Photo)

'Meet Candidates' Night Scheduled

School board candidates will appear at a "Meet the Candidates" night in the high school auditorium on Thursday.

All five announced candidates — incumbents Mrs. Margaret Waters and Denton Nelson plus challengers David Kelly, Boyd Briggs and Ronald Morton — have indicated they will appear to answer questions from the audience, discuss educational issues and make opening and closing statements on their candidacy. The program will be moderated by Frank Salzeider, Superintendent of Schools, Engadine.

The public is invited to attend the informal 7:30 session which is under sponsorship of the Manistique Community School. Two of the candidates will be elected to 4 year terms at the June 8 school election.

Hospital

Admitted to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Friday were Linda Benish, Doris Rubick, Julyn Bckman, Robert Halvorsen, Terri Erickson and Homer Weber.

Discharged were Jacob Toennessen, Beverly Matelski, Jo-Anne Annelin, Doris Rubick, Sandra Whitman and baby and Sally Schultz and baby.

League play gets underway today with the Lions meeting Manistique Tool and Cooks vs. K.C. at Cooks. Thursday, Manistique Tool meets Cooks in the city while the Lions travel to Gulliver to play Bowman Gas. On Friday, a contest between the K.C.'s and Bowman's will be played in the city.

Boosters Fund To Be Switched

The $590.20 treasury of the now-defunct Green Fire Boosters Club has been apportioned to the new blazer fund at the high school, the new Athletic Boosters Club (just recently organized), and to the high school bank.

The blazer fund received $295.10 with the Athletic Boosters and the high school bank each receiving $147.55. The high school bank deposit will be used for booster advisory travel expenses.

Officers of the former Green Fire Boosters were surveyed to determine their feelings before the fund division was made. The Boosters were organized in 1965 and were active in 1967-68 in their support of the high school's athletic program during an austerity period.

After Dec. 31, 1971, the remainder of Advisory Travel Fund monies will be turned over to the Athletic Boosters Club. If it is not functioning, the money will be turned over to student services for enrichment program use.

Media Blamed For Campus Disorders

NEW YORK (AP) — Andrew Cordier, president of Columbia University, says the news media have given the nation a wrong impression of campus youth.

In a commencement address Sunday at Manhattan College, Cordier declared newsmen "often seek out every shred of tension, crisis and disruption on campus after campus."

He said this plays into the hands of "persons causing disruption and crisis fed on publicity."

Four Pontiac Youths Caught In Area Cabin

Four Pontiac area juveniles were discovered by state police in a cabin in Inwood Township about 9 p.m. Friday and turned over to Probate Court authorities. The 14 and 15-year-old youths — two boys and two girls — have been in the School-craft County area for several days.

Parents of two of the youths were in Manistique to reclaim their children Saturday morning.

A stolen car, reported missing from Pontiac, was recovered in the woods near the cabin, troopers said. The car was badly damaged and not in running order.

Also discovered in the cabin, an A-frame structure located on the Thunder Lake Rd. just north of the Cooks School, was a television set and radio reported stolen earlier this week from a house trailer in the Camp 7 area.

The youths broke into the A-frame cabin and admitted breaking into several other summer residences in the area, police said.

A tip from a local resident resulted in their apprehension, state police said. The four stopped at a service station and tried to steal some motor oil but were observed by the station owner who demanded, and received, payment for the oil. However, the owner took the car license number and reported the incident to state police. A check with Pontiac police revealed the car was stolen.

Troopers also report a car driven by Doris Rubick, 337 N. Cedar St., went out of control and struck a culvert in Doyle Township at 11:45 Thursday night. Mrs. Rubick and one of her passengers received minor injuries and were treated at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. A third occupant was uninjured. The mishap is still under investigation.

Boosters Fund To Be Switched

The $590.20 treasury of the now-defunct Green Fire Boosters Club has been apportioned to the new blazer fund at the high school, the new Athletic Boosters Club (just recently organized), and to the high school bank.

The blazer fund received $295.10 with the Athletic Boosters and the high school bank each receiving $147.55. The high school bank deposit will be used for booster advisory travel expenses.

Officers of the former Green Fire Boosters were surveyed to determine their feelings before the fund division was made. The Boosters were organized in 1965 and were active in 1967-68 in their support of the high school's athletic program during an austerity period.

After Dec. 31, 1971, the remainder of Advisory Travel Fund monies will be turned over to the Athletic Boosters Club. If it is not functioning, the money will be turned over to student services for enrichment program use.

Media Blamed For Campus Disorders

NEW YORK (AP) — Andrew Cordier, president of Columbia University, says the news media have given the nation a wrong impression of campus youth.

In a commencement address Sunday at Manhattan College, Cordier declared newsmen "often seek out every shred of tension, crisis and disruption on campus after campus."

He said this plays into the hands of "persons causing disruption and crisis fed on publicity."

War Dangers Overshadowing NATO Confab

ROME (AP) — Foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Alliance assembled in Rome today to discuss proposals for a "stand-easy" deal with the Soviet bloc. But the ministers' two-day spring meeting opening Tuesday is shadowed by war dangers in the Middle East and Indochina.

A series of expert studies prepared for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's Council of Ministers underlines the alliance's interest in an East-West program of balanced, controlled force cuts. The deal NATO's military men are urging calls for a 1.5 million-man cut in Warsaw Pact forces in Europe in return for a 300,000-man NATO reduction. That would bring the Communist force down to about 3 million and NATO's European force to about 2.7 million.

The Russians have not responded to earlier overtures for mutual troop cuts, and few if any allied authorities expect an affirmative response from Moscow now. One reason for this view is the deepening Soviet involvement in the Middle East and Mediterranean theaters, on NATO's southern doorstep.

Thus the Soviet posture of hostility toward Israel and backing for the Arabs is being examined in its intercontinental context. It is suspected that the presence of an increasing number of Russian pilots and other military specialists in the Arab world carries with it a considerable spinoff element favoring the Soviet Union's global strategic interests as well as the immediate purpose of strengthening the Arabs.

Cambodia Asks U.S. Help After June 30

SAIGON (AP) — While thousands of allied troops hunted for more enemy troops and supplies in Cambodia today, U.S. B52 bombers attacked a new North Vietnamese buildup in South Vietnam's northernmost provinces.

About 60 of the big Stratofortresses dropped nearly 2,000 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese base camps, bunkers and staging areas along the Demilitarized Zone and more than 11 miles to the south below Da Nang.

South Vietnamese troops on a sweep just south of the DMZ caught up with a North Vietnamese force in one area where the B52s hit.

Backed by artillery and fighter-bomber strikes, the South Vietnamese infantrymen reported 45 North Vietnamese soldiers killed and 17 weapons captured. They said four government troops were killed and 16 wounded.

Informed sources said North Vietntmese troops were moving across the DMZ and through Laos to take up positions in the rolling hills.

Cambodian Foreign Minister Yem Sambaur arrived in Saigon today for a three-day visit and began separate talks with President Nguyen Van Thieu and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky.

Before leaving Phnom Penh, Sambaur told reporters he was going to ask that American and South Vietnamese troops remain in Cambodia beyond President Nixon's June 30 pullout date.

A government spokesman said Thieu and Sambaur discussed the situation in Cambodia, the status of Vietnamese residents there and "the foundation for future relations between the two governments and the two peoples".

On his arrival, Sambaur said he planned to discuss the restoration of diplomatic relations between the two countries.

Critics Of SST Plane Rapped By U.S. Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — In unusually strong terms for a government agency, the Department of Transportation has lashed out at critics of its program to develop a supersonic transport plane—the SST.

Pointing to claims the SST will cause air pollution, result in destructive sonic booms and is too costly, the department said in a six-page statement:

"Many of these arguments are specious. None has any substantial basis in fact."

The Transportation Department's defense of the 1,700-mile-an-hour SST came as one leading critic, Sen. William Proxmire, told the Senate in a prepared speech today the plane "will probably never be able to fly in the United States."

The Wisconsin Democrat said recent testimony by Russell Train, chairman of the President's Council on Environmental Quality, indicated "the SST will not be capable of operating within the noise limits already announced by the FAA for subsonic aircraft."

Citing Dr. Richard Carwin, a former presidential science adviser, Proxmire said noise from the SST "will be equivalent to the sound of 50 subsonic jets taking off simultaneously."

"It is highly improbable that this kind of environmental monster will ever be permitted to use our airports," Proxmire said.

Court Rules Against Street Assemblage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today the authority of urban officials to prohibit groups of people from assembling on city streets in times of "emergency."

The court dismissed an appeal by three Philadelphians arrested for participating in peaceful demonstrations following the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., in April 1968.

Mayor James H. J. Tate had issued an emergency proclamation prohibiting groups of 12 or more from gathering on public sidewalks or in any outdoor place except for transportation, recreation or to enter and leave buildings.

More than 100 people were arrested in three assemblies. They were a tree planting in a park to honor King, a gathering at the home of Rep. William Barrett, D-Pa., to press for passage of civil rights legislation, and a protest of the proclamation itself at the University of Pennsylvania campus.

The three appellants, Janet Stotland, a law student, Mrs. Emily Achtenberg, of Cambridge, Mass., and Peter Countryman, a 27-year-old carpenter, contended the First Amendment's guarantee of public assembly prohibits the prosecution of citizens for peaceably massing on public streets.

They said conditions in Philadelphia did not warrant the prohibition, that it gave the mayor arbitrary power and that the ban was not specific enough to be constitutional.

The court majority made no comment other than to note that the appeal was being dismissed for want of a substantial federal question.

However, Justice William O. Douglas issued a dissent in which he said that the questions presented "are so novel and undecided" that he thought the court should hear the case.

He said Philadelphia's ordinance and the mayor's proclamation raise serious questions under the First Amendment.

Politicians On Marchers' List

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy says a five-day, 120-mile protest march across Georgia was the beginning of a drive to remove from political office "wrinkled old souls in positions of high trust"—including President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

"What we need is some young 'soul power' to drive them out of office, for we are tired of old folks running the country," Abernathy told a rally in Atlanta which climaxed the protest march Saturday.

"Today, we are marching against repression, and tomorrow we are going to be registering to vote against repression, and the day after we will be casting our votes to sweep out of office the racist politicians and political hustlers who have created the present situation," he said.

In his speech to about 10,000 who attended the rally at Morehouse College, Abernathy, president of the Southern Christiah Leadership Conference, listed 10 officeholders he said are the organization's "Ten Most Unwanted Politicians."

Abernathy named Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., as foremost on the list. Second was Rep. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C.

Stennis is chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee. Rivers is chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

The late president's widow had told a friend she would decline to take the degree because four students at the all-girl school had gone to the platform clad in black shrouds topped with paper skulls and bearing the words Cambodia, Kent State and Jackson State.

After 18 Long Years

Pay Television Fight Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first bid for a pay television system was filed with the Federal Communications Commission in 1952 but 18 years later the fight still rages.

It's headed for the House floor now but there is no fixed date for the confrontation assured by a slashing minority report on a bill approved by the House Commerce Committee.

Mischievous Legislation

"This is mischievous legislation obtained by powerful interest groups—the broadcasters and theater owners," the nine minority panel members claim. They said as now written the bill "would kill this new industry aborning."

However, the committee's majority argued the proposed regulations "are the most effective means for ensuring that the programming now offered on conventional television will remain available to the viewing public without charge."

Approved In 1968

The FCC approved a pay-TV plan in December 1968. It was upheld by the U.S. Court of Appeals. The Supreme Court declined to review it.

But the House committee, which has been calling for delays in putting the system into effect, came up with a series of more stringent regulations that could throw up a big roadblock.

Included in the proposal are a complete ban on commercial advertising, a sharp reduction in the amount of feature films and sports—considered the backbone of pay TV—that could be shown and a stretch-out on the time ban for showing certain sports programs.

Drafted By Dingell

The new package was drafted by Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., a long-time congressional opponent of pay television.

Dingell originally had introduced a bill that would have prohibited the FCC from authorizing anyone to engage in pay TV broadcasting. A Commerce subcommittee rejected it and approved a resolution suggesting the FCC modify its rules on sports programs.

When that subcommittee proposal came before the full committee, however, it was rejected in turn. Dingell's new package then was rammed through, opponents claim, without any actual hearings and in the absence of subcommittee Chairman Rep. Torbert H. Macdonald, D-Mass.

Major Changes Noted

Here are some major changes proposed by the committee:

—The FCC would allow a pay-TV station to show commercial advertising in its conventional programming. The Dingell proposal would ban it entirely, both in the station's pay and conventional operations.

—The FCC would provide that not more than 90 per cent of the pay-TV operation could be in a combination of feature films and sporting events. Dingell's bill would make it 45 per cent of the over-all operation and not more than 60 per cent in prime time hours, from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Five-Year Ban

—The bill would extend from two to five years the ban against pay on showing sports programs which have been regularly carried live on conventional television in a community.

—It would carry over an FCC ban against showing any series program with an interconnected plot and add a ban against carrying non-dramatic programs shown in a community on conventional TV for five years.

—It would prohibit feature films from being shown on pay television more than one year after first general release. The FCC had proposed this be set at two years.

Subjected To Pressures

"The commission (FCC) is subjected to intense but covert pressures when the financial stakes are high," the committee's majority report said. "Therefore, it was felt that the guidelines for STV and particularly the safeguards preventing the siphoning of conventional television programming should have the force of law."

But the 9-member minority concluded that the probabilities of such siphoning are quite remote.

Israeli Forces Invade Lebanon; Battle On

Attack Seen As Reprisal For Bus Deaths

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — An Israeli armored force, backed by an aerial and artillery barrage, launched an attack today across the southern Lebanese frontier near the town of Bint Jbeil, a Lebanese military spokesman reported.

Lebanese tanks engaged the Israeli forces north of the village of Yaroun, just inside the frontier, and clashes were continuing, said a communique.

18 Miles From Sea

Bint Jbeil is in the central sector of the frontier, about 18 miles from the Mediterranean. Together with three nearby villages, it was blasted by Israeli artillery last Friday as a reprisal for the Arab guerrilla ambush of an Israeli school bus which killed eight children and four adults.

Twenty Lebanese were killed and 40 wounded in Friday's bombardment and several thousand civilians fled the area.

The Lebanese communique reported today's attack began at 12:45 p.m., and termed it a "new aggression against Lebanon."

News Broadcast

Radio programs were interrupted to broadcast news of the Israeli assault.

It is the second ground attack on southern Lebanon within two weeks. Israeli tanks stabbed into the southeastern corner of Lebanon May 12 in a bid to smash a network of guerrilla bases in the area. They remained 36 hours before pulling back over the border.

Today's reprisal has been widely predicted following the bus ambush.

No Official Comment

In Tel Aviv, an Israeli military spokesman said he had no immediate official statement to make on Lebanon's announcement that its territory was attacked by an Israeli armored force.

Israeli newspapers are demanding that the army carve out a "security belt" in southern Lebanon and keep Arab guerrillas away from Israeli settlements.

The idea of a security belt has been mentioned by military men here since the Lebanese-Israeli border started heating up more than a year ago.

Villagers Flee Area

Lebanese villagers are reported fleeing this area in fear of Israeli reprisals and the newspaper Maariv said that if the Arab civilians abandoned the area entirely the army would be able to fight the guerrillas freely and keep them away from Israeli settlements.

The newspapers compared this posibility to the zone Israel created on Jordan's side of the Jordan River. An area several miles deep there has become a deserted no-man's land as a result of Israeli reprisals for guerrilla attacks.

Budget Deficit Could Cut Troop Strength

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top Defense officials say deeper cuts in total U.S. troop strength will be necessary because of a predicted budget deficit and an expected move by Congress to slash Pentagon spending.

There are some indications the Joint Chiefs of Staff have sought to use the allied attacks into Cambodia as a lever to persuade Congress to increase military appropriations.

Delusion Hinted

However, top civilian pentagon authorities say the chiefs are deluding themselves—Congress will order reductions, rather than increases, in President Nixon's $71.8 billion Defense budget for the bookkeeping year starting July 1.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has called this budget "rock bottom, bare bones" but he now knows Congress almost certainly will not agree.

Two events occurred last week which point toward rising money troubles for the Defense Department.

Surplus Disappears

One was the Nixon administration's disclosure that it anticipates a $1.3 billion deficit for the 1971 fiscal year instead of an earlier forecast surplus.

The other was an indication by Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the key House Appropriations Committee, that the administration's Defense budget, submitted in February, will be slashed at least $1 billion.

That budget calls for bringing the armed services roll down to about 1.9 million, a cut of more than 252,000 men, and a reduction of 57,000 civilian workers for a new total of about 1.1 million nonmilitary defense workers.

More Cuts Possible

At their peaks for the Vietnam war period last June, there were about 3.5 million men in the military and nearly 1.3 million civilians.

But in light of recent developments, top Defense officials make it plain an even heavier military manpower reduction, and probably a civilian worker cutback, lie ahead.

Authorities also predict additional base closings and reductions on top of the 678 facilities already affected by Pentagon economy moves in the last nine months.

Suspect Arson

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP (AP) — Damage was estimated at $200,000 today from a predawn fire which swept the Eagle Elementary School in the Pontiac suburb of West Bloomfield Township. Fire Chief Boris Nicoloff said he had no doubt the blaze was set deliberately, adding there was evidence that school desks were rifled and equipment vandalized.

Hijacked Jet Lands In Cuba

MIAMI (AP) — A Delta Air Lines jet with 96 passengers and a crew of six, hijacked in flight from Atlanta to Miami, landed in Havana at 8:23 a.m. EDT today.

On the runways of Jose Marti Airport, the U.S. airliner joined a Mexican plane with 79 persons aboard diverted by an unknown number of hijackers en route from the resort island of Cozumel to the Yucatan capital of Merida.

The pilot of the Delta flight radioed the Atlanta tower shortly after takeoff from there at 6:45 a.m. that the plane had been commandeered and was on its way to Cuba. The flight originated in Chicago and had made a stop at Louisville.

Seventy-two passengers and seven crewmen were aboard the other aircraft owned by the airline Mexicana de Aviacion. It was not known whether any foreigners were on the flight.

Decade Against Disease Advocated By Vice President

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Nations of the world should cooperate this decade "to make life and health one birthright of all children," Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said Sunday.

In a speech to the 10th International Cancer Congress, Agnew proposed that the next ten years be the Decade Against Disease.

"By rising above narrow self-interest," Agnew said, "let us join together in a determined venture to make life and health one birthright of all children born from this day on regardless of nationality, race or religious beliefs."

Alaskans Fear Nerve Gas Plan

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — Reports that a naval station near this fishing port of 2,600 residents may become the repository of 13,000 tons of nerve gas met with a mixed reaction today.

Sen. Mike Garvel, D-Alaska, described the reported plan as "dangerous and totally unacceptable to the people of Alaska," and Gov. Keith Miller pledged that he would try to block it.

Mayor Pete Resoff said: "It's like getting a Christmas present of a bag of snakes." But he added that it might be a boon to the community's despressed economy—"We've heard it might mean anywhere from 4 to 14 million dollars with 400 to 600 new families."

The Defense Department announced Sunday that plans to move the nerve gas from Okinawa to the Umatilla Ammunition Depot near Hermiston, Ore., had been canceled by President Nixon and that the Pentagon was studying alternate storage locations. A department spokesman said Kodiak Naval Station was one of several possible sites being considered.

The naval station occupies 30,000 acres seven miles from the town of Kodiak, which was severely damaged by the 1964 Alaskan earthquake.

Debt Ceiling Hike Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, citing lower-than-expected tax collections, asked Congress today to raise the ceiling on government borrowing by $18 billion.

This would increase the debt ceiling from the present $377 billion to $395 billion. Without congressional action, the ceiling would automatically drop July 1 to $365 billion.

Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy, presenting the request to the House Ways and Means Committee, attributed the expected deficits in the budget for this year and the next largely to smaller revenues than had been expected.

"Apart from the effect of proposed legislation, revenues have been reduced by $3 billion in the current year and $1.1 billion in fiscal 1971, in both cases largely reflecting lower estimates of corporate profit tax receipts," Kennedy said.

"This slippage, in part at least, appears to reflect a lower than anticipated level of corporate profit during the first part of this calendar year. It does not reflect any relaxation of our continuing efforts to control inflation."

Two Negaunee Women Die In U.S. 41 Crash

ISHPEMING — Two Negaunee women were among the 13 state highway fatalities over the weekend.

Mrs. Helen Anderson, 48, and Mrs. Hattie Rytkonen, 53, both of Negaunee, were killed in the three-car crash on U.S. 41 west of Ishpeming Saturday night.

Mrs. Anderson was riding in a car driven by Elmer A. Moilanen, 25, of Sheboygan, Wis., while Mrs. Rytonen was a passenger in an auto driven by Mrs. Bertha Swanson, 46, of Ishpeming, Michigan State Police said.

Mrs. Swanson and Moilanen were taken to Bell Memorial Hospital in Ishpeming, as were LeRoy LaForest, 42, and Theresa Reiten, both of Negaunee and Joann Liquia, 36, of Ishpeming.

State Police said that after the Moilanen and Swanson cars collided, the Swanson vehicle was hit from behind by a car driven by Everett Rysso, 19, also of Ishpeming. Rysso was not injured, State Police said.

Two Michigan National Guardsmen were also among the weekend highway victims. They were Thomas Crawford, 23, of Saginaw and Robert Walsh, 21, of Owosso. The guardsmen were killed when their semi-trailer jackknifed at an intersection in Saginaw.

Legion Slates U.P. Confab

Patriotism backed up by the motto "For God and Country" has been selected as the convention theme for the 50th Annual Upper Peninsula American Legion Convention at Marquette June 18-21 according to Philip L. White, Chairman.

White said that the theme and motto had been selected with the thought in mind of the ever-increasing attacks upon our government and society. He indicated that he felt that the 50th Annual Convention of the American Legion in the Upper Peninsula was a particularly appropriate time and place to sound the rebuttal, loud and clear, "to all who would attempt to destroy our country."

White contacted all Legion post commanders in the Upper Peninsula and urged them to encourage their members to attend the convention in support of the theme and motto. He said that the support of all local service and fraternal organizations in the Marquette area had been requested and that he has asked Marquette's mayor to declare the week of June 15, 1970, Patriotism Week in Marquette.

Dignitaries scheduled to attend the convention include: Dr. Theodore C. Marrs, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense; Brigadier General Leonard C. Ward, Deputy Director of the National Guard Bureau; J. Milton Patrick, National Commander of the American Legion, Kent Lundgren, National Vice Commander, and F. Gerrit Veldman, State Commander.

Clothing Workers Won't Back GOP Conflict Policies

NEW YORK (AP) — Breaking ranks with the AFL-CIO leadership, the head of one of the nation's largest labor unions has condemned the Nixon administration's policies in Vietnam and Cambodia, the New York Times reported today.

The newspaper said that Jacob S. Potofsky, president of the 417,000-member Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America declared: "Congress must exercise its constitutional responsibility of not leaving the war-making decisions to the President alone."

In an interview with the Times held in Atlantic City, where the union opens its biennial convention today, Potofsky reportedly praised the efforts of U.S. senators seeking to cut off funds for further military operations in Cambodia.

Further criticism of the administration is contained in the prepared text of his keynote speech set for today.

World Needs Strong Leaders, McGoff Says

John P. McGoff, president of Panax Corp., saying that the affluence of society is one of its greatest handicaps, told graduates of Bay de Noc Community College Sunday that the world needs "strong people" who are concerned and aware and "dedicated to making the world a better place in which to live."

McGoff spoke at the sixth graduation exercises of the college at the William W. Oliver auditorium.

McGoff said he cherishes the right to dissent, but is dismayed at the direction this generation seems to be taking.

"We are surprised at the sometimes seeming blind faith the youth have in the small minority whose only attraction — at this point, at least — is noise and destruction," he said. "We feel that all of you have more to offer to the world — and to yourselves — than that.

"Supreme Irony"

"In general terms, this generation has been exposed to more of the good life — if we measure worth in dollars and material things — than any other," McGoff said. "There has been more opportunity for learning, a plumbing of new thresholds of knowledge. To the older generation, this is a supreme irony: That the best equipped and most knowledgeable generation in history is so reluctant to improve upon history and is so unwilling to forget the standards forged and proven through the ages.

"It is a fearful place — this world — and it needs strong people, not the soapbox orator or the disenchanted whose only saleable knowledge is how to make a bomb out of black powder and a piece of drain pipe. The world needs strong indiviuals of the highest moral standards, people who will work not only to pay off the mortgage on the swimming pool, but those who are concerned and aware and dedicated to making the world better place in which to live.

"The world needs men and women who will pull off their socks and work together for the good — who will resurrect and revitalize our failing instutitions — people more concerned with reality than with the symbol.

"My generation hopes you're up to it — the world as we know demands it — and I wish you well," McGoff said.

Question Needs Answer

The president of Panax told the graduates that the question that begs for an answer in this "era of violence and distrust" is "Where did we lose our pride and our dignity which, as a nation, was given to us as our birthright.

"The evidence is all around us," he said. "It is popular to preach civil disobedience — but without paying the consequences.

"We are the despoilers of our own lives and the destroyers of our own promise," he said. "But even more disastrous is the self-delusions of our minds and souls. The symbol replaces reality and the violent striking out — the philosophy of whim— is assaulting reason across the land," he said.

"Let me remind you again, it starts with the family," McGoff said. "I must remind the parents in this audience that the structure of the family, unfortunately, is near collapse — the basic unit of our lives is falling apart. And so it is little wonder that this tragic disarray of our foundation is shaking and crumbling the institutions we created for perpetuation.

Dissent Follows

McGoff said parents, the children of the Great Depression and survivors of a global war, wanted more for their children than they had.

"The very affluence created by our brain power and the vast improvements in our technology became one of our greatest handicaps," he said.

"There followed dissent. Children followed their own drummer, freed from family influences, marching in their ridiculous parades of today. While parents, preoccupied with getting and spending and laying waste their powers for goods were brought up short. They wonder why. They gave to their children the things that money — and credit — could buy, but the moral and spiritual leadership of the family had departed.

"This pattern of life in these United States is continuing. It's deterioration must be stopped, and not by wars or by seizing a building or burning down a library."

Military Critic Gets Transfer

DETROIT (AP) — An Army medical technician who criticized what he called sloppy and illegal examinations at a Detroit induction center is being transferred, perhaps to Vietnam, because of his statements published in a Detroit underground newspaper.

Maj. Clyde Edwards, commanding officer of the Ft. Wayne Armed Forces Examination and Entrance Station, admitted Friday that criticisms made by Sepc. 4 Gerald Brown, 20, of Boulder, Colo., were "the factor" in his transfer.

"His criticisms caused a tremendous morale problem among the other men," Edwards said

Edwards had denied the connection Thursday.

Picket Protest

More than 40 civilian pickets demonstrated Friday at the entrance to the fort to protest Brown's transfer and to show support for his criticisms of the Fort Wayne physicals.

Faced with the possibility he will be shipped overseas from his new post at Fort Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis, Brown said, "I'll have to go. I'm not trying to disobey the law, just get the Army to obey its own laws."

"I'm being transferred for exercising my right of free speech," he added.

In the Fifth Estate Article, Brown charged that men taking physicals are not getting a fair examination because medical procedures are omitted. Specifically, Brown charged that some blood samples are not tested at all, that potential draftees are intimidated by examining physicians, urinalyses are inadequate, that a man with a glass eye passed the eye test, and the men are not adequately examined for heart and lung disorders.

Lodged Complaint

Brown said he had complained to base officers before publishing the article, but no action was taken.

Edwards declined to comment on the substance of Brown's charges.

Two days after Brown's allegation appeared in print, he was removed from the examining station and given a clerk's job, he said. He was given his transfer this week.

Edwards confirmed that officials from Fifth Army Headquarters in Chicago were at Fort Wayne this week and had investigated Brown's case. But he added, "the purpose of the visit was not Brown, but a normal staff inspection."

Brown said however, that one of the Chicago inspectors told him otherwise.

Knew Operation

One of Brown's attorneys, Dennis James, said Brown was thoroughly familiar with each of the 14 examining stations at Fort Wayne.

"He didn't make these changes off - handedly," James said. "Brown had been at the induction center for 19 months and knew the operation well before alleging irregularities. His charges are specific and Brown said he was an honors graduate in his class in Army school.

Mrs. Douvillle Dies Saturday

She was born in Quebec, Canada, July 5, 1882 and had resided in Nahma from 1910 to 1950 when she moved to L'Anse. Mrs. Douville was a member of the Sacred Heart Church of L'Anse. She was married to Edward J. Douville Jan. 12, 1902 in Schaffer and he died in July of 1950.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Norman McKindles of L'Anse, Mrs. Theodore Webber and Mrs. Volney Hartmann of Waukegon, Ill. and Mrs. Edwin Dupies of Gray's Lake, Ill.; three sons, Lawrence of L'Anse, Francis of Escanaba and Donald of Gaylord; two stepchildren, Mrs. Vincent Doyle of Orland, Calif. and Clayton (Dick) Douville of Citrus Heights, Calif., 26 grandchildren and 74 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday at Sacred Heart Church with the Rev. Thomas Andary officiating. Burial will be in Riverside Cemetery, Peshtigo, Wis.

Accident Injures Pedestrian Sunday

A pedestrian, William C. Nixon, 20, of Rte. 1, Florence, Wis., was injured in an automobile - motorcycle accident Sunday night at 8:45 on County Road 426, one-tenth of a mile south of County Road 420, according to a report given by State Police.

Nixon was assisting David Lark, 19, of Rte. 1, Gladstone, in trying to start Lark's motorcycle on the roadway when a car, driven by William Bisdee, 48, of 916 5th Ave. S., came around the corner. Bisdee was unable to stop his car in time and hit the motorcycle, injuring Nixon.

Nixon was taken to St. Francis Hospital, where he was treated and released. Lark was issued a ticket for parking in the roadway.

B&E's Reported To State Police

State Police are now investigating four breaking and enterings, all of which were reported over the weekend.

Sometime last week, a camp owned by Jack Miller Sr. of Rapid River was broken into and partial bottles of creme de menthe and gin were taken. The theft was reported Saturday and officers said that entry was made by breaking a pane of glass in a window and then opening the window.

Candy bars, gum and some change was reported stolen from the concession stand of the Ken-Mar Drive-In sometime after 1 a.m. Saturday. Officers said that entry was gained by kicking in the side door of the stand.

Potvin's Tavern of Schaffer was broken into sometime Saturday night or early Sunday morning. According to investigating officers, entry was made by breaking a padlock off a coal chute door and crawling through the chute. Nothing was reported missing.

Nothing was taken from a camp owned by John Larson of Rock, but two mattresses and three stuffed chairs were cut, two windows were broken and furniture was upended. After receiving the report Sunday, officers went to investigate and found that entry was made by breaking a window in the door and reaching through to unlock the door.

Breast Cancer Deaths Reduced

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A screening program using a combination of methods helped reduce the rate of death from breast cancer in a group of women studied, a New York research team reported today.

The project involved 62,000 women in the Health Insurance Plan of Greater New York. Half were offered the screening, and the other half received no special attention.

Preliminary findings on the study, which began in 1963, were reported today at the 10th International Cancer Congress by Sam Shapiro, a vice president of the health plan.

Among the women not offered the screening, there have been 52 deaths from breast cancer, he said. Deaths from breast cancer among women offered the screening now total 31, he said, even though the program was hampered because one-third of the women who were offered screening refused it.

Screening included a clincal examination of the breast by a physician and manography, a technique that uses low-voltage X rays to examine soft tissues in the breast.

The women studied were aged 40 to 64, the high frequency period for breast cancer, now the leading cause of death from cancer among women. Federal census figures show that among every 100,000 women, 20 to 25 die from breast cancer a year.

After an initial screening, the women studied received three additional examinations at annual intervals.

Shapiro said 127 breast cancers were detected as the result of the screening. The value of the combination technique was demonstrated, he said, by a determination that 42 of the cancers would have been missed without mamography and 56 would have been missed without the clinical examination.

Of the 127 cancers detected, 70 per cent had not spread, which greatly improved the women's chances for survival after surgery.

Ninety per cent of the breast cancers in women generally are discovered by the women themselves because a lump appears, and by this time the cancer has spread, Dr. Philip Strax, a coauthor of the report noted.

Strax, chief of the health plan's radiology department at La Guardia Hospital in New York, was joined in the study by Dr. Louis Venet, attending surgeon at Beth Israel Medical Center.

Road Safety

The Michigan Auto Club has completed a sobering examination of the state's fatal highway accidents in 1969.

Michigan set a new highway death record last year with 2,481 persons losing their lives on our roads and streets, a 3.6 per cent increase over 1968.

The Auto Club has conducted 10 previous studies on Michigan traffic accidents and deaths since 1966 and the following three factors always show up as underlying causes:

1, The drinking driver who is involved in at least 50 to 65 per cent of all fatal accidents.

2, The problem driver who makes up 5 per cent of the driving population yet is involved in up to 30 per cent of the fatal accidents.

3, The young driver who makes up 21 per cent of the driving population yet is involved in 37 per cent of the fatal accidents.

The Auto Club, whose "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" slogan has become a safety byword in the state, offers some practical solutions to the problems, including the lowering of all speed limits on unposted roads to 50 miles per hour day and night. But without adequate police manpower to patrol these highways and arrest the speeding driver, such a proposal is unrealistic.

The Auto Club points out that the physical condition of Michigan's highways and country roads also can be blamed as a major cause of traffic injuries and deaths. Currently, 45 per cent of the 51,676 miles of Michigan roads and streets are considered inadeqaute for current traffic needs, the Auto Club said. This includes 38,000 miles of country roads where 70 per cent of the state's fatal accidents now happen. When just state trunklines are considered, 82 per cent have defects ranging from narrow pavement to substandard traffic controls.

The areas where real progress can be made in reducing the number of traffic deaths and injuries without added financing, as recommended by the Auto Club:

1, Support a legislative program to lower the blood-alcohol level to prove a person legally drunk from .15 to .10.

2, Remove the problem driver from the road.

3, Modify restrictions on young drivers.

The Auto Club suggests legislation which would make mandatory blood-alcohol tests on victims of all fatal accidents and on all drivers who survive fatal accidents and would provide for stiffer penalties for persons convicted of drunk driving.

The Auto Club also suggests a six-point program to remove approximately 100,000 problem drivers from the highways, including mandatory suspension of license for 12 points in two years, three moving violations in one year and three moving accidents in one year.

The club also recommends a review of the record of any driver who accumulates 30 points in five years if he has not already had a suspension in that period. Other suggestions include increased penalties for repeats of violations, suspension or revocation of license after a driver has been called in for three re-examinations in nine years, increase in length of suspensions up to a year (now 30 to 90 days) and mandatory jail sentence for driving with a suspended or revoked license.

A five-step program suggested to reduce the number of traffic accidents in which the under-20 drivers are involved includes:

1, Require parent or guardian to accompany the new 16 or 17 year old driver behind the wheel for the first 90 days after receiving his first license.

2, Require parent or guardian to accompany the new under-18 driver at night for a year.

3, Prohibit all persons under age 18 from operating a motorized cycle after dark.

4, Require that parents be notified in writing by police when a ticket is given to anyone under 21 living in a parent's home.

5, Require any new driver, regardless of age, to take a state approved driver education course before getting an original license.

The proposals are strong and certainly some of them would be "inconvenient" to many persons, but death and injury is even more "inconvenient" and if Michigan highways can be made safer then perhaps it's time stronger measures are considered.

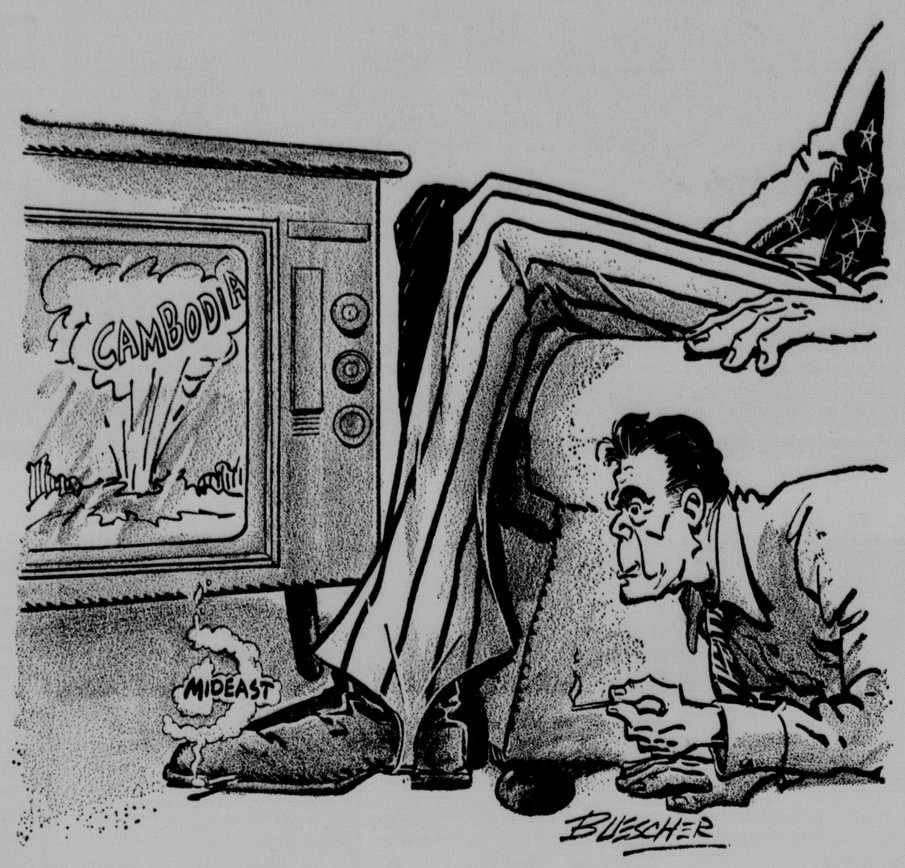
THE JOKER?



Slow-Motion Tactics Are Killing Pay-TV

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The proponents of pay-TV must be chewing their nails down to the half moons these days.

After fighting for 20 years for the right to put such things as Broadway plays, good music, first-run movies, and sports events on the air for a subscription fee, they finally managed to get their case before the U.S. Supreme Court. The result was a go-ahead signal from the court to the Federal Communications Commission, under certain relatively bearable restrictions designed to protect the interests of the existing commercial TV stations.

But if the pay-TV people thought they were finally out of the woods, they had another "think" coming.

What happened is that Rep. John Dingell of Michigan, a Democrat, pulled a fast one on some of his colleagues on the House of Representatives Communications subcommittee.

Congressman Dingell had been defeated in his effort to ban pay-TV outright. But, in a move that was hardly cricket, he brought up a substitute bill before the full House Commerce Committee when eight of its 36 members, including Massachusetts Democrat Torbert Macdonald, the Communications subcommittee chairman, were absent. Fifteen votes, representing fewer than half of the 36-man committee, put the bill over for Representative Dingell and sent the legislation to the floor of the House.

★ ★ ★

The Dingell bill is completely punitive. It would impose so many restrictions on pay-TV that, despite the Supreme Court go-ahead, nobody could afford to risk any capital on pay-TV operations.

The Dingell restrictions would forbid a pay-TV station to devote more than 60 per cent of its prime time — 7 to 11 in the evening — to feature films and sports combined. This would effectively ban long movies such as "Funny Girl" or the "Green Berets."

The Dingell list of verbotens would also keep pay-TV stations from using advertising commercials during the hours when they weren't broadcasting films, plays, and prizefights for a fee. This would compel subscribers to subsidize non-subscription programming, making the whole business prohibitively expensive.

Since the Dingell Bill is designed to subvert the Supreme Court by indirection, it will hardly pass both the House and the Senate. However, it very effectively forestalls immediate action by enterprisers, investors, artists and consumers designed to get pay-TV off the ground. The Dingell Bill could be with us for months, or even years, before both the House and the Senate agree to dispose of it one way or another.

★ ★ ★

What makes it thoroughly unfair is the Federal Communications Commission's recent decision to permit a practically unlimited extension of cable television, or CATV, systems.

In a four-to-three vote, the FCC accepted Chairman Dean Burch's plan for letting cable television proprietors use master antennae to pick up distant signals for amplification and transmission by coaxial cable to a central point from which they could be distributed by wire to local households far from the originating area. The only restraining proviso of note is the one that would ask the CATV proprietor to substitute local advertising for the usual "national" commercial breaks.

Just why one form of pay-TV should be favored over another is a mystery that eludes me.

Cable TV is, as I understand it, financed in part by installation and program service charges. These charges are comparable to the subscription fees that would be set for non-cable, pay-as-you-see television. The Dingell Bill, which would automatically favor cable TV, would, in effect, constitute a breach of the "equal rights" guarantees of the Federal Constitution.

★ ★ ★

However, there is an even deeper constitutional question involved.

The First Amendment guarantees freedom of speech. The Federal Communications Commission was originally set up to police the airwaves, assigning wave lengths on a basis that would keep the air from becoming a complete chaos from jamming.

Yet the FCC has assumed that it has had the power to specify the ways in which TV broadcasts should be financed. Until very recently it favored financing by commercial advertisers.

Hasn't this been a glaring denial of free speech to those who want to finance TV by other means? Some lawyers may say no, but the language of the First Amendment says "yes" to anyone with a third-grade education.

SHARE WORK

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) —Members of the (Presbyterian) Church of Scotland and the Episcopal Church in Scotland have agreed to share in the work of their churches by becoming associate members of each other's church committees. The decision was reached after a meeting of panels appointed to seek a way forward to unity. The plan is that the two Churches would work together at the local level and at the planning stage before decisions are taken.

Has Long-Term Inflation Become Inevitable In U.S.?

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Has long-term inflation become inevitable? Few people in government or industry dare answer affirmatively, for fear that the opinion might provoke the fact, but many of them are acting on that assumption.

Passage by the House of Representatives of an automatic escalator for Social Security benefits, tied to increases in the cost of living, is recognition of this belief. And there are numerous other examples.

Negotiated wage increases are being made on the assumption that the cost of living will continue to rise. Five per cent annual increases, once considered good, are now scoffed at as amounting to nothing when inflation is deducted.

You don't have to search hard either to find instances of industry raising prices not because the product has been improved or because demand is strong, but simply because the company expects its own future costs to be higher.

Reluctnt Converts

Perhaps the most reluctant but influential converts to the idea are the big life insurance companies. For years they sold the concept of the guaranteed fixed-dollar return, which assumed stability in dollar values.

In fact, belief in fixed returns was almost a religion with them, and some salesmen spread the notion that only a sinner would risk the future of his family by investing in anything that didn't assure a precise return.

Payoff Was There

That religion probably was a savoir to some families. During the Great Depression of the 1930s especially, a guaranteed return was indeed something of value, because the dollar was stabilized or rising in value—although there weren't many of them around.

Investments in equities, such as stocks, fell into the cellar, but insurance policies paid off at first-floor levels during the depression. The payoff may not have been big, but it was there.

It wasn't until the 1960s that insurers began changing their mind. Inflation caught hold. And so did mutual funds. With the value of the dollar shrinking, sophisticated investors didn't want to be paid off in 1980 with 1960 dollars. They wanted something that would float with the tide.

Mutual funds offered this opportunity, and they grew swiftly into a $50-billion industry. Moreover, they were a direct competitor of insurers for the savings of ordinary Americans.

Now life insurers are deeply involved with mutual funds, either through acquiring existing funds or beginning their own from scratch.

The reason why is obvious: Inflation was making those guaranteed, fixed-dollar returns look paltry beside the projected returns of the mutual funds.

Insurance companies have, in effect, acknowledged their acceptance of an inflated future in their lending practices also. No longer dedicated to a fixed dollar, they now seek flexible returns on their lendings.

SUPPORT PRESIDENT

President Nixon's Cambodian policy is a means of saving the lives of American fighting men and anything we do in Cambodia that results in saving American lives should have the full backing of the American people.

Amendments in Congress such as the Cooper-Church Amendment which would block funds to support American troops in Southeast Asia amount to the abandonment of our forces — our sons and daughters — who are fighting a cruel and inhuman enemy who might otherwise be at our very doorsteps. Congress put our men there in full support of the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution.

In the past Congress has debated declarations of war but this is the first time the Senate has debated a "declaration of surrender."

The destruction of tons and tons of equipment and other supplies stored by the Communists in Cambodia for use against our men in Vietnam proves that President Nixon made the right decision in ordering the Cambodian incursion.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
3 NT!	6 ♣!	6 ♦!	Dble
Pass	6 ♠

Opening lead—eight of diamonds.

Bad bidding makes good drama, and every bad bidder you know will happily tell you that at the drop of a hat. For a spectacular example, consider this hand played in the Norwegian Summer Finals in 1963.

To begin with, East opened with three notrump! This was the so-called gambling three notrump, announcing a long solid minor suit with very little on the side but a hope and a prayer.

South had a good hand, all right, but he scarcely had the values for his jump to six clubs. He should have doubled first and perhaps taken a giant step later on.

There was no good reason for it, but at this point West elected to display his perspicacity by bidding six diamonds. (It was easy for him to recognize that East's long suit was diamonds.)

North doubled, of course, but South, still on the warpath, refused to accept the double and bid six spades.

West led a diamond which declarer ruffed. South appeared to have only one hope at this point—to find the trumps divided 3-3 or West with four trumps and no more diamonds. Accordingly, he cashed the ace of spades and continued with a low spade to the king.

When East showed out, leaving West with three trumps to one each for dummy and declarer, South's cause appeared hopeless. But declarer carried on with true Viking courage and finally wound up making the contract.

He cashed four rounds of clubs and the A-Q-K of hearts, then ruffed dummy's seven of diamonds with the queen. West, with only three cards left, was obliged to underruff. On top of that, he found himself totally helpless when declarer then led the seven of clubs to make dummy's ten of spades his twelfth trick.

Office Girl Minis Do 'Maximum' Job

Dear Ann Landers: This is a ridiculous complaint and I know it but a situation exists in our office that is embarrassing to say the least.

A girl I work with has a fantastic wardrobe. She could go for a month and a half without wearing the same dress twice. I'm sure she has a thing about not repeating outfits and in order to show up in a different outfit every day she has taken to wearing her cocktail dresses. Some of these party numbers are backless and slashed to the navel. When she bends down to put the mail in the bottom slots about 20 guys rush over to "help."

Yesterday she wore a sequined mini that looked like a skating costume. I'm sure it glows at night. The office errand runner (age 17) swallowed his chewing gum when he saw her. Several of us girls think she is cheapening the office. Should somebody say something? — Saving It For My Husband

Dear Saving: The office manager is the one who should "say something" but obviously he likes what he sees, and from your description, he sees plenty.

It would do no good to speak to the girl. She knows what she is doing and is enjoying it immensely.

Dear Ann Landers: I can't stop thinking about that little boy who accidentally shot his sister while playing with the father's gun.

Let us pray the child's parents don't make the same mistake my husband's parents made under similar circumstances. He, too, accidentally killed his sister. His grief-stricken mother and father did everything under the sun to lessen the boy's feelings of guilt. They showered him with attention and gifts and catered to his every whim. The results were disastrous. He grew up to be selfish, inconsiderate, wildly egocentric — completely without concern for others.

The death of a child is a tragedy. But the ruination of a beautiful, bright, promising youngster is equally tragic. The best way to recover from a death in the family is to emerge from the valley of grief as rapidly as possible and do something constructive for the living. Sometimes professional guidance is needed.

I hope the parents of the dead child will stop blaming themselves and treat the surviving youngster just as they would have had the tragedy not occurred. The inclination to be too permissive or excessively overprotective can be disastrous. I know because I am living with it. — Wichita Wife

Dear Reader: Thank you for an excellent letter. And now may I add a word? The surviving child sometimes attempts to take advantage of grieving parents. Parents should be alert to such maneuvering and not permit it.

Dear Ann Landers: My wife and I got into a frank discussion with another couple last night. Today my wife isn't speaking to me. This question came up: Would any of us remarry if something should happen to our mates? The others all said they would not remarry. I said I would. My wife claims I don't love her and that I humiliated her in front of our friends. What do you say? — Ceiling Zero

Dear Zero: Widows and widowers who have had happy marriages tend to remarry. It is a compliment rather than an insult to the deceased partner. Your wife should be flattered, not hurt.

Michigan Week observance came to a happy climax on Saturday with the observance of Youth Day, including a parade, pop rock band concert, and the dedication of a special playground for younger children at Ludington Park.

The parade, which was led by Mayors Ronald DeVos of Escanaba and Ray Norton of Gladstone riding in open convertibles, featured Escanaba Area, Gladstone, Holy Name and Rock High School marching bands.

Other "young peoples" organizations represented included the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts and 4-H Clubs. Queens from various events in Delta County rode in open convertibles.

The parade also featured floats, emergency vehicles with sirens howling, the Salvation Army Junior Uke Band, modified and sportsmen cars of the Upper Peninsula Stock Car Racing Association, snowmobiles on wheels, clowns and horses. It moved east on Ludington St. to Ludington Park shortly after noon Saturday.

The winning float in the parade was entered by students of Gladstone High School, who were presented with the Escanaba Daily Press Trophy. The judges of the floats were members of the Senior Citizens Committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce — John Bartella, A. V. Aronson, John A. Lemmer and Carl Wickman.

The dedication of the Optimists Club Tot Lot in Ludington Park was a highlight of the day, with Dr. John LeMire the dedication program chairman for the Optimists.

The play area, safely fenced to keep the young children from wandering off or into the park drive, contains colorful and entertaining assortment of play equipment purchased by the Optimist Club. The completed Tot Lot was opened and presented to the City of Escanaba on Saturday with officials of the Cities of Gladstone, Escanaba, and the Optimist Club participating.

Five bands paticipated in the rock concert at the Junior High School auditorium Saturday afternoon — "The Riot Squad", "The Flood," "The Chokalit Ashkan," "The Porridge" and "Upstairs to the Left." They played through the cooperation and under auspices of the Music Performance Trust Fund of the American Federation of Musicians.

Elsworth Viau was Youth Day chairman of Michigan Week, assisted by Gary LaPlante of Escanaba.

Market Gropes For Low Point

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street kept hoping for a selling climax during the past week but it never materialized.

"The market's groping for some kind of a bottom," said an analyst shortly before the market closed Friday.

In the process of groping for that bottom, the market dived so much that it hammered down the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials some 40.05 points during the week to 662.17, its lowest level since March 1, 1963 when the blue-chip indicator stood at 659.72.

Down 32 Per Cent

The net result of this steep descent was that by week's end the market had lost $250 billion on paper, a 32 per cent drop, since December, 1968.

There appeared to be widespread agreement in the financial community that the explanation for the precipitous descent during the week could be traced in good measure to other factors beside the health of the economy.

Paul Samuelson, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology economist put it this way: "The weakness in the market is not explicable in terms of weakness in the economy. It's a reflection on the fact that our society is coming apart."

Other observers appeared to take a more sunny view. "I don't think the economy or the market is going to hell in a handbasket," said a New York analyst. "Certainly there are problems here and abroad. But it would seem that the market has exaggerated these problems."

Those problems were generally considered to be hostilities in Indochina and the Mideast, domestic social polarization and, to be sure, some weaknesses in the economy. Among these were the continued high rate of inflation and rising unemployment.

Averages Skid

The Associated Press 60-stock average skidded 12.5 points to 233.2, its lowest level since Nov. 19, 1962. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index declined 4.65 points to 72.25. The New York Stock Exchange Index of Some 1,200 common stocks dropped 2.70 to 39.44.

Of the 1,755 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, during the past week, 1523 declined and 154 advanced. New yearly lows exceeded highs 1183 to 5.

Big Board volume rose to 59.68 million shares from 56.74 million shares a week earlier.

Assistant Backs President Nixon Over Evasiveness

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Presidential Assistant H.R. Haldeman replying to critics that President Nixon didn't consult with his advisers before ordering U.S. troops into Cambodia, says Nixon seeks out advice more often than any other recent president.

The current criticism that Nixon often acts in isolation is merely the latest of the liberal news media's attempts to undermine the President's standing, Haldeman says.

"I am completely convinced that President Nixon is the most unisolated president in recent times," Haldeman said Saturday night at the University of California at Los Angeles, where he accepted the Alumnus of the Year award.

Schwab Awarded Bronze Star

Capt. James A. Schwab, whose wife is the former Mary Ann Finley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Robert Finley, 714 5th Ave. S., Escanaba, was awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious achievement in ground operations against hostile forces in Vietnam. The award was presented May 18.

Schwab, who received a doctor of medicine degree from Marquette University in June, 1966, entered active duty Aug. 8, 1967. He is presently assigned to Fitzsimons Army Hospital, Denver, Colo.

Marrier Music Burglarized And Guitar Is Stolen

The Marrier Music Store at 701 Ludington St. was broken into and a guitar valued at $425 is missing, Escanaba police said today.

The breaking and entering was discovered by police making a property check at 12:30 a.m. Sunday. A door was smashed by thieves to gain entrance to the building. An undetermined amount in coins is missing, as well as the guitar.

Police are also investigating the breaking and entering of the Senior Citizens high rise building, reported by the Stevens Construction Co., building contractors. A candy machine was broken open.

Scientists Eye Better Future

NEW YORK (AP) — A cure for cancer and drugs to prevent it. Clean air and clean water. Noise-free trains and planes. A cashless and checkless society.

All of this could be a reality before the end of the century, according to a McGraw-Hill Publications Co., survey.

The survey, compiled from data on all phases of modern life from more than 150 industrial firms and research agencies, shows scientific researchers are confident modern technology can make inroads into most of today's complex problems in 15 years and solve them in our lifetime.

Among the other good news researchers forcee in the future are effective methods of solid waste disposal, chemical control of the aging process, biochemical methods for growing new limbs and organs, undersea farming and mining, and a compact total energy plant for the home.

Symbol Of Justice Next Weatherman Attack Target

NEW YORK (AP) — A statement warning of an "attack on a symbol or institution of American justice" within the next two weeks has purportedly been issued by the Weatherman, the revolutionary youth organization, the New York Times reported today.

The statement also claimed to have identified the third person killed in an explosion in a Greenwich Village townhouse last March as Terry Robbins, a Weatherman who was a radical leader at Kent State University in 1968, the newspaper said.

The Times said the statement was received at its Chicago bureau over the weekend. Radical sources were quoted as saying the document was authentic.

The Weatherman are a faction of the militant Students for a Democratic Society.

The three-page statement was reported by the Times as being a transcript of a tape recording by Bernardine Dohrn, a Weatherman leader who is in hiding, the Times said.

Student Killed On Solo Flight

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Sam Spry, a 19-year-old sophomore at Mesa College here, rented a plane May 13 and headed southeast into the California desert on his first long solo flight. He was found dead Sunday 20 miles from the downed aircraft.

Spry had radioed that he would be 20 minutes late in arriving at El Centro, 100 miles from San Diego. Then, officials said, he apparently ran into heavy fog and was blown southward off course.

Some 260 miles south of the Mexican border in Baja California, his single-engine plane ran out of gas. Spry set it down intact in a desolate area two miles from the coast.

On the plane he left a note reading, "All right and walking to the coast."

Searchers—up to 100 in the air, including his mother, Lori, scoured the brown hills. A few days later they found the plane.

Searchers on the ground found Spry's body on a plateau 20 miles from the downed plane and 10 miles inland. He had been dead two or three days, they estimated.

Market Keeps Up Steady Nosedive

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market nosedived today, sending the Dow Jones industrial average sharply below its seven-year closing low established Friday.

By 11 a.m. the average of 30 blue-chips had tumbled 11.02 points, or 1.66 per cent, to 651.15.

The average, which fell over 40 points last week, closed Friday at 662.17, its lowest level since March 1, 1963.

Declining issues on the New York Stock Exchange led gainers by nearly 2 to 1. Volume was so brisk that the Big Board's tape was running a minute late at one point.

The early slide followed news that the administration had requested Congress raise the ceiling on government borrowing by $18 billion to $395 billion.

State Welfare Budget Tops Lansing Agenda

LANSING (AP) — A $352.9 appropriation for state welfare programs tops a list of more than 100 bills the Michigan House will attempt to pass this week in a marathon round of day-and-night sessions.

House leaders are aiming to clear the calendar of all but Senate bills in 33 hours of floor action. A 17-to-18 hour work week is a more frequent average.

Variety Of Issues

The Senate, meanwhile, also will deal with a variety of issues while its appropriations committee reviews House-passed spending bills.

The Senate completed action late last week on its half of the $1.74 billion budget for fiscal 1970-71, passing and sending some $667 million worth of bills to the House.

The welfare bill, pegged in the House Appropriations Committee at nearly $63.7 million more than this year's support level and more than $19 million above Gov. William G. Milliken's request, is the major piece of budget legislation still facing first - House action.

Salary Hike Eyed

The House still must vote on several others, including a $69-million general government bill with substantial salary increases for various state officials and top aides.

The salary of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley would go from $30,000 to $35,000, that of his deputy, Leon Cohan, from 23,500 to $29,000, under the spending level proposed by Milliken.

Other increases, worked out by a legislative committee to put salaries of noncivil service department heads above earning levels of senior civil service employes, include:

Pay Hike For Governor?

Secretary of state, $30,000 to $32,000; his deputy. $20,000 to $27,500.

The state auditor general, his deputy and administrative assistant, as well as other department officials, including Milliken's own top aides are others proposed for increases.

Similar salary boosts for 14 agency and department heads were approved by the House late last week when it passed a $29 million appropriation bill for the state commerce, labor and licensing and regulation departments.

U.S. Forest Fee Announced

Effective today a new National Forest recreation fee system will be put into operation.

George S. James, regional forester of the U.S. Forest Service, said it replaces the Golden Eagle Passport which had been the annual Federal Recreation Area Entrance Permit since 1965, until the expiration of the program on April 1, 1970.

The new National Forest Recreation Permit also sells for $7, and will be valid until Dec. 31, 1970 at all recreation fee areas administered by the U.S. Forest Service.

Legislation for continuing the Golden Eagle Passport has not yet been approved by the Congress. Accordingly, the Forest Service along with other Federal agencies has initiated separate fee systems.

The $7 annual National Forest Recreation Permit allows the purchaser and all occupants of his noncommercial vehicle to use facilities on any designated National Forest recreation area which requires a $1 daily fee.

There is no limit to the number of places or items or times the permit can be used. It will also provide a $1 credit towards payment for use of campsites where the recreation fee is $2 or more per day.

For those who do not wish to purchase an annual permit, a daily permit is also available. The daily user fee ranges from $1 to $3 depending upon facilities and services available at each area.

All daily permits are valid for overnight use of campsites, until noon of the day following purchase. Children under age 16 and escorted educational tours are exempt from fees for use of camp and picnic sites, and swimming and boat launching areas.

Vargo Appointed To State Crippled Children's Unit

LANSING (AP) — Appointment of John A. Vargo of Marquette to the Michigan Crippled Children's Commission has been announced by Gov. William Milliken.

Vargo is executive director of a health camp in Marquette. He is to serve a term expiring March 23, 1971. The appointment is subject to Senate confirmation.

SPEC. 4 TERRY JONCAS has completed a tour of duty with the U. S. Army in Korea and is spending a 45-day leave at the home of his mother, Mrs. June Joncas, 533½ N. 19th St. Joncas, who has been in the service since Nov., 1968, will leave Escanaba June 25 for assignment at Fort Sill, Okla.

Senate Okays NMU Gun Ban

LANSING — Northern Michigan University will get $7,759,485 from the state general fund next year and an automatic ban of firearms on the campus under a bill passed by the senate last week.

There was no direct reference on the floor to the charges of 140 black students that they had been fired upon and harassed to the point that they wanted to leave the campus early.

But a major amendment would ban guns on the campus in the possession of anyone except NMU security guards.

Another rider to the bill requires any college or university to report to the Legislature in detail within 30 days on any campus disturbance, the number of students arrested, time lost from classes and the role of faculty members.

Northern's budget anticipates a total current operational expenditure of $13,140,153.

The breakdown shows $6,840,981 for instruction, $429,143 for public services, $787,739 for the library and $1,578,994 for student services, including $610,423 for financial aid for students.

The bill also appropriates $3,503,296 for general operations of the campus.

The bill anticipates resident student fees of $2,645,616, nonresident student fees of $738,544, off-campus student fees of $100,913, self-liquidating debt retirement fees of $390,899 and other income from gifts and grants and other sources of $1,494,696.

Housewife, Target Of Sniper, Backs Conflict

DEARBORN HEIGHTS, Mich. (AP) — A Dearborn Heights housewife says she is more than ever convinced of America's right to be in South Vietnam after touring a combat zone where a Communist sniper fired at her, her sailor son and a friend.

"I guess I was just tired of hearing demonstrators and protesters tell me what the facts were," said Mrs. Raymond Brimmer.

"I had a son over there and I wanted to see for myself, said the trim, blonde housewife, who is in her 40s.

Visits Sailor Son

She said she went alone last week to Saigon to visit her son, Edward, 19, who is stationed at a naval base at Dong Tam. She said they met a 24-year-old lieutenant, who had served two tours in South Vietnam, and he agreed to take them on a jeep's tour of military installations in combat areas.

"My husband thought I was going to be safe in some hotel in Saigon," she said.

"Of course, we didn't ask anybody's permission about any of this and I certainly don't want to get that lieutenant in trouble," she said, about the trip. She declined to give his name.

Played Ignorant

"I just played ignorant all the way and I guess they thought I was with a USO troupe or something," she said. "When we told this one young fellow that I was visiting my son there, his jaw dropped a foot."

She said they took a 3½-day tour of American installations, including Dong Tam and Long Binh.

She said near Dong Tam, they were forced to drive down a jungled area referred to as "Ambush Alley" when a sniper opened fire with a rifle. She said the jeep sped ahead and the bullets missed them.

Must Stop Communism

Mrs. Brimmer said she talked to about 20 servicemen about the war, adding "I can tell you that they all know what they're there for. They know they have to stop Communism or we'll have it here next."

"I can't forget any of their faces. I wouldn't take a million dollars for the experience," she said. "When those guys read about the protests in this country, or trying to vote to cut money off for the war, it gets them down worse than anything except getting shut out at mail call."

Invasion Supported

She said all the military personnel she talked to supported the invasion of Cambodia.

"None of them could understand how people could demonstrate against this, when safety of American Boys was at stake," she said.

She said her son, who is an only child, enlisted in the Navy "because he believed in America."

She said her husband was greatly relieved to find her return home safe.

Model Towners Set Five Meet Records

BY DON HOWES
Daily Press Sports Editor

MARQUETTE — Nineteen record-shattering performances topped a slate of races dotted with exciting finishes as the Upper Peninsula track and field season came to a classic climax Saturday on Marquette High School's new asphalt track.

The Gwinn Model Towners, showing overall strength and depth, captured the U.P. Class A-B crown with 47 points, while the Rudyard Bulldogs walked away with Class C honors and as expected, the Pickford Panthers successfully defended their Class D Crown, capturing their 19th straight Upper Peninsula title.

The nineteen new marks that went into the record books, erased standards which were held as long as twenty years. There were eight new records set in Class A-B, eight in Class C and three in Class D.

Gwinn, in winning the Class A-B title, set five new records in the long jump, pole vault, 440 yard dash and in both the 880 and mile relays.

Crusaders Fourth

The Holy Name Crucadters, who finished fourth in the meet, came up with a strong performer in Dan Young, who topped all athletes in the shot put with a tremendous toss of 52 feet 8 inches, his best throw of the year.

Other point producers for the Crusaders were Gary Corbett in the shot put, Gary Kleiman in the high jump, Bob McGinn in the 880 yard dash and Noel Gannon in the mile run. Holy Name's Jim Dubord and Paul Guenette also picked up points for the Crusaders. Dubord, who had been ill all week, still managed to place second in the 220 yard dash behind Leanes of Marquette and also finished fourth in the 100 yard dash with a 10.5 clocking. Guenette, in making one of his strongest showings of the year in the two mile run, finished second behind the record-breaking performance of Calumet's Gary Patrick. Guenette, with a time of 10:08.2 for the first time this season, finished ahead of Menominee's ace two miler Ivan Plude, who finished third, with a 10:09.2 timing.

The only double winners in the A-B Class were Bob Leanes and Bob Schacht of Marquette with Leanes winning the 100 and 220 yard dashes and Schacht the high and low hurdles.

Timmer Scores

Escanaba, with their mile qualifier, Maurice Simons, who was out of action, finished eighth in the meet. Gene Timmer paced the Eskymo attack with a third and fourth place finish in the high and low hurdles. Timmer was six-tenths of a second behind the record breaking performance of Bob Schacht of Marquette, who won the high hurdles in a time of 15.1 seconds.

Also scoring points for the Eskymos were Gary Brawley in the shot put with a toss of 51 feet 7 inches for a second place finish, Steve Rolig placed third in the long jump with a leap of 20 feet 3 inches, Mark Blazek in the pole vault and the Eskymo 880 yard relay team finished fifth with a time of 1:34.9 behind Gwinn's record-breaking performance of 1.32.1. The Escanaba team consisted of Rod Deiter, Fred Crawford, Bob Stone and Gene Timmer.

The top finisher for Bob Richard's Gladstone Braves was Cliff Young, who took the second section of the 880 yard run in a fine time of 2:01.95. Bob Young took a fifth place finish in the high hurdles and the Braves mile relay team also took a fifth place finish to round out the scoring for Gladstone. The team consisted of Bart Stupak, Cliff Young, Terry Cartwright and Pat McGeary.

The other Class A-B record that was broken was in the low hurdles by Marquette's Bob Schacht in a time of 20.14 seconds breaking the 20 year old record of 20.4 set by John Leppi of Ironwood in 1950.

Duane Sundin of Manistique broke the record in the second section of the 440 yard dash with a time of 51.39 seconds, but Gwinn's Mike Hatfield put his name in the record book as he took the first section of the 440 with a :51.09 clocking. Dave Mickelson also placed in the 440 with a fourth place finish.

Rudyard C Champs

The Class C champions, Rudyard Bulldogs, broke two of the eight Class C records. The Bulldogs 880 yard relay team set a new record in a time of 1:33.2 and Mitch Irwin, one of the two Class C double winners, cleared 12 feet 10 inches to set a new pole vault record.

The outstanding performer in the Class C meet was Tim Nault of Norway, who was the only triple winner in the meet. Nault won the 100 and 220 yard dashes and the long jump setting a Class C record in each event, winning the 100 in 10.2 seconds, the 220 in 22.39 seconds and the long jump 21'8½".

The only other double winner in Class C was Don Michaelson of L'Anse, who won the shot put and the first section of the 440 yard dash.

The oldest mark that was erased in the 1970 meet was in the mile run when Jim Hagen of St. Ignace broke the old record set in 1950 of 4:44.0 by Bob Hitch of L'Anse in a new time of 4:39.45.

Other Class C records that were broken were by Barry Hafeman of Stephenson in the second section of the 440 yard dash with a :52.09 timing, by the Ontonagon mile relay team in a fabulous performance by Fred Teddy of L'Anse, who broke the two mile record by winning in a time of 9:55.4.

19 Straight

Pickford ran away with the Class D title by scoring 60¾ points to easily out distance second place Channing with 21½ and third place Powers and Ewen Trout Creek who had 17 apiece.

Pickford set two new records on their quest of winning their nineteenth straight U.P. title with Jerry Bawks setting a new pole vault record at 12 feet 11⅝ inches, this marked the first time that all three Classes broke the pole vault record in the same year. Mart Storey set a new low hurdle record for the Panthers, winning in a time of :20.4 seconds.

The only other Class D record that was broken was by Bob Jacquart of Ironwood Catholic in the mile run with a 4:38.36 clocking.

Mileski Stars

Bob Mileski of Powers was a big double winner for the Tigers, winning both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Mileski raced to victory in the 100 in a time of :10.69 seconds and in the 220 in :23.14 seconds.

Other area trackmen placing in the meet in the Class D division were from Rapid River, Dan Safford in the long jump and Jeff Boyer in the pole vault and low hurdles. Big Bay's winners were Bill Hartman in the pole vault, John Lewandowski in the low hurdles and 220 yard dash and Randy Strasler in the second section of the 440 yard dash. Alex Jorasz and Keith Scheiderson of Bark River placed in the 880 yard dash and the long jump respectively, Ken Simonsen of Perkins in the high jump and besides Mileski's double win, Lee Vincent took a fifth place finish for Powers in the high jump.

By The Associated Press

The day started as a disaster for Benton Harbor's High school track team, as its coach and one team member were hospitalized when the stands collapsed at the University of Michigan.

But, it ended on a note of triumph, as the other four team members ran up 29 team points to give Benton Harbor the Class A high school track championship at Ann Arbor Saturday.

And on a final note, the injuries to coach George McGinnis and hurdler Ron Patterson were reported to have been not serious.

In other meets in the Lower Peninsula Saturday, Ecorse retained its Class B title in competition at East Lansing; Grass Lake and Reading tied for the Class C championship at Mount Pleasant, and Covert captured the Class D title at Big Rapids.

Some 27 persons were taken to the hospital when the temporary stands, containing more than 1,000 persons, collapsed Saturday at Ann Arbor. All but two were released that night. Several other persons were injured, but did not require hospital treatment.

When McGinnis and the one track team member were taken to the hospital, assistant coach Dick Brame took over the coaching duties.

The four remaining team members, Rodney Rhodes, Frank Atkinson, Leroy Hunt, and Don Hopkins, then won the 880-yard relay.

In addition, Rhodes was third in the 100-yard dash, and second in the 220-yard dash, and Hopkins was fourth in the 100-yard dash and eighth in the 220.

Iverson, Peterson Score Stock Car Race Victories

Bob Iverson of Hyde and Bill Peterson of Escanaba thrilled a crowd of over 2,200 stock car racing fans Saturday night at the Escanaba Speedway as the second week of stock car action resumed. A heavily wetted track delayed the time trials, but once the action got underway the drivers provided an excellent show for the evening.

In modified action, Bob Iverson of Hyde captured the 20 lap feature, but had to work hard to do so. With a 17 car field starting the race, Jim Barron of Cornell took an early lead and proved to be a hard man to catch. Iverson finally got by him on the 14 lap, but 4 laps later went into a spin and had to take the last corner driving through the mud in the infield. Barron took advantage of the break and again took the lead, but Iverson came back to pass him on the last lap and took the checkered flag. Ed Powley of the Soo finished third.

Double Winner

In the heats, Duke Gardiner of Escanaba, driving for the first time in the modified class, was a double winner. In the first heat he had an easy time winning over John O'Reily of the Soo and Dave Christiansen of Escanaba. He also captured the semi-feature, but had to work harder. This time he passed O'Reily on the 12th lap and finished ahead of Bob Hengesh of Escanaba and Richard Lombardi of Escanaba.

In the second heat, Ray Gardner passed Hengesh after 9 laps and picked up his first win of the year. Hengesh again settled for second place, and Jim Barron was third.

The third heat was won by Canadian Gary Ingram who picked up his first victory ever on the Escanaba track. Soo drivers swept the other money positions with Powley finishing second and Ted Ritchie third.

In the sportsman class, last year's rookie of the year Bill Peterson of Escanaba won the feature. Ron Paquette of Kingsford moved into first on the sixth lap and was chased by Peterson, who finally passed Paquette with one lap to go in the race. He held off a late challenge by Paquette and was just ahead of him at the finish line. Pat Temple helped to make it a good race by finishing a close third.

Haferkorn Wins

Joe Haferkorn of Norway continued his winning ways on the Escanaba track winning the first heat and the semi-feature. In the first heat Haferkorn won over Dick Paidl of Menominee. Paidl had led the entire race, and lost the checkered flag on the last lap. In the semi-feature Haferkorn had an easy time winning over Bruce Larson of Escanaba.

In the second heat, Wennel Tourangeau had an easy time winning over Sonny Richer. The two Escanaba natives battled through the early stages, with Tourangeau pulling away at the end.

Paquette captured third heat honors. Last year's number one driver at Norway moved into first on the third lap and held off the challenge of Temple, who finished second and third place finisher Arne Anderson of Wells.

Two Menominee drivers swept time trial honors. Gene Coleman had fast time for modifieds with a clocking of 24:72, and Ron DeMarce was fast for sportsman with a clocking of 28.85.

Huskies Elect Tri-Captains

For the second consecutive year, Michigan Tech's football squad will be led by three captains as tri-captains were elected for the 1970 season. Senior defensive halfback Jerry LaJeunesse (Houghton), junior tailback Larry Ras (Grandville) and sophomore linebacker Mike Foltz (Petoskey) will captain the Huskies through their nine-game card next fall.

LaJeunesse, a two-time all-conference choice, has been a mainstay in the Huskie defensive backfield since his freshman season but has also filled in at a number of offensive chores. He led the Northern Intercollegiate Conference in pass receptions as a sophomore but was named to the all-conference defensive backfield, an honor he repeated last season. He also handles the punting chores.

Ras was the workhorse in the Huskie backfield last season and earned the nickname "The Horse" from teammates and coaches alike. He also earned all-conference honors last season as he became the first gridder in Huskie history to rush for 1,000 yards in a single season. His 1,010 yards for the season and his 703 yards in conference play were good enough to make him the leading rusher and total offense performer in the NIC.

Foltz began last season as a defensive tackle but was switched to a linebacking post after the first game to bolster that position. He responded with a tremendous rookie season and is being looked for to lead the defense this fall. His quickness and instinct to "go to the ball" could make him one of the best in the conference.

The Huskies finished the 1969 NIC season with a 4-1 record and the championship, and a 5-4 record overall.

Invitational Track Meet Here Tuesday

The Escanaba Junior High trackmen will host an invitational track meet at the Escanaba Athletic Field Tuesday afternoon at 3 p.m. So far, about ten of the fifteen teams invited to the meet are expected.

Last Saturday the Escanaba Junior High cindermen defeated Gladstone and Bark River in a triangular meet. The final score was Escanaba 65, Bark River 54 and Gladstone 18.

Escanaba was paced by Wayne Schwalbach, a triple winner. Schwalbach won the shot put with a toss of 46 feet 5 inches, the 100 yard dash in 11.3 seconds and the long jump with a leap of 19 feet 1½ inches.

Other first place finishers for Escanaba were Mike Cvengros in the 60 yard high hurdles, Brian Berg in the pole vault as he cleared the bar at 9'6" and Dan Young a first place tie in the high jump with Bill Johnson of Gladstone at 4'10".

Other point producers for Escanaba were Al Bellefeuille in the shot put, Tom Suriano in the long jump and 100 yard dash, Jim Oberg in the high hurdles, Rick Miller and Dan Young in the 60 yard dash, David Nelson and Mike Cappeart in the 75 yard dash and Gerard Krause, Steve Kleissert and Fred Thorbjornsen in the 440 yard run.

Escanaba had seven first place finishers, wile Bark River had five and Gladstone one.

The only other big winner in the meet was John Pokladowski of Bark River, winning the 220 yard dash in 26 seconds and the 75 yard dash in 8.6 seconds.

Ohio First, But Not Big 10 Champ

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten baseball race is over according to the schedule with Ohio State on top of the heap but the Buckeyes still could wind up second to Minnesota.

Ohio State completed the regular schedule by splitting a doubleheader with Northwestern on Saturday, winning the first game 4-2 but losing the nightcap 5-0.

This left OSU with a 13-1 record and Minnesota, seeking a third straight title, whipped Iowa twice Sunday 2-1 and 5-4. This left Minnesota with a 15-3 mark.

Campus disorders caused Ohio State to call off doubleheaders against Michigan and Michigan State but Coach Marty Karo said over the weekend that at least one of the doubleheaders would be made up.

In such a case, a double loss by the Buckeyes would vault Minnesota to the championship which automatically carries a bid to the NCAA playoffs and a shot at the national collegiate championship.

Little Leaguers To Resume Action

The Escanaba Jaycee Little League enters its third week of play with a full schedule of games lined up for all teams. In tonight's action at six o'clock the Bankers take on the Lions, who this week must come up with two pitchers to go with their ace Kevin Cutler.

Kiwanis prepared for their three game week Saturday when their number 2 pitcher, Ed Legault stopped Credit Union on four hits to gain a 8 to 1 win for his first start of the season. Don Bougie paced the Kiwanis attack with four hits in four trips.

VFW picked up its second win of the season when Jeff Abrahamson stopped Exchange 10 to 1 as the Vets continued their high scoring ways. Dave Leonard made his first start of the year a winner as the Eagles beat the Bankers 11 to 4. Eric Hansen aided the Eagles offense with 3 hits in 3 trips.

The Lions continued their winning ways by beating Rotary 7 to 1 behind the two hit pitching of Kev Cutler. Al Scherer got the only hits off Cutler, who aided his own cause with a 2 run homer in the first inning.

This week's schedule:

May 25 - 6 p.m. Bankers at Lions

May 26 - 6 p.m. Rotary at Eagles

May 27 - 6 p.m. Kiwanis at VFW

May 28 - 6 p.m. Lions at Exchange

May 29 - 6 p.m. Credit Union at Kiwanis

Reichardt's Homer Upends Tigers 6-4

DETROIT (AP) — Rick Reichardt's "superstar" billing was unsolicited, and it has always served as a ball and chain around his neck.

He wants to shake that tag, but he didn't help those plans Sunday when he belted a grand slam home run in Washington's six-run second inning enroute to a 6-4 win over the Detroit Tigers. The homer, his third career grand slam, was one of eight hits off Mickey Lolich in just 2 1-3 innings.

"This business about making me a superstar here is ridiculous," Reichardt said afterwards. "I feel better here. I like it here and think I'll do well. But this business about hitting 40-50 homers - well, I don't know."

Reichardt was with the California Angels last season before being dealt to Washington in a trade for Ken McMullen.

Take Series

The victory gave the Senators two of three from Detroit in the series. The Tigers are still in third place in the East Division of the American League, 9½ games behind front-running Baltimore and one game ahead of the Washington Senators.

Detroit has lost 15 of the last 21 games. Les Cain, 2-2, who left the ballpark early Sunday because of the flu, was still scheduled to pitch for the Tigers in the opener of a three game series against New York tonight. Stan Bahsen was expected to pitch for the Yankees.

Reichardt reportedly received a $175,000 bonus when he signed with the Angels in 1964 out of the University of Wisconsin.

"You can't blame me for taking that kind of money, but because of that the papers built up my image too much," he said self-critically. "Because I haven't been quite that meaningful as far as the superstar image goes it doesn't mean I haven't done a good job. I think I was a good ballplayer with California."

In three full seasons in the majors his batting averages have been .288, .265 and .255, with 16, 17 and 21 home runs in the last three years.

Credits Williams

He said Senators' manager Ted Williams, himself an all-time superstar and slugger while with Boston, "is my friend."

"He has been trying to ease me in this new situation and helps build my confidence up," he said.

"He is someone you can relate to. Lou have to hold him in high esteem because he is the master. It's best to get advice from someone you believe in."

He credits his grand slam to Williams's advice.

"He said I should look for my pitch and swing hard," Reichardt related. "If you strike out you strike out."

Washington had already pushed across two runs in the second inning, one on a sacrifice bly by Tim Cullen and another on a single by former Tiger Wayne Comer. With two men on, Lolich walked Frank Howard to load the bases and then Reichardt unloaded his sixth homer of the year.

"I had an inkling in the back of my mind I'd get a good ball to hit," Reichardt said. "that's something he (Williams) tries to do. He tries to instill a mental awareness in you."

Winning pitcher Joe Coleman, 3-3, allowed only four hits in the seven innings he worked, out two were two-run homers by Bill Freehan and Jim Northrup.

With two out in the bottom of the second Dalton Jones singled and Freehan followed with his seventh homer of the year. Coleman walked Mickey Stanley in the third and Northrup crashed his fifth homer.

One bright spot for Detroit was the performance of rookie Dennis Saunders, who relieved Lolich in the third. He shutout the Nats on three hits in his 5 2-3 innings.

New Giant Manager Off To Successful Start As Giants Take Twinbill

By The Associated Press

Charlie Fox says he's a patient man . . . but the San Francisco Giants aren't taking any chances.

The Giants gave new Manager Fox a solid sendoff Sunday by sweeping a doubleheader from the San Diego Padres 6-1 and 7-6.

"I'll let the players do things until they prove to me they can't," said the 48-year-old Fox, who assumed command before the twin bill following the ouster of Clyde King.

Thus assured, the Giants did in the Padres with a barrage of four home runs in the opener and a seven-run inning in the nightcap. Willie McCovey slammed a pair of homers as Gaylord Perry won the first game with a four-hitter before three San Diego errors opened the gates in the fifth inning of the second game.

Elsewhere in the National League, Chicago and New York divided a doubleheader, the Cubs taking the opener 3-1 and the Mets winning the nightcap by the same score; Houston downed Cincinnati 10-7; Philadelphia edged St. Louis 6-5 in 10 innings; Los Angeles drubbed Atlanta 8-1 and Pittsburgh beat Montreal 3-0.

King Fired

The Giants rebounded from Saturday's 17-16 marathon loss to San Diego, after which King was fired by club owner Horace Stoneham, on bases-empty homers by McCovey in the fourth and sixth innings of the opener and solo swats by Bonds, in the seventh, and Mays, in the eighth.

Perry, 6-5, lost his shutout bid when Ivan Murrell homered in the fifth.

In the second game, San Diego's Pat Dobson was the victim of two errors by third baseman Ed Spiezio and another by shortstop Steve Huntz as the Giants scored seven times in the fifth on just three hits to erase a 3-0 deficit. Ron Hunt's two-run single was the key blow.

Home runs by Spiezio and Huntz closed the gap in the seventh, but Frank Reberger checked the Padres thereafter in relief of winner Mike McCormick.

Fireballer Nolan Ryan tossed a two-hitter to gain a split for the Mets, who were held to five hits by Chicago's Bill Hands and Phil Regan in the opener.

Ron Swoboda drove in two runs with a double and sacrifice fly to assure Ryan's second two-hit triumph of the season. Ex-Met Jim Hickman homered for the Cubs in the first game and Regan rescued Hands from a bases-loaded, none-out jam in the eighth inning.

Astros Rally

The Astros, trailing 7-0 after 5½ innings, scored two runs in the sixth, added another in the seventh and then flattened St. Louis with a seven-run spree in the eighth, ending a five-game losing streak.

Denis Menke ignited the big rally with a single and delivered the last run with another single. Jesus Alou's two-run single tied the game 7-7 and Tommy Davis' two-run single broke the deadlock.

Larry Hisle pulled the Phillies even in the ninth with a two-out, two-run homer and they won it in the 10th on a bases-loaded single by Tony Taylor. The Cards' Richie Allen struck out five times in regulation play, tying the National League record.

Los Angeles' Alan Foster snapped a personal three-game losing streak despite yielding 11 hits in 6 2-3 innings as the Dodgers pounded the Braves. Rookie Von Joshua drove in the deciding run with a second inning single and tripled in the seventh to touch off a four-run wrap-up burst.

Bob Veale blanked Montreal on three hits and struck out 10. Matty Alou scored the only run Veale needed on Al Oliver's sacrifice fly in the first inning and doubled home another in the ninth.

Former Winners To Lead Indy 500

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Three former winners will lead one of the best-balanced fields in history into Saturday's 54th 500-mile auto race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The 33-car lineup rounded off in the final 10-mile qualifications Sunday averaged a record 167.139 miles per hour. The old mark was 166.295 last year.

The qualifying speeds ranged from 170.221 by Al Unser, who won the pole position May 16, to 165.373 by slowest qualifer Sammy Sessions, the 1969 field's spread was 170.568 to 160.851.

Unser is not a former winner but the favorite of many Speedway veterans in his fifth attempt Al's brother Bobby, the 1968 winner, also is in the line-up along with three-time winner, A.J. Foyt Jr., and last year's winner, Mario Andretti, who set the race record of 156.867.

Veterans almost crowded newcomers out of the field. Only four rookies made the program, the smallest number since 1960.

Foyt, with 12 Indianapolis starts behind him, is approached in Speedway experience only by Lloyd Ruby, starting for the 11th time, and Dan Gurney, Jim McElreath and Roger McCluskey, for the ninth time, Bobby Unser will start for the eighth time.

No really exotic cars made the program, although there are innovations in the British-built Brabhams and McLarens and the made-in-Germany McNamara. Eighteen of the cars are powered by turbocharged four-cylinder Offenhausers, 15 by turbocharged eight-cylinder Fords.

Ruby and Jack Brabham, native of Australia and three-time world road racing champion, rated among the top contenders qualified over the weekend, along with the second Bill Vukovich, whose father won the big race twice.

Vukovich, unable to get his original Edmunds-Offenhauser up to competitive speed, jumped into a Brabham-Offy and made the line-up with speed to spare. Ruby also qualified solidly after a string of six straight engine failures in the last three weeks.

McElreath was the only driver able to "bump" an earlier qualifier and squeeze into the line-up in Sunday's final session. He joined Foyt's four-car team, averaged 166.821 in his Coyote-Rord, and eliminated rookie Kevin Bartlett of Australia. McElreath himself had been bumped by Brabham Saturday.

Aaron Captures Atlanta Classic

ATLANTA (AP) — Tommy Aaron refused to gamble on the 18th green Sunday but, after some 30 minutes as a nervous spectator, still cashed in the big chips in the $125,000 Atlanta Golf Classic and broke a 10-year victory drought on the PGA tour.

"I wanted to shoot at the green but I was too far out... about 245 yards I guess," said Aaron, a drawling Georgian who earlier had spotted the field two strokes with a self-imposed penalty on No. 14.

"So I elected to lay up," he added with a smile, "and now I'm glad I did."

Aaron concluded his final round with a 69 and a 72-hole score of 275, 13-under-par over the 7,052-yard Atlanta Country Club course. He then watched as his challengers wilted on the closing holes under a hot Georgia sun.

Tom Weiskopf, who carried a one shot lead into the final round, offered the last and greatest threat, but fell into a deadlock for third place with a 277 when he drove into the water on No. 18, then hit into a trap and finally two-putted for a double bogey seven.

Dan Sikes matched Aaron's closing 69 and took second place at 276. Joining Weiskopf at 277 were Arnold Palmer, South African Gary Player and Bert Yancey, the 1969 Atlanta champion.

NMU Basketball Coach Resigns

MARQUETTE—Bob Ortegel, assistant basketball coach at Northern Michigan University, announced his resignation today to accept a similar post at Illinois State University.

Ortegel, an Illinois native and graduate of Bradley University, served NMU as varsity assistant and head freshman coach for two seasons. His frosh squads had a two-year record of 25-9 and averaged better than 90 points per game.

The 29-year-old Ortegel will be a member of a four-man staff at Illinois State, headed by Will Robinson, former coach at Detroit Pershing High School where he compiled an outstanding prep record.

NMU head coach Glenn Brown said "my association with Bob Ortegal during the past two years has been excellent. He did an outstanding job for Northern Michigan and I am sure he will do equally well in his new position."

Rollie Dotsch, Northern's athletic director, said a successor to Ortegel "will be named shortly."

Dobson Hurls Oakland To Win; Jackson Quiet

By The Associated Press

The room shared by Chuck Dobson and Reggie Jackson of the Oakland A's isn't the best place in the world to go looking for base hits these days. Dobson isn't giving up many and Jackson isn't getting many.

Dobson's half of the room was in fine form Sunday. The right-hander checked the Chicago White Sox 5-1 on one hit—Gail Hopkins' first-inning single—in the opener of a doubleheader. But Jackson, who sat out the first game with a sub-.200 batting average, managed only one single in the nightcap although the A's managed a sweep of the twin bill 5-2.

To make Jackson's day even worse, owner Charles O. Finley threatened the slugging outfielder with a trip to the minor leagues to help him find the batting eye that accounted for 47 home runs and 118 runs batted in a year ago.

Elsewhere in the American League, California nipped Minnesota 6-5, Baltimore beat Boston 2-1 in 10 innings before losing the nightcap 4-3, the New York Yankees swept Cleveland 6-5 and 8-7 in 11 innings and Kansas City shaded Milwaukee 6-5 in 10.

The Angels blew a 5-1 but managed to nip the Twins on Sandy Alomar's tie-breaking single in the ninth inning and move within one-half game of the front-runners in the AL West.

Roger Repoz slammed a two-run homer and Jim Fregoisi contributed a two-run double as the Angels took a quick 5-1 lead. George Mitterwald paced the Twins' comeback with a home run in the fifth and a game-tying triple in the eighth.

Brooks Robinson shook off a fourth-inning beaning and hit a home run in the 10th inning that gave the Orioles their triumph in the opener. Curt Motton had tied the score in the ninth with a pinch single while George Scott homered for the Red Sox.

Baltimore came from behind twice to tie the score in the nightcap, with Boog Powell and Paul Blair hitting solo homers, but Boston prevailed on a sacrifice fly by pinch hitter Dick Schofield in the ninth. Sonny Siebert fanned 10 Orioles.

Baseballs were flying all over Cleveland's Muncipal Stadium, with the Yankees hitting five home runs and the Indians six, all in the nightcap, including three by Tony Horton and two by Ray Fosse.

John Ellis was the big gun for the Yanks, with an RBI double and game-winning homer in the opener and a three-run homer in the second game that brought New York from behind. They were the first homers of the season for Ellis.

Lindy McDaniel won both games in relief while Fred Lasher, the Indians' newly acquired reliever, was tagged with both defeats. Roy White, Horace Clarke and Ron Hansen also homered for the Yanks, Jack Heidemann for Cleveland.

Jury Gives Man What He Wants: Death Sentence

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In 1953, blonde Stella Darlene Nolan, 8, vanished from a suburban auction center a few hours after writing: "Father, I hope you have a happl Father's Day..." A massive hunt yielded no clues.

In 1956, Don Baker, 13, and Brenda Howell, 11, failed to return from a bicycle ride in the hills. They were never found.

In 1968, Gary Rocha, 16, was shot dead in his home. In 1968, Roger Madison, 16, disappeared. Last May, Donald Allen Todd, 13, was found shot dead in a gully, his clothes stacked neatly nearby.

And last March a 51-year-old construction worker, Mack Ray Edwards, walked into a suburban police station and said he had kidnaped three girls. He surrendered, he said, because one got away and he figured she would lead officers to him.

"I'm glad they got away," police quoted him, "because it would have been nine instead of six."

Bodies Located

Officers said Edwards told them the six youngsters were slain after molestation attempts. He gave clues that led to finding three bodies.

Friday, Edwards, who twice tried suicide in jail and who pleaded guilty to murder "because I want to go to the electric chair," heard the words he has been asking for.

A jury impaneled to fix his penalty decreed death in San Quentin's gas chamber. June 5 was set for formal sentencing.

Edwards had lived quietly in the San Fernando Valley suburb of Sylmar with his wife and teen-age son and daughter. His neighbors called him friendly. His only arrest was in 1941, for vagrancy.

Police are trying to determine if Edwards is linked to other disappearances between 1956 and 1968. The Los Angeles Times said police think the total might be as many as 22, although Edwards lists only six.

He was charged with murder only in the Nolan, Rocha and Todd deaths, because those were the only bodies found.

Edwards' attorney called his client a "monster" but asked for a sentence of life imprisonment.

Wants To Die

Edwards said in a presentencing interview: "My attorney got a bit mixed up and pleaded for my life. That's not what I want. I want the chair; that's what I've always wanted...."

Edwards expressed no remorse in the interview, but said when asked why he turned himself in: "I couldn't eat and I couldn't sleep. It was beginning to affect my work. I'm a heavy equipment operator. That grader I was using costs a lot of money—$200,000. I might wreck it. Or turn it over and hurt someone."

Spring Concert Set For Tonight

Children from the Gladstone Elementary School will present their spring concert tonight at 7:30 in the Gladstone High School gymnasium.

The boys' chorus, a fifth-sixth grade chorus and all school children in the first, second and third grades will be singing under the direction of Mrs. Lorrayne Grieg. Nearly all the selections to be performed are favorite American folk songs, show tunes and spirituals.

The sixth grade band, under the direction of Paul Cowen, will open the program and feature several solo instrumentalists.

First graders will present Andante from Haydn's "Surprise Symphony," a rhythm band and also dance a singing game. Other selections the children especially enjoy are "Mr. Frog Went A-Courtin," presented in song and pageant, and "Hawaiian Rainbows," featuring a few girls in Hawaiian costume illustrating the song.

The select chorus of third and fourth grade boys will perform several American songs, including "Dr. Doolittle" and " Whistle A Happy Tune." The select chorus of fifth and sixth graders will conclude the evening's concert.

The public is invited to attend and no admission will be charged.

Briefly Told

Gladstone residents are reminded to curtail the use of water on Tuesday since extra water will be used to cut in a supply at the Water Filtration plant. In case of a fire City Manager Howard Keeton warns that an emergency might exist.

Self Restraint Not Up To Par, Grads Told

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP)—U.S. Ambassador to Belgium John Eisenhower told graduates at Northwood Institute's 11th annual commencement Sunday that "self restraint, so necessary to the functioning of democracy, in on the decline in segments of our population."

"If the trend continues, I shudder to think what will be the ultimate consequence," he said.

The son of the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower, the ambassador said the most important "questions of our society concern the future of educational systems, whether we can maintain law and order while doing our best to improve the lot of the underprivileged, and what portion of our youth are willing to take up arms at the call of their country."

Some 330 Northwood students, who constituted the largest graduating clss in the history of the two-year college, received degrees and certificates.

Discussing the generation gap, Eisenhower told the students that "Your generation is being listened to by their elders to a far greater degree than was mine."

Despite social change, he said that the fundamental patterns of life of both generations are much the same.

Eisenhower added the "United States Constitution was drawn up under the assumption that the citizens of this great country would conduct themselves with restraint."

Basically, he said the present younger generation, with the "exception of the extremists and those who have opted to escape reality through drugs and violence, is more idealistic and better informed and has a great future."

He said the failure to provide adequately for education of the baby boom generation has caused pressure on students and has resulted in marked degrees of rebellion.

"This factor is by no means the only one causing unrest on our current national scene, but I am proud that the rapid growth of Northwood Institute has done its part in combating it."

He said he was hopeful that Northwood will establish a campus in Europe.

UAW Board Asks Probe Of Killings At Kent State

DETROIT (AP) — The International Executive Board of the United Auto Workers Union he called for a congressional investigation of what it termed "senseless killings of American citizens by American military and police" at Kent State College, Jackson State College and Augusta, Ga.

"The dangerous military policies of the Nixon administration have driven the wedge of division in America even deeper and have dangerously alienated millions of Americans," the board said in a statement which which it reported unanimously adopted.

It called upon President Nixon "to exercise leadership in politics, assuring that the lives and liberties of American citizens will be protected from harm of any wrongdoer, whether he be bearing the cloth of a citizen or the uniform of government."

"There must be an immediate end," it continued, "to the needless and inexcusable use of the military force against citizens exercising their constitutional right to protest."

Institute Week

LANSING (AP) — The week of May 31- June 6 has been proclaimed International Institute week in Michigan by order of Gov. William G. Milliken. The observance honors the International Institute of Metropolitan Detroit, Inc., for its assistance to immigrants and foreign nationals visiting or living for a time in this country.

State Jobless Picture Better

DETROIT (AP) — Unemployment in Michigan dropped in April for the second consecutive month, with 6.2 per cent of the work force reported without jobs compared to 6.5 per cent in March.

The Michigan Employment Security Commission reported a total of 221,000 unemployed in mid-April, for a decrease of 11,000 from the mid-March jobless total.

But William R. Ford, director of the commission, said that while "the number of unemployed appears encouraging, the reduction is not attributable to any employment upturn."

"Many of those who left the jobless rolls," Ford said, "moved out of the labor force altogether rather than into new jobs. So that the shrinkage in the size of the labor force—8,500—nearly equaled the unemployment decline."

The Detroit area's unemployment was 5.6 per cent in mid-April, compared with 5.9 per cent a month earlier.

Government employment was up 2,300 in mid - April, reflecting what Ford said was the hiring of new people for the U.S. census.

Motorists 'Big Winners' On City's Hospitality Day

Friday was Hospitality Day in Michigan Week and capped planned activities in Manistique's celebration and observance of the 17th annual event.

Rev. Robert Haring was Hospitality Day chairman. He and his committee, in cooperation with Michigan State Police, stopped out-of-town motorists along U.S. 2 between 3-6 p.m. Friday to present information and gift certificates to the travelers.

Free lodging was offered by the Colonial, Blue Spruce, Breakers, Holiday, Beachcomber, Dipper and City motels; food services were made available by Sunny Shores, the Eat Shop, Chat 'n Nibble, the Surf and Dairy Kream with free merchandise available from Northern Woolens, Maytag and Furniture, the Vogue, Curran Chevrolet and Valley Nursery.

A "Salute to Scandinavia" program climaxed Thursday's combined salute to Heritage-Youth-Education Days. The evening program featured song and dance and poetry selections with a Scandinavian flavor, an artifacts display, a history of the Thompson Swedish Church. Several adults received their high school diplomas in ceremonies in the high school gym and the audience then adjourned to the auditorium where the junior and senior high school bands entertained with a concert. Refreshments were served following the program.

Open House At Schools

The Manistique Area Schools held open house throughout Thursday as their contribution to Education Day.

Activities were under the direction of Mrs. Earl LeBrasseur, Heritage; Howard Schwartz, Education; and Earl LeBrasseur, Youth.

Livelihood Day was marked by a general salute to local business and industry during a dinner at the Surf Wednesday night. Livelihood Day chairman Fred H. Hahne invited Clifford Lewis of Curtis to speak at the banquet; Edwin E. Wuehle was toastmaster and introduced Howard H. Handorf, County Extension Director, who discussed the proposed Industrial Development Corporation; Michigan Week general chairman Joseph Giovannini who commended the individual activity chairmen for their efforts; and Nat Dellis, president of the Manistique Area Chamber of Commerce, the sponsor of the dinner.

Area Presidents Cited

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Peterson, Intake Park Rd., were introduced and thanked for their "contributions to the community" since they will be leaving to make their home in Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Keith McLeod, formerly of Milwaukee, were welcomed as new residents; and Dr. and Mrs. Merle Wehner welcomed back after an extended absence from the city.

LINDA BROCK and Mark Larson, dressed in Scandinavian costumes, greeted visitors to last Thursday night's "Salute to Scandianavia" program in the MHS gym. The program combined observance of Heritage-Education and Youth Day in Michigan Week. Boosters Fund To Be Switched

The $590.20 treasury of the now-defunct Green Fire Boosters Club has been apportioned to the new blazer fund at the high school, the new Athletic Boosters Club (just recently organized), and to the high school bank.

The blazer fund received $295.10 with the Athletic Boosters and the high school bank each receiving $147.55. The high school bank deposit will be used for booster advisory travel expenses.

Officers of the former Green Fire Boosters were surveyed to determine their feelings before the fund division was made. The Boosters were organized in 1965 and were active in 1967-68 in their support of the high school's athletic program during an austerity period.

After Dec. 31, 1971, the remainder of Advisory Travel Fund monies will be turned over to the Athletic Boosters Club. If it is not functioning, the money will be turned over to student services for enrichment program use.

Media Blamed For Campus Disorders

NEW YORK (AP) — Andrew Cordier, president of Columbia University, says the news media have given the nation a wrong impressior of campus youth.

In a commencement address Sunday at Manhattan College, Cordier declared newsmen "often seek out every shred of tension, crisis and disruption on campus after campus."

He said this plays into the hands of "persons causing disruption and crisis fed on publicity."

Four Pontiac Youths Caught In Area Cabin

Four Pontiac area juveniles were discovered by state police in a cabin in Inwood Township about 9 p.m. Friday and turned over to Probate Court authorities. The 14 and 15-year-old youths — two boys and two girls — have been in the School-craft County area for several days.

Parents of two of the youths were in Manistique to reclaim their children Saturday morning.

A stolen car, reported missing from Pontiac, was recovered in the woods near the cabin, troopers said. The car was badly damaged and not in running order.

Also discovered in the cabin, an A-frame structure located on the Thunder Lake Rd. just north of the Cooks School, was a television set and radio reported stolen earlier this week from a house trailer in the Camp 7 area.

The youths broke into the A-frame cabin and admitted breaking into several other summer residences in the area, police said.

A tip from a local resident resulted in their apprehension, state police said. The four stopped at a service station and tried to steal some motor oil but were observed by the station owner who demanded, and received, payment for the oil. However, the owner took the car license number and reported the incident to state police. A check with Pontiac police revealed the car was stolen.

Troopers also report a car driven by Doris Rubick, 337 N. Cedar St., went out of control and struck a culvert in Doyle Township at 11:45 Thursday night. Mrs. Rubick and one of her passengers received minor injuries and were treated at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. A third occupant was uninjured. The mishap is still under investigation.

50 In Attendance At Teachers' Meet

Manistique hosted a two-day teacher training workshop Friday and Saturday with about 50 teachers of children with learning disabilities attending.

Six youngsters from Mrs. Ruth England's special education class demonstrated effective use of education materials for the conference Saturday and were guests at a noon luncheon at the Fireside following their participation.

Briefly Told

Cheese pizza, buttered wax beans, peanut butter, fruit and beverage is the hot lunch menu Tuesday at the Manistique Area Schools.

City Council meets in regular session tonight at 7:30 in council chambers of City Hall. A public hearing on adoption of the 1970-71 city budget will be held plus consideration of a final resolution okaying the sale of some Michigan Ave. property to Arvid Carlson.

"WHERE'S THAT REPORT CARD?" will be presented by the MHS Drama Club when the Senior Citizens Club meets Tuesday at 7:30 in the K of C Hall. The one-act play is directed by Ruth Rogers and JoAnne Berger. Shown rehearsing are Bernie Beaudry, Mary Kay Berger, Patricia Slining and Monica Weber. Other cast members include Frank Malette and Cheryl Aller. The public is invited to attend. (LeBrasseur Photo)

'Meet Candidates' Night Scheduled

School board candidates will appear at a "Meet the Candidates" night in the high school auditorium on Thursday.

All five announced candidates — incumbents Mrs. Margaret Waters and Denton Nelson plus challengers David Kelly, Boyd Briggs and Ronald Morton — have indicated they will appear to answer questions from the audience, discuss educational issues and make opening and closing statements on their candidacy. The program will be moderated by Frank Salzeider, Superintendent of Schools, Engadine.

The public is invited to attend the informal 7:30 session which is under sponsorship of the Manistique Community School. Two of the candidates will be elected to 4 year terms at the June 8 school election.

Hospital

Admitted to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Friday were Linda Benish, Doris Rubick, Julyn Bckman, Robert Halvorsen, Terri Erickson and Homer Weber.

Discharged were Jacob Toennessen, Beverly Matelski, Jo-Anne Annelin, Doris Rubick, Sandra Whitman and baby and Sally Schultz and baby.
